MEAT CAUSE OF KIDNEY TROUBLE

Take Salts to flush Kidneys if Backhurts or Bladder bothers

If you must have your meat every day, eat it, but flush your kidneys with salts occasionally, says a noted authority who tells us that meat forms uric acid, which almost paralyzes the kidneys in their efforts to expel it from the blood.

When you suffer with a dull misery in the kidney region, sharp pains in the back or sick headache, dizziness, your stomach sour, tongue coated, and when the weather is bad you have rheumatic twinges. The urine gets cloudy, full of sediment, the channels often get sore and irritated, obliging you to seek relief two or three times during the night.

To neutralize these irritating acids, to cleanse the kidneys and flush out the body's uric acid, get four ounces of Jad Salts from any pharmacy here; take a tablespoonful in a glass of water before breakfast for a few days, and your kidneys will then get fine. This famous salt is made from the acid of grapes and lemon juice, combined with lithia, and has been used for generations to flush and stimulate sluggish kidneys, also to neutralize the acids in urine, so it no longer irritates, thus ending bladder weakness.

Jad Salts is inexpensive; cannot injure, and makes a delightful effervescent lithia-water drink.—Adv.

Chapter of Tragic Little Love Story Is Told in Court

What may prove to be the next to the last chapter in the tragic little love story of Mr. and Mrs. Alden H. Meek, one-time Central high school student sweethearts, was told to President Judge Kunkel at a special session of desertion court to-day when Mrs. Meek, nee Alice Shupe, asked for an order for maintenance. Some day the last chapter may be written in divorce court.

Meek, who was a Central high school honor man, class of 1905, and Miss Shupe were married four years ago and went to Ridgway, Pa., to live. Meek was earning $75 per month. Failure to "get along" on that sum as both groom and bride would have wished had much to do with their marital unhappiness.

Mrs. Meek accused her husband of cruelty, of refusing to allow her to select her own dresses, of his roughness, of how he held her on his lap and kissed and hugged her—and when she objected he slapped her on the floor. He told of his earnest efforts to make her happy, of spending his whole income upon their home and upon her clothes, of helping her select her gowns because she "couldn't choose for herself," of her thoughtlessness. Her story was largely corroborated by her diaries; his whole story was practically told in a pathetic letter to her after she had left Ridgway to return home. "You must decide, Girl," wrote Meek, "whether your husband or your family stand first in your heart."

Judge Kunkel directed Meek to pay $35 per month.
