Director Has Plan Whereby Domestic Science Course Products May Be Utilized

WORKS WELL IN READING Furnish Students "Eats" at Cost Thereby Eliminating Waste

"Soup and sandwiches pie and pancakes, cocoa and creampufts, even charlotte russe—all of course, much like the kind that mother makes—may be had, perhaps, by Central high school students for the mere asking when the proposed domestic science course is a part of the school curriculum.

Furthermore, all these mouth-watering things may be prepared by dainty feminine student hands.

In other words, the School Board is going to consider the question of having lunches for all the students prepared by the girls of the domestic science course.

The plan for establishing the proposed cooking course hasn't been entirely worked out as yet by the special committee, but it was admitted at the School Board meeting today that the scheme will be considered.

In reading high school, according to Director Charles Fohl, the plan is working out admirably. Washington, D. C. school authorities, on the other hand, declare the plan hasn't been at all feasible.

To Remodel Old Church The old church annex formerly used by the freshmen of the schools will be remodeled to accommodate the cooking classes, according to Chairman Fohl, of the building committee.

Ranges and the necessary equipment for cooking, sewing, baking, etc., will all be put in and the necessary remodeling will be finished before school opens in the fall. Chairman Fohl is one of the ardent advocates of student-cooked lunches.

"I understand it," said he, "the cooking school can't be operated for any revenue. Something must be done with the food that is prepared. Now at Reading they've solved that problem by serving the lunches to the students at cost. For instance, they can get a splendid cup of coffee for 2 cents, a sandwich for 3 cents, and so on.

"And the food they serve is fine, too," continued Director Fohl with enthusiasm. "I had a lunch there, not so long ago. By the method they've adopted and here the negative Genslager, alternate. The negative will be supported by James Stewart, captain; Robert W. Seltz, John C. Kunkel, Jr., and James H. Wickerman, alternates.

The members of the board of judges are: Benjamin M. Nead, chairman; John P. Melick, and W. Harry Musser.

In addition to the debate there will be musical numbers on the program and following the announcement of the judges' decision and the award of prizes, Benjamin M. Nead will make an address.

Second Annual Debate at Academy Wednesday

On Wednesday evening at 8 o'clock at the Harrisburg Academy the second annual Greek-Roman debate will be held. The question for discussion is, "Resolved, that the benefits of trade unions exceed the evils."

The affirmative of this discussion will be maintained by Albert J. Stackpole, captain; William A. Smiley, Andrew E. Buchanan, Jr., and J. Willard Genslager, alternates. The negative will be supported by James Stewart, captain; Robert W. Seltz, John C. Kunkel, Jr., and James H. Wickerman, alternates.

HARRISBURG MAN NOT YET IDENTIFIED AS BANK BANDIT

He Is Wanted Here For Violation of Penitentiary Parole, Says Chief

ARRESTED AT SALEM, OHIO Woman Nabbed With Him Not His Wife, Declare Police

FRANK G. HOHL Suspected Altoona Bank Bandit.

Frank G. Hohl, of Harrisburg, suspected as the bandit who robbed an Altoona bank recently, was arrested yesterday at Salem, Ohio.

He is now being brought to Altoona for identification.

Hohl, who is wanted here for violating his parole from the Eastern Penitentiary, answers the description of the Altoona bandit in height and features. The manner in which the Altoona robbery was committed and the use of a Ford motor car to get away was characteristic of Hohl, say the police.

Hohl was arrested in Salem, Ohio, yesterday under the name of Frank G. Wilson. A woman arrested with Hohl at Salem is not Mrs. Hohl, say the police. Mrs. Hohl was Miss Holtsman, of Harrisburg.

An Associated Press dispatch from Salem, Ohio, to-day says: "Frank G. Wilson, sought in connection with the sensational robbery of the Union National Bank at Altoona, Pa., March 23, was arrested here to-day. He is being held in jail pending the arrival of officers from Altoona.

"Wilson arrived here yesterday with his wife, a warrant for whom is also in the hands of Altoona officers, charging her with being an accomplice in the robbery."

Peary to Receive Gold Medal of Honor To-night

Washington, April 6.—The Explorers' Club will give a dinner in New York to-night to celebrate the fifth anniversary of the discovery of the North Pole and will present its first gold medal of honor to Rear Admiral Peary.

In connection with the celebration geographers here to-day predicted that another five years probably would leave no nook or corner of the globe unknown to the civilized world. With Sir Ernest Shackleton, the English explorer, also an Antarctic expedition under Dr. Felix Koenig about to start for the Antarctic regions, with Amundsen and Stefansson preparing to open up most of the remaining mysteries of Arctic territory; and with Roosevelt in Brazil going over a large stretch of hitherto unknown land, it was pointed out that very little of the earth's surface would remain unmapped a few years hence.

