

TELL ALL THE BOYS THEY CAN'T BEAT THE GAME—LEFTY LOUIE

Gunman, Condemned to Die Monday, Sends Message to Former Associates

EFFORTS MADE TO SAVE MEN

Memorandum, Found by E. M. Browne, May Help to Delay Execution

New York, April 10.—The friends of the four gunmen sentenced to die in the electric chair at Sing Sing prison Monday morning for the murder of the gambler, Herman Rosenthal, today banded their hopes for a reprieve or the condemned men on the alleged evidence discovered by E. M. Browne, a former active rabbi which he has prepared to present to a Supreme Court justice together with an application for a new trial.

This evidence—a note or memorandum—Mr. Browne submitted to Governor Glynn at Albany yesterday. Its authorship was admitted by Frank Loe, until recently assistant to District Attorney Charles S. Whitman, who prosecuted the gunmen. It read: Be careful of anything from Luban and Margolis, and was sent to former Governor Sulzer who at the time was preparing for his trial for embezzlement when it was reported that Luban and Margolis were to be employed to seek evidence in behalf of the gunmen. Luban was witness against Becker and the gunmen and Margolis against Becker. This note, says Mr. Browne, discredits Luban and Margolis on authority of the district attorney's office.

Ready for Last Appeal C. G. F. Wahle, counsel for the gunmen, today prepared to make his appeal to Governor Glynn for a stay of execution until after the execution trial. He based his arguments on the signature of ten of the jurors who tried the gunmen to an appeal for executive clemency, and on the fact that the Court of appeals had discredited the testimony of Luban. In the death house the condemned men receive their relatives daily and hold long conferences with their spiritual advisers. To his other Morris "Whitey Lewis" Seidinger yesterday reiterated for the umpteenth time that he was innocent.

"Lefty Louie" Sends Message "Lefty Louie" Rosenberg sent a word warning and advice to his gangster and gunman associates on the East side through Rabbi Goldstein, his lawyer and gunman associate on the East Side through Rabbi Goldstein, his spiritual adviser. He said: "I want you to tell all the boys on the East Side—that crowd on Second avenue that I used to win around with, those who are going around now, that they can't beat the game. They may get away with it for a time and think that they have the game whipped, but look at me—look here I am now. They are making a mistake I made. I could have avoided it, but I thought that I was smarter than others. Here is where I am now."

Just give them this message, doctor, and tell them it from me, I ought to know and they know I ought to know. Tell them that the synagogue is their best home and God is their best friend. When they understand that, doctor, they will land as I've landed. Carry that word to them and give it to them straight."

UNION MINERS IN SESSION

Pittsburgh, April 10.—Union miners of the Pittsburgh district assembled in Union Labor Temple here today to discuss the wage situation. They are ordered by the union leaders to return to work pending the referendum on the acceptance of the deal, but thousands of them departed, and some local unions have been in open revolt against the order.

Late News Bulletins

HEARING ON TOLLS POSTPONED Washington, April 10.—Hearings before the Senate canal committee on the repeal of the Panama tolls exemption were postponed to-day until probably Monday. At that time several senators who have proposed substitutes for the Sims bill will urge their plans and E. T. Chamberlain, commissioner of navigation, and Judge Thomas Burke, a member of the Seattle Chamber of Commerce, also may appear.

GET OUT YOUR GLAD RAGS! EASTER DAY'S GOING TO BE FINE!

Parade of the Afternoon Will Be Along Harrisburg's "Front Steps"

FLOWERS CHEAPER THIS YEAR

Carloads of Blooms Arrive in City This Morning and More Are Coming

Easter—FAIR and WARM. This is the forecast for Sunday from both the local bureau and the United States Weather Bureau office at Washington. So get out your glad rags! Riverside Park, along Harrisburg's "Front Steps," is where the big parade's to be. And take it from Mabel it's going to be some parade. Will Harrisburg's folk be dolled up? Say, will they? What? With an abundance of beautiful flowers, an endless supply of eggs, Spring delicacies at reasonable prices, and the promise of fine weather, Easter in Harrisburg should be some day. Harrisburg has already entered into the Easter spirit with enthusiasm. The homecoming of hundreds of college boys and girls for the Easter holidays is adding to the general holiday atmosphere in this city.

