The Latest Styles of Paris are Shown in the New Suits

Lovely Creations for Women and Misses

Scores of new suit arrivals have just been unpacked and they look as fresh as a bright day of Spring. The styles are exquisite with their touches of rich soft taffeta and their long graceful backs, and the range of colors is admirably complete.

Most attractive of all is the grading of price, combined with the exclusiveness of the styles.

It is not an exaggeration to state that these garments cannot be equaled in Harrisburg for as little money.

Fancy novelty suits in navy, green, Copenhagen and mahogany; Persian silk collars; tunic skirts $12.50

Blue, reseda and Tango wool crepe suits, Peasant jacket, button trimmed, finished in small circular ruffles; skirt cut with circular flounces $16.50

Shepherd check suits; trimmed with black taffeta; raglan sleeve, either belted back or finished with band and buttons, tiered skirts $20.00

A new style at $20.00 carries a jaunty coat frilled in the back and elegantly finished with a rich quality of moire silk; the skirt is two-tiered and beautifully made. The selection of colors is one that will make an instant appeal to the woman who does not care to pay more than $20.00 for her Spring suit. There are two good shades of blue besides olive, tan, Copenhagen and black.

Another excellent style at $20.00 is of a handsome quality of crepe in a range of colors which includes old blue, Copenhagen, reseda and green; collar and cuffs are jauntily trimmed with an edging of Bengaline silk ruffle, the sleeves a deep cut raglan and the coat is fancily made.

At $25.00 the galaxy of styles is incomparable, ranging from the severe tailleur modes, designed for the woman who inclines toward effects that are inconspicuous, to the elaborately modeled styles of the new period in dress. Many of the garments at this price represent exclusive styles, and we believe it would be wholly to your interest to see them.

In the range that is represented between $35.00 and $65.00 lies an altogether ultra-exclusive collection, including copies of late creations by Cheruit, Poiret and Paquin. The materials are luxurious faille and moire silks, some of them elaborately trimmed and some depending for their individuality of style in simplicity of line. The shades are as important a factor as the styles themselves. They include delicate blues, rich wistarias and the new green.

limits of Pennsylvania or brought into this State between January first or September first of any year could be sold.

"Those drafting the national regulations appear to think the elimination of all Spring shooting absolutely necessary if our birds of this kind were to be saved from extinction, and a law to that effect was passed by Congress. This national law controls our State law and I believe there have been but few men in this State who knowingly or wilfully violate this national law. My hat is off to the duck hunters of Pennsylvania, and I contend, too, that the manner and extent to which this law has been observed by the sportsmen of Pennsylvania entitles them to have every unfair provision of the national law stricken from that regulation, so that they may enjoy every privilege given to the citizens of adjoining States. I feel that the majority of our sportsmen are willing to put up their guns forever if they are shown that such action is necessary to preserve the birds."

ONE CAR IN OPERATION

Lykens Officials Secure Protection at Crossing

Special to The Telegraph

Lykens, Pa., April 9.—President of Council, A. F. Hanna, George Kosier, Berton Martz, William Cooper and a number of others spent yesterday in Harrisburg, where they met the superintendent and other officials of the Reading Railway Company, whose tracks enter Lykens on the East. The purpose of the meeting was to secure a watchman for the crossing on the road leading to Wiconisco. Many people barely escaped with their lives in the last few years and the citizens asked for a watchman. Last week the company had a watchman at that point, who counted all the travellers and vehicles crossing the road. Over two hundred passed over daily. The officials refused to hire a watchman, but agreed to bring all trains leaving Lykens to a stop within a hundred feet of the crossing and send a flagman ahead who should watch the crossing till the train passed. All trains arriving will be slowed to four miles an hour. This concession is possibly as satisfactory as if they had granted a watchman.

The Real Cause of Most Bad Complexions

It is a stern fact that no truly beautiful complexion ever came out of jars or bottles; the longer one uses cosmetics the worse the complexion becomes. Skin to be healthy, must breathe. It also must expel, through the pores, its share of the body's effete material. Creams and powders clog the pores, interfering both with elimination and breathing. If more women understood this, there would be fewer so-called "complexions." If they would use ordinary mercolized wax instead of cosmetics, they would have natural, healthy complexions. This remarkable substance actually absorbs a bad skin, also unclogging the pores. Result: The fresher, younger under-skin is permitted to breathe and to show itself. An exquisite new complexion gradually peeps out, one free from any appearance of artificiality. Get an ounce of mercolized wax at your druggist's and try it. Apply nightly like cold cream, for a week or so, washing it off mornings.

To eradicate wrinkles, here's a marvellously effective treatment, which also acts naturally and harmlessly: Dissolve 1 oz. powdered saxolite in 1/2 pt. witch hazel and use as a wash lotion. —Advertisement.

LIGHT CO. REFUSED RIGHT TO EXTEND

Columbia Council Would Not Grant Request of Edison Corporation

Special to The Telegraph

Columbia, Pa., April 9.—Borough council by a vote of 4 to 4, refused at its regular meeting to approve an amendment to an ordinance granting the Edison Electric Light Company power to extend its lines beyond the borough limits, in order to furnish additional current service to points in and outside of Columbia. The ordinance was up on third reading, and in the vote party lines were lost sight of. The company has been making efforts to establish a high tension wire service through the borough and has been making a vigorous effort to induce council to grant this additional privilege. On the first of the present year the company reduced the rates on electric lights, which was a saving to the borough of nearly $2,000 annually to the borough, but councilmen who opposed the ordinance wanted further concessions.

GAME PROTECTED BY SPORTSMEN

Dr. Kalbfus Says They Have Stood by the Federal Laws

Dr. Joseph Kalbfus, secretary of the State Game Commission, says that hunters of Pennsylvania have given hearty support to the federal regulations which have cut out the Spring duck shooting and he says that the majority of the sportsmen of the State in upholding the law have shown themselves to be "nature's noblemen."

Commenting on the matter, Dr. Kalbfus says:

"In answer to your inquiry as to how Pennsylvania hunters have conformed with the national regulation controlling Spring shooting I would say, splendidly, and to a far greater degree than I considered possible, and I am more than ever satisfied that the majority of sportsmen in this State are truly 'Nature's Noblemen.'"

"I have contended for years that nine-tenths of our hunters would be willing to abide by any law giving protection to game and wild birds, no difference how drastic that law might appear to be, if they were once convinced that such a provision was actually necessary to save from extinction any species of bird or animal, and that once satisfied of this condition these men would see to it that the other one-tenth of the men who hunted also obeyed the law. I admit that many of our sportsmen are, figuratively speaking, 'from Missouri,'
