How "TIZ" eases sore, swollen, sweaty, calloused feet and corns.

"Just couldn't wait to take my hat off!"

Just take your shoes off and then sit down... "TIZ" eases sore, swollen, sweaty, calloused feet and corns.

What Have Police-Women Done?

"Through miles of city blocks now you will not find the front parlor with the sofa that used to be in it, and the gas turned low, and Father or Mother calling at the head of the hall stairs when it is ten o'clock, and, oh, all the rest that you remember. Poets have been able to sing about love in a cottage. But there isn't any poetry about courtship in a tenement flat with little brother and sister and all the family looking on. The young people who were the first to make this important sociological discovery, adjourned from the overcrowded home to the street corner for their love-making. And the public dance halls opened up to take them in."

"It is largely a development of the past fifteen years that has appeared in every American city. Philadelphia has 200 dance halls. Chicago has 250. New York has over 500. For the girl who works away from home all day, and dances away from home at night, there is special need that the city be made a safe place for her to be in. Yet statistics show that each year in the United States 120,000 girls "fall" over the social precipice that slopes to the deepest destruction. And many of them have been tripped and pitfalls allowed to be set in great cities for young and thoughtless feet."

This extract from Mabel Potter Daggett's remarkable story of What the Women's Clubs Have Done To Protect Children and Young Girls is merely one of the many good things to read in

GIRL ACCUSES MAN OF POWWOW SPELLS

Charles S. Shaeffer, Reading, Said to Have Cast Charms Over Ephrata Miss

Special to The Telegraph Reading, Pa., April 8.—A Black Hand letter, said to be mixed up with "powwow," or witchcraft, spells, which pretty Alice Moyer, 29 years old, of Ephrata, Lancaster county, claims she was subjected to in this city recently, is the subject of a hearing before Magistrate Hermann Stout here today.

Shaeffer was arrested last week after Harry Boley had received a letter threatening exposures unless he would deposit $200 at a certain place and time. He was given the alternative of death. The letter was turned over to the police.

Miss Moyer is the woman in the case. At today's hearing it developed that about ten days ago she went to live with the Shaeffer family and that while there she made the acquaintance of Boley. She testified that Shaeffer exerted a hypnotic influence over her; that she was subjected to certain "spells," and that while she was in this condition Shaeffer suggested and wrote the letter demanding money.

Other witnesses testified that Miss Moyer frequently got "powwow" spells.

News Items From Points in Central Pennsylvania

Sunbury.—Charles B. Witmer, of Sunbury, federal judge for the Middle district of Pennsylvania, has bought a property at Sixth and Market streets, Sunbury, and wants a five-story business building there.

Palmira.—Council by unanimous vote yesterday passed the curfew ordinance and it is expected that Chief Burgess Witmer will sign it. A "curfew" whistle is to be placed on a factory in order to give notice each evening for the clearing of the streets of children under the age of 16 years at 9:30 o'clock.

York.—Harry Fisher, aged 34 years, came here yesterday from Philadelphia to attend the funeral of his grandfather, Henry C. Carr, and became suddenly mentally afflicted. The police were called in and after a severe struggle Fisher was subdued and committed to the almshouse.

Lancaster.—Through her ambition to excel her schoolmates at rope skipping, ten-year-old Alma Louisa, now is a serious condition due to over-exertion. She failed to do a hundred and fell over unconscious.

Lewistown.—The $28,000 proposed loan for municipal improvements passed final reading in council yesterday and will go before the voters for approval. This means that Dorcas street will be opened and a bridge erected over the Kishascoquillas creek. South Main street will be paved, closing the gap of fifty-two miles State highway between Millfin and Huntingdon via the Lewistown and Reedsville turnpike.

York.—City officials promptly took in hand the case of smallpox discovered in the Lafayette Hotel Monday night and believe they have prevented any spread of the disease. The patient, Charles Wilson, a proof reader, of Baltimore, is in the Sanitary Hospital.

Pottsville.—John Badtord, aged 78 years, of Pine Grove, was badly injured when he jumped from a vehicle drawn by a horse that was running away.

Pottsville.—In the face of the protests of 440 residents of Schuylkill Haven to council to prevent a permit to the Schuylkill Haven bank to hold a street carnival for a week. Council by a vote of five to three, granted the request of the bank. The remonstrants opposed the carnival on the ground that such an exhibition is contrary to good morals.