In the Churches Special services and music in all churches will attract large congregations. In many churches new members will be admitted with appropriate services. The unfortunates who may be ill in a hospital or who are unable to get out to see the Easter beauties will not be overlooked, for the charitable organizations throughout Harrisburg are busy. Carloads of beautiful flowers arrived here to-day. There has been a reduction from last year's prices, and with a further supply of flowers announced for to-morrow still lower prices are promised. In spite of the recent cold weather hyacinths will be the prevailing Easter flower. They can be had from 10 cents to 25 cents a plant. Tulips, in a variety of colors, are selling at 5 cents a bloom. The narcissus is plentiful and can be had for 5 cents.

WILL TEACH HORSESHOEING Fort Wayne, Ind., April 10.—The art of shoeing a horse will be taught at Purdue University, if the master horseshoers of Indiana have their way. At the annual convention which was concluded here to-day, a resolution urging that horseshoeing be made a part of the curriculum of the university was unanimously adopted.

HEAVY DAMAGE IS REPORTED AS RESULT OF FIGHT AT TAMPICO

Rebels Reported to Be in Possession of Dona Ceclia and Arbol Grande

Washington, D. C., April 10.—Continued fighting at Tampico with great damage to the valuable oil properties there was reported to the State and Navy Departments to-day in dispatches from the warships on the Mexican coast. An official statement at the State Department described the situation as to the oil properties this way: Several oil tanks have been struck, one is on fire and oil is running into the river. A number of refugees are on the warships. The fighting at Tampico was described as heavy, with the rebels in possession of Dona Ceclia and Arbol Grande. Rear Admiral Fletcher reported that Rear Admiral Mayo had delivered another letter to General Zaragoza about the shots fired into the Pierce Oil field.

Just give them this message, doctor, and tell them it from me, I ought to know and they know I ought to know. Tell them that the synagogue is their best home and God is their best friend. When they understand that, doctor, they will land as I've landed. Carry that word to them and give it to them straight."

City to Use Subways Excavation For "Fill"

In a few days bids for the important subway work in South Second street and at Front and Mulberry streets will be opened by the Pennsylvania Railroad Company. This undertaking will mean the excavation of 150,000 cubic yards of dirt and the city authorities are interested in securing this dirt for the completion of the River Front treatment under the plans adopted a year or two ago. Such an opportunity has not been presented to the city since the beginning of the public improvements, twelve years ago, and it is the purpose of the municipal authorities to make available this filling material, if possible.

POOR OLD DOOR BELL WAS WRENCHED

It's a pathetic story, but it's all true. Every word of it. Man up town had a house for rent. Put a little "for rent" in the Telegraph. Things happened. But let the man tell it: "Say, take out that ad, the Telegraph hadn't been out more than a few minutes when our door bell began to ring. Never had so many calls for a house before. Most everybody in town who wanted to rent a house said that!"

MANY CONTRACTS SIGNED The local reading notices, a new advertising feature that will shortly be started in the Telegraph covering daily notices for a period of three months, with changes of copy twice a week, are meeting with much success. Mrs. Dunham, in conducting the work for the Telegraph, has already secured a number of contracts for the service, while many others are under consideration. The notices are prepared by an experienced advertising writer for all those who contract for the feature.

HARRISBURG (?) MAN CHOKES TYPIST WHO WOULDN'T WED HIM

Arrested in Richmond For Attacking Pretty Stenographer Says This City Is His Home

WRITES "I'LL GET YOU YET"

Alleged to Have Threatened Girl's Life When She Would Not Marry Him

Special to The Telegraph Richmond, Va., April 10.—John N. Bretz, who said he was a son of Benjamin Bretz, a retired business man of Harrisburg, was charged in police court here yesterday with choking and threatening Miss Gabrielle Dawson, a pretty young typist employed in the office of the clerk of circuit court. Bretz said he came here from Harrisburg four years ago. Charges were preferred by the girl following the receipt of a letter in which Bretz, it is alleged, threatened to re-enact a tragedy which occurred recently in which a police sergeant killed a woman and then took his own life, unless Miss Dawson would marry him, which she had repeatedly refused to do. Bretz is alleged to have attacked the girl while she was alone in the office at the courthouse, and she wrestled her self loose from him and ran to the corridor. The letter ends with the words, "I'll win you yet."

It is understood that the case will be dismissed this afternoon when Bretz makes a public apology and agrees to leave the state. Search of Harrisburg fails to disclose anyone of the name which the young man gave as that of his parent; nor is there anyone to be found who knows of his identity.

WILL TEACH HORSESHOEING

Fort Wayne, Ind., April 10.—The art of shoeing a horse will be taught at Purdue University, if the master horseshoers of Indiana have their way. At the annual convention which was concluded here to-day, a resolution urging that horseshoeing be made a part of the curriculum of the university was unanimously adopted.

