Of Paderewski's playing at Carnegie Hall, Pittsburgh, recently, Charles Henry Meltzer, a musical critic, says: "Yesterday when Paderewski gave a recital at Carnegie Hall he played to a vast audience. The seats upstairs and down were filled when he stepped out on the platform, while at least 200 persons (among whom were many prominent musicians) stood patiently throughout the performance. 'Rarely within the past ten or twelve years has Paderewski played with more charm or power than yesterday. In this particular selection (which he took at an alarming tempo) he had breadth and authority. His reading of the Sonata was refreshing in its dignified simplicity. There was poetry and yet the rhythmic vitality in his interpretation of the Schumann Fantasia.'"

Sir Gilbert Parker's Great New Novel "You Never Know Your Luck" Published Complete in the April Munsey

WHEN this novel goes into book form after it has appeared in The Munsey, it will cost you $1.50; in Munsey's Magazine it will cost you 15 cents, and in The Munsey you get it first.

Sir Gilbert Parker is unquestionably one of the first novelists of the day, and one of the most popular. His books, at $1.50 a copy, sell up into the hundreds of thousands—some of them as much as 400,000. With so tremendous a sale at $1.50, what ought the sale to be at only 15 cents? Four million copies, I should say, but as the edition of Munsey's Magazine for April is limited to 500,000 copies, there will be, on this theory, 3,500,000 disappointed persons.

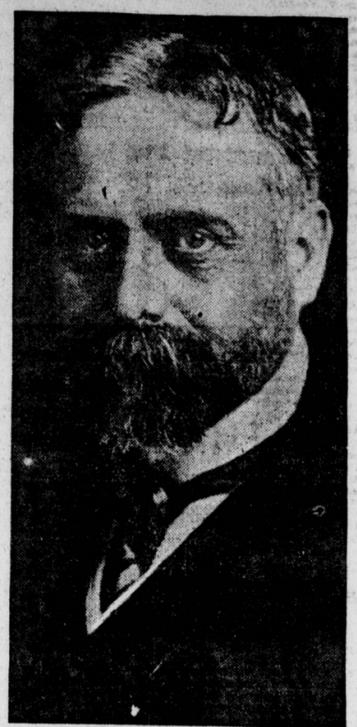

If, therefore, you want to make sure of this new Parker novel at a cost of 15 cents, you would do well to get busy with your newsdealer before his supply of the April Munsey is exhausted.

MUNSEY

with a full book-length novel published complete each issue, has hit a new high place in magazine making. I have been studying for a dozen or fifteen years to find a way to give the public brand-new, high-grade books at a price not to exceed 25 cents a copy. I have just now solved the problem through publishing them in my magazine—not serial publication, but as complete as if actually in book form. And in The Munsey they are printed on fine book paper, from large, clear type, and are profusely illustrated. The Munsey is jam full of good stuff. Its complete novel covers only one side of it. The other side is rich in illustrations, worth-while articles, short fiction and other material—a magazine practically double the size of the average magazine.

On all news-stands, 15 cents a copy; $1.50 a year.

BOY SHOTS MAN AT BILLMYER

Mowery. The Arnett home was under quarantine and Gingrich was stationed near by. He saw the boy shoot a number of times and saw the man fall. He ran to him and with the assistance of the boy's father carried him into the Arnett home and summoned Dr. Stevers, of Landisville, who made an examination and said the man had been killed instantly.

Young Arnett made no effort to escape and was placed under arrest by Constable Collins, of Bainbridge. Owing to the smallpox quarantine, it required some time to get permission for the boy's removal to jail. This was finally secured by Constable Collins and he brought the prisoner to Marletta, where a preliminary examination was made by Squire Gramm and the boy was sent to the Lancaster jail for a hearing later in the week. The charge was manslaughter and the prisoner was accompanied to Lancaster by his father.

The elder Arnett is well known and highly respected in and about Bainbridge. He has been employed by the J. E. Baker Company at Billmyer for the past seventeen years and was a foreman at the stone quarries of the company.

The dead man was about 35 years old. The body was taken in charge by Undertaker Hawthorne, of Bainbridge, and will be prepared for burial.