Pottsville.—Clarence K. Yocum and Miss Ruth R. Houser were married yesterday at the home of Mrs. Caroline Houser, mother of the bride, by the Rev. J. H. Umbenhoven.

Marietta.—Mrs. Hary A. Russell announced the marriage of her daughter, Miss Ellabeth, to Roy H. Shirk, of Lancaster. The ceremony was performed at Elkton, Maryland, August 23, 1913.

Waynesboro.—While funeral services were being held over the body of Levi Shindedecker, a Civil war veteran, fire was discovered in the home of Daniel Warrenfels, on the adjoining farm. Mrs. Warrenfels ran to the Shindedecker house, notifying the men of the fire, and led them all back to her burning home. The funeral was delayed while the men fought the flames and saved a large part of the furniture.

Waynesboro.—Waynesboro will undergo a thorough cleaning up under the auspices of the Civic Club and the time selected for the work is Wednesday, Thursday and Friday, May 6, 7 and 8.

Lewistown.—Oscar Goddard, while working at a ban saw at the Standard Steel Works, got his thumb in the machinery. The member was severed at the first joint.

Italian Charged With Robbing Man of $240

Lebanon, Pa., April 8.—Lebanon policemen have arrested John P. Bonadio, an Italian of unknown address, who has such an air of mystery that the police believe that he may be wanted in larger cities somewhere for crimes. He was arrested here on the charge of having participated in the robbery ten days ago, of German Balocchia, a fellow-Italian, who was induced to draw $200 from a local bank. Balocchia alleged that shortly after he left the bank he was overcome with a state of coma, during which he faintly realized that two men were holding him against a telegraph post. When he regained full consciousness the men were gone with the $200 and $40 additional which he had with him.

Christian Swartz, Aged 90, Dies at His Home

Mechanicsburg, Pa., April 8.—Christian Swartz, a life-long resident of this section, died yesterday at his home, in West Simpson street, of heart trouble. He was 90 years old, and was born in Silver Spring township. He was a member of the Mechanicsburg Lodge, No. 215, Independent Order of Odd Fellows, and the oldest member in his part of the State, joining the local organization sixty-two years ago. One daughter, Miss Annie Swartz, at home, survives. The funeral services will be held Thursday afternoon, at 2 o'clock, in the Church of God, conducted by the pastor, the Rev. Charles F. Roach. Burial will be made in the Salem Graveyard, on the place.

SKATER BREAKS ARM

Adamstown, Pa., April 8.—George, son of Mr. and Mrs. George Bowman, was badly injured while roller-skating, when one of the skates loosened and threw him to the cement pavement, breaking his right arm and injuring him internally.

Big Republican Gains Are Shown in Western Counties

Enrollment Figures Show Heavy Increases in Party Strength; Democrats Losing

Enrollment figures from sixteen counties of the State, compiled by Captain John H. Campbell show that the Republican enrollment is 400 per cent. greater than the Republican vote in the same counties two years ago, while the Democratic enrollment in the same counties is actually almost 11,000 less than the vote for Wilson. The enrollment of the Washington party has declined at a declinivous rate as compared with the vote in the year of the great reaction. The figures compiled by Captain Campbell are intensely interesting because they demonstrate the strength of the "back to the party" movement among Republicans and the absurdity of some of the stuff that has been printed by Democratic papers lately. Included in the list is Allegheny county, which, it is stated by Captain Campbell, does not contain the new figures for Pittsburgh, which will have its registration day next week. Similarly it may be stated that the 1914 figures for the cities of Uniontown, New Castle and Monongahela are not included in the statistics from their respective counties, as they will have their registration day on April 23. However, there is enough to show the enormous increase in the Republican voting strength.

NEIL O'BRIEN'S MINSTRELS TONIGHT

A cordial welcome awaits the appearance of Neil O'Brien and his Great American Minstrels at the Majestic Theater to-day, when this most entertaining of all minstrel comedians comes to this city for his second annual visit. Those who greeted Mr. O'Brien on his first appearance last season as a new star at the head of a new organization, still remember with delight the splendid entertainment he offered. A minstrel performance so full of genuine good things that it was talked about for months after as one of the most thoroughly enjoyable performances of the theatrical year. It served to firmly establish Mr. O'Brien and his minstrel company as the leaders in the minstrel field and to make the announcement of this season's engagement one of the most pleasantly anticipated of the year. Mr. O'Brien is again under the management of Oscar F. Hodge. Advertisement.