WAS PRINTERY SET ABLAZE? FIRE CHIEF SMILES IN ANSWER

Copy For All State's Publications Has Been Found by Superintendent

Fire Chief John C. Kinder to-day would not even hint at the probable origin of the fire which destroyed the plant of the Aughinbaugh Press, Wednesday night. With several contractors and insurance men, Chief Kinder visited the ruins to-day. Asked about the probability of it being an incendiary fire Fire Chief Kinder smiled but would say nothing. When told about the story of a strange man being seen around the plant about the time the fire broke out, Fire Chief Kinder said the man might have been an employee of the Ober stable.

William Henry Cumberland, the lad who rang in the alarm declared the man was a stranger. He said he knows the men who work about the stable. Young Cumberland added: "The man was tall and I thought he came out of the building. I asked him if he sent in an alarm but he did not answer me."

State Treasurer Defends His Sale of State Bonds

Boston, Mass., April 10.—In defense of his recent sale of an issue of $6,000,000 State bonds "over the counter" rather than through a syndicate of bankers, State Treasurer F. W. Mansfield said in a public statement to-day that the net loss to the State was $75 compared with the last bond sale under the old methods. "The big thing that I sought to accomplish," said the treasurer, "was to increase the interest of the people in their own State, to advance its pride and patriotism, and to bring the government closer to the people." The public bond sale netted $450 more than would have been obtained had the bid of the syndicate been accepted, but the advertising cost offset this advantage.

Stock Exchange in U. S. Observing Good Friday

New York, April 10.—The stock and commodity exchanges of this country and Europe are closed to-day in observance of Good Friday. The New York stock exchange, the Consolidated stock exchange, the curb, the New York produce exchange, the Boston stock exchange and the Chicago Board of Trade will reopen again to-morrow, but the New York cotton exchange and the New York coffee exchange will not resume business until Monday morning. In Europe the custom is to celebrate Easter by closing all business on the exchanges on Thursday night, to be resumed on the Tuesday following.

SCHUYLKILL NOW FURNISHES THE HOOD-UP STORIES

Hot Statement Issued by Democrats at Pottsville Accuses Wilson Bailey

SAYS HE DUNNED POSTMASTER

Split Among the Democrats Getting More Pronounced as Money Is Needed

More charges that the Democratic State machine has attempted to hold up postmasters for contributions for support of the dominant faction are being made and the scene now shifts from the York-Adams district to Schuylkill county. This time the charges are made that Wilson Bailey, the "collector" of the Democratic State committee, offered to take notes for cash. Fourth Assistant Postmaster General James L. Blaklee, whose home is in Carbon county, adjoining Schuylkill, figures in an odd light in the statement given out. As Wilson Bailey, the accredited solicitor of funds for the State organization from the postmasters, is said to have quoted Blaklee as having already contributed $600 himself, thus setting a good example to postmasters who were, however, only asked to give 5 per cent. of one year's salary.

Lee Very Sore The charges, coming as they do after similar alleged events in other parts of the State, have caused a big sensation in the great coal county. A Pottsville dispatch to a Philadelphia paper says: "The Democratic county organization is controlled by Congressman Robert E. Lee and his friends, and all the Democratic postmasters were warned by him several weeks ago not to allow themselves to be graded by any political scheme. For this reason none of the Schuylkill county postmasters contributed to the State collector, although none positively refused, but left the door open for further negotiations, so they might obtain full information of the extent of the operations of the State organization. Congressman Lee's friends do not hesitate to declare their opinion that part of the money collected was to be used to defeat him for re-nomination."

Being a wild duck must be lots of fun these days. At least every one of the flock of 200 or more that have made the river in the immediate vicinity of this city a sort of stamping—or rather swimming—ground seem to be getting much, much pleasure out of it. The flock is the largest that has been seen in this section in years. For a couple of hours each day the ducks get together above Maclay street. There is a good deal of gossiping and then the leader, a big fat veteran of a size that makes many an envious gunner's mouth water, leisurely separates himself from the crowd and paddles down stream. After a dozen feet he stops, turns round, lets out a squawk and the flock aligns itself for the swim. Observant rivermen say that when