Whether or not an assistant city assessor and a license tax collector would be selected before adjournment was problematical among the Councilmen. Samuel H. Garland, it is understood, was to be chosen to the assessorship, while the candidates for license tax collector's job included Harry J. Hoopes, Daniel Helsey and William D. Block.

The curfew measure prohibiting children under 16 from being in the streets after 9 o'clock was offered. Ordinances passed finally included the following: Authorizing the changing of street names; appropriating $900 for salary of a license tax officer; authorizing purchase of street sprinkler and sump-pump.

No action relative to clerks for City Treasurer Copelin is expected by Councilmen. Mr. Copelin when asked of his probable action in view of the dismissal of his two clerks a week or so ago, smilingly said he "had nothing to say at present."

Democrats Voting For Underwood and Hobson

Birmingham, Ala., April 6.—Alabama Democrats to-day voted at primaries throughout the State and ended the long contest for the vacancy in the United States Senate between Oscar W. Underwood, majority leader of the National House of Representatives, and Congressman Richmond Pearson Hobson. The protracted struggle was expected to bring out an unusually heavy vote.

In addition to nominating a Senator for the term beginning March 4 next, Democrats to-day voted for a successor to fill the unexpired term of the late Senator Joseph P. Johnston, a Governor and other State and county officials.

CAMERON IN WASHINGTON Washington, D. C., April 6.—Ex-Senator J. Donald Cameron, of Pennsylvania, is making a short visit in Washington, having come to attend the christening of his first great-grandchild, the daughter of Lieutenant and Mrs. Raymond C. Rodgers. Mrs. Raymond Rodgers was Miss Ails Meyer, daughter of the late Secretary of the Navy. Lieutenant Rodgers is a son of Colonel and Mrs. Alexander Rodgers, the latter formerly Miss Virginia Cameron.

Washington, April 6.—An attempt to wreck a train on the Baltimore and Ohio railroad near Snowden, Pa., was made early to-day when unknown persons, after heating the watchman, W. L. Hill, into insensibility, removed spikes from a rail. Track walkers discovered Hill's plight and brought him to a hospital here where physicians expressed the belief he might die before regaining consciousness.

Vera Cruz, April 6.—John Lind, with his daughter and the family of Rear Admiral Fletcher, embarked on the Mayflower to-day to proceed direct to Washington. The French cruiser Descurties arrived to-day.

New York, April 6.—The market closed steady. Speculation was dead locked in the final hour. Great Northern Ore came into prominence with a decline of a point. Last prices were virtually unchanged from Saturday's close.

29 GOVERNMENTS TO TAKE PART IN FAIR AT SAN FRANCISCO

At Least That Many Will Participate in Exposition Next Year

BIG APPROPRIATIONS MADE Great Britain and Germany Will Likely Be Represented by Individuals

Washington, April 6.—To date twenty-nine foreign governments have signified their intention of participating in the Panama-Pacific Exposition at San Francisco next year. Notable absentees are two countries which heretofore have been most liberal exhibitors at all American expositions, namely Great Britain and Germany, but there is every assurance that even if the governments of those two countries do not relent at the last moment and recall their designation there will be thousands of British and German exhibits contributed by individuals.

The countries which have so far notified the State Department of their intention to recognize the fair, together with amounts of money where the appropriation for exhibits is known, are as follows:

The Argentine Republic, $85,000; Bolivia, $40,000; Brazil, $300,000; Canada, Chile, $180,000; China, Cuba, (proposed $250,000); Denmark, Dominican Republic, Ecuador, France, Guatemala, Haiti, Honduras, Italy, $400,000; Japan, Liberia, Mexico, (accepted invitation in 1912); Netherlands, $150,000; Panama, $50,000; Persia, Peru, Portugal, Siam, Sweden, $160,000; Turkey, Uruguay, Venezuela, $10,000.

The Norwegian government had accepted the invitation but the executive body of that country refused to appropriate the $50,000, estimated by the government as necessary for an exhibit.

Nine governments, including most of the great powers, have signified their intention to send naval contingents to participate in the naval parade from Hampton Roads to the Golden Gate, via the Panama Canal, which is expected to signalize the opening of the exposition next February.