AT THE ORPHEUM

One of the good comedy numbers of this week's bill at the Orpheum called "The Right Girl" serves to disport such old time favorites as Lew McConnell and Grant Simpson. On Lew McConnell's occasions these clever players work much favor here in a comedy sketch called "A Stormy Hour." Their new vehicle, while of a widely different nature, gives Miss McConnell much opportunity to display her peculiar comedy abilities. She is seen in two different roles, playing the parts of twin sisters, and she mixes things up in a manner that keeps the house in constant laughter. Now she is on the scene as a peevish, restless girl, trying to find a way to get out of her fiance's apartment; then as a saleswoman representing a stocking concern in New York City. The two different roles are vastly different and they give Miss McConnell much opportunity to display her talents. One ridiculous situation follows the other in rapid succession and they are made the most of by these clever players. McConnell and Simpson offer one of the sterling attractions grouped with Hyams and McIntyre, the musical comedy couple, who are presenting "The Quakers" with immense success. The bill is clever throughout. Advertisement.

COLONIAL BILL

There will be fun galore at the Busy Corner to-night. For this is the night that local talent glides into the limelight for the first time and some interesting contestants have entered the race. The "Greased Pole" will also be a part of this performance. A fine comedy offering that comprises a good patter skit, a neat song, dance and patter skit, and a clever character comedian is enjoying prosperity there also. Advertisement.

SIPILING-CLAUSEN

Special to The Telegraph Elizabethtown, Pa., April 8.—Miss Estella Clausen, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Nicholas R. Clausen, of this place, was married yesterday to Raymond Sipiling, of near Marietta. The ceremony was performed at the home of the bride by the Rev. Frank Croman, of the Lutheran Church.

MRS. SOPHIA CROUSER

Special to The Telegraph Sunbury, Pa., April 8.—Mrs. Sophia Crouser, 77 years old, died at her home in Northumberland yesterday of paralysis. She was a member of St. Michael's Methodist Episcopal Church there and during her younger days took an active part in charitable work.

PLAN TO DEDICATE NEW PUBLIC FOUNTAIN

Appropriate Exercises Will Be Held at Marysville Tomorrow Night

Special to The Telegraph Marysville, Pa., April 8.—Marysville's handsome new public fountain will be dedicated to-morrow evening, at 8:15 o'clock, with appropriate ceremonies. The program includes several addresses by prominent citizens in addition to a concert by the Marysville Cornet Band. The fountain is twelve feet in height, with a large globe at the top, in which an electric light has been placed. The fountain has drinking receptacles for dogs and horses and a sanitary drinking bulb to supply the needs of man. The bowl for dogs is in front near the bottom; the bowl for horses at the left, and the sanitary drinking bulb is at the right. Pure mountain water, piped from the reservoir of the Marysville Water Company, at Lamb's Gap, will be furnished for use in the fountain for the next ninety-nine years free of charge. Funds for the purchase of the fountain were collected by Street Commissioner Jacob D. Carmichael, and great praise is due to him for his good work in securing funds for this much needed fountain. "Jake" put in eight weeks at hard work collecting funds, and to-morrow night he will be the guest of honor at the dedication. The Rev. Le P. Flatt, a restaurant keeper, of South Main street, must also receive some credit, for to him is due the credit for first advancing the idea of securing the fountain for the borough, and he headed the list of subscribers with a $10 contribution.

LECTURE ON SOCIALISM

"The Progressiveness of Socialism" will be the subject of an address to be delivered to-morrow night at a mass meeting to be held in White's Hall, Verbeke street, James H. Hollingsworth, of Torre Haute, Ind., will deliver the address.

FUNERAL OF MRS. SLICHTER

Funeral services for Mrs. Frank Slichter, of 1007 North Third street, who died Monday afternoon at the Harrisburg Hospital, will be held to-morrow afternoon, at 2 o'clock. The Rev. Harry Nelson Bassler, pastor of the Second Reformed Church, will officiate. Burial will be made in the Harrisburg Cemetery. Mrs. Slichter is survived by one daughter, Mrs. George E. Byerly, of Lancaster, and one son, Roy Slichter, at home.

$1,000 FIRE AT HIGHFIELD

Special to The Telegraph Hagerstown, Md., April 8.—Fire destroyed the property of Spielman & Shockey, butchers, at Highfield, along the Western Maryland Railroad, near Pen-Mar, causing a loss of about $1,000. The buildings are believed to have been set on fire, as an unsuccessful attempt was made to burn the property about two weeks ago.