Don't Marry Rich Old Man, Is Advice of Girl Who Did

MRS. FLORENCE C. WELLINGTON

New York, April 10.—Mrs. Florence Cushman Wellington had her marriage to Samuel Barney Wellington, 79 years old and a reputed millionaire, annulled. He is now in the Tombs Prison awaiting trial on a charge of bigamy. She is still in her early twenties and says that money is a necessity, but money without love is a mockery. "I have had my fill," she said. "I would not marry an old man again if he had all the wealth in the

Body of Captain Sucked Through Dredge, Passes Out Pipe Into Meadow

Newark, N. J., April 10.—Captain John Hanson, master of a stone barge, was knocked into Newark bay yesterday afternoon and drawn into a government sand-sucking dredge half a mile away and then cast through a 14-inch pipe 2,000 feet long, out into the Newark meadows. In passing through the dredge the body was cut into four pieces. The barge May Madison was being towed from Newark to New York by a tug. In passing through the draw of a railroad bridge the barge butted into a stone pier and the jolt threw Captain Hanson overboard. An hour after Captain Hanson had fallen from the barge the men at the farther end of the pipe in the meadows were surprised to see parts of a man's body shoot out of the pipe with the flood of sand and water. The sections formed a complete man's body. In a pocket papers were found identifying the body as that of Captain Hanson.

King Gustav Reported in Good Condition Today

Stockholm, Sweden, April 10.—King Gustav's condition was "satisfactory" today, according to the surgeons who operated yesterday for the relief of ulceration of the stomach. His bulletin this morning said: "His majesty passed a quiet night, sleeping three hours. He suffered some pain which, however, did not interfere with the clearing of the wound. The King was able to take water and tea without any ill effects."

CARS BEING OPERATED

Hazleton, Pa., April 10.—Manned by non-union crews composed of men of Italian and Polish extraction, trolley cars were again run to-day in this city and West Hazleton and the service was extended in the northern section of Hazleton in the efforts being made by the Lehigh Traction Company to break the strike of motormen and conductors.

NEGRO ACCUSED OF KILLING MEDIA MAN PLACED UNDER ARREST

Plumber Who Went to Convent of Notre Dame Found Him in Building

MAY RECEIVE LARGE REWARD

Man Wrote Note on Wall, Expecting to Die Before Being Captured

Media, Pa., April 10.—A negro, arrested near here to-day on suspicion of having murdered William McKnight here Wednesday night, confessed, according to the police, that he had killed the young man out of revenge because when McKnight's father was chief of police of Media he had sent him to jail on a burglary charge. Young McKnight was found dead in the street and it was at first believed he had been the victim of highway robbers. The negro was found in a bed in the unoccupied Notre Dame convent at Media by a plumber who had gone to the place to do repair work. The man had a bullet wound in his chest, and it was stated by the police that he had attempted suicide when he found he had killed McKnight and that a search was being made for him. On the white plastered wall of the convent was found this writing: "I have been lying here for two nights and two days trying to make up my mind to do this thing. I had not the nerve to do it though. I made myself drunk. Dig a hole and put me in it and cover me with quicklime. My home is in Kansas City, Mo."

The writing was not signed. The negro was not badly injured. The plumber who found the negro will claim rewards aggregating $2,750 for the arrest and conviction of the slayer of McKnight.

LIQUOR MEN PROTEST AGAINST SONGS PLACED IN SCHOOL BOOKS

Carlisle, Pa., April 10.—Carlisle liquor dealers are wrought up by the introduction of temperance songs in the borough school books. The school board recently gave permission to teachers to paste "Come, Loyal Friends of Cumberland," a temperance song, in the books used in the schools. When the board met this week it received a protest from the Cumberland County Hotelmen's Association against the use of the song in the schools, and its attorney, Herman Berg, appeared to argue the case.

FIRES PROTECT TREES

Macon, Ga., April 10.—Bonfires and smudges were burning throughout the peach belt of Georgia last night to protect the young fruit from injury by the cold. The normal peach crop of this region is about 5,000 carloads. There also was fear that young cotton might be killed.

Building Business

Recently, a large store of very hard lumber became available and passed into the hands of a new owner—an energetic young man. Little was left to the business but the good name. There were strong stores all around it. The first thing this merchant did was to emphasize in his advertising that he kept well-known, popular, advertised articles, mentioning those advertised in the local newspapers by the manufacturers. He did not advertise them at a cut price. He merely let it be known that he carried them and would give good service.

That was a few months ago. Already the business has started to revive to an extent that competitors are sitting up and taking notice. This man makes it a rule to mention every day in his advertising the name of some well-known, branded article that he carries—names that stand for character in the mind of the public.