NINE APPOINTMENTS ARE RECEIVED BY CITY COMMISSION TODAY

Seven Police Names and Two Food Inspectors Are Presented

City Council in a special 4 o'clock session this afternoon received the following appointments: Captain of police, Joseph P. Thompson, formerly lieutenant under Mayors Gross and Meals; patrolmen, Abraham L. Heagy, 1514 North Fourth street; Melvin Keppard, ex-sergeant; Victor J. Larsen, J. Fleming Hicks and George Shoemaker, ex-patrolmen, dismissed by the Lynch resolution of a few weeks ago; chauffeur, Wilhelm J. Mehring, Jr., succeeding Irlam Wagner.

Food inspectors, Drs. William V. Hughes and G. A. Zimmerman. The police appointments were all made automatically among the Councilmen. Samuel H. Garland, it is understood, was to be chosen to the assessorship, while the candidates for license tax collector's job included Harry J. Hoopes, Daniel Helsey and William D. Block.

HENRY BUDD MAY BE NOMINATED TO FIGHT PALMER

Dauphin Democrats Excited Over Report That Ryan Is Coming to This City Soon

PALMER SUPPORTERS SORE Prohibition State Ticket Nominating Petitions Did Not Comply With the Law

Democrats in this city were thrown into a flutter of excitement when word came from Philadelphia that Henry Budd, the veteran reformer and former candidate for judge independent tickets would likely enter the race for the Democratic nomination for United States Senator and that Michael J. Ryan had Harrisburg on the list of places he would visit on his speechmaking tour for the Democratic nomination for Governor. According to the reports from Philadelphia this course was decided upon at a conference of friends of Mr. Ryan held in that city Saturday. The details have not been arranged.

Selection of Mr. Budd is said to have started at the Ryan dinner at which he presided and such strong demand was made for him that a meeting was held the following day and a committee named to ask Mr. Budd to oppose Congressman A. Mitchell Palmer, the national committeeman. Mr. Budd has not yet accepted, but the word received here says that he may do so very soon.

TELLS HOW TO "GINGER UP" SALES AT CHAMBER OF COMMERCE LUNCHEON

“MAN PROBLEM IS BIGGEST IN BUSINESS WORLD”, SAYS LEWIS

E. ST. ELMO LEWIS IN ACTION

Neither managers nor salesmen are born to their positions, the speaker asserted. "Shoulder straps never made a Grant, and neither the manager or the salesman is made by clothing a man with the powers that go with either job. They must be trained. The diamond in the rough is worth $50 a carat. The same stone polished and brought to the New York market brings $200 a carat. So it is with men—worthless material in the beginning, but education to their work is necessary to bring the most out of them.

"You should understand," said Mr. Lewis, "that the office boy is after the same thing you are—the long green—and he will be satisfied only when he gets it, just as you are only satisfied when in your business you get it. Don't neglect to reward faithful and efficient service if you want a continuation of it. We are all human, you know."

Mr. Lewis' address was preceded by brief remarks by E. S. Hayes, mayor of Harrisburg, who commended the Chamber of Commerce and Commissioner W. L. Gorgas, superintendent of finance and accounts for the city of Harrisburg, for the arrangement of the luncheon.

CANCELLATION OF EXECUTOR DOES NOT DISTURB U. S.

Federals Find Fault With Action of Carothers in Sending News of Torreon Fight

600 SPANIARDS SENT AWAY Official Notices of Villa's Expulsion Order Are Expected Today

Washington, D. C., April 6.—The cancellation by the Huerta government of the executor of American consular agent George C. Carothers, because he sent to Washington dispatches saying the rebels had taken Torreon from the Huerta forces, failed to disturb State Department officials to-day. The Huerta government still denies Torreon had fallen.

Mr. Carothers obtained his executor when he was accredited to the Madero government and stationed at Torreon. Since the outbreak of the Carranza revolution he has had a roving commission in northern Mexico and his executor, from the Mexican City government has been of little value to him, all his dealings being with the constitutionalists. It is the intention of the American government to keep Carothers with General Villa and the constitutionalist leaders to make prompt representations for the safety of Americans and other foreigners and to look after their interests generally. Should Mr. Carothers find it necessary to go into territory controlled by the Huerta government, he may now be unable to do business with its local authorities. John Lind nor Willard Bayard Hale had any executor while in federal territory.

Advices Expected Official notices of the expulsion of the 600 Spaniards from Torreon by General Villa were expected during the day. Until the Spanish Ambassador calls it to the attention of State Department here, there is little likelihood of any action by the Washington government. The United States itself has issued a warning to its own subjects to leave those parts of Mexico where military operations are being carried on and has more than once intimated that other governments might take similar steps. The right of deportation is one provided for under the Mexican constitution and has been exercised alike by the Huerta government and the constitutionalists. Military
