ELECTRIC LIGHTS FOR ALL C. V. CARS

Charging Stations Are Being Built at Foot of Third and Fourth Streets

Plans for substituting electric instead of gas lights in all the day and Pullman coaches are being completed by the Cumberland Valley railroad and within a few weeks it is hoped to have all the cars equipped with electricity.

The current will be furnished by storage batteries attached to the cars—and these will be charged at certain periods at "charging stations" now being erected at the foot of Third and Fourth streets, and which will be supplied by electricity from the Harrisburg Light and Power company's plant.

With the inauguration of the electrical lighting system on the Cumberland Valley practically all the main railroads entering this city will be provided with this style of illumination. The trains on the main line of the Pennsylvania use electricity. Some of the locomotives, but most of which is supplied at charging stations by the local electric light company.

The method of charging the trains is much like that adopted in automobile garages for supplying the electric runabouts or trucks with the "juice." The cars are drawn up to the charging machine and the current is turned on, the amount at one time being regulated according to the number hours that car may remain at the machine.

ABRAHAM SPOONER LOST HORSE AND CARRIAGE; POLICE HAVE FOUND NO CLUE

When Abraham Spooner, of 512 South Third street, turned his back for a few seconds last evening, the horse and carriage in which he had been driving disappeared.

Spooner returned from a drive about 9:30 o'clock last evening. At Buser alley and Highland street he alighted from the carriage to let the horse walk the few yards into the stable, as it was accustomed to doing every time Spooner returned from a drive.

Spooner started for his house to get a lantern. When he returned, scarcely a minute later, to unhitch the horse, it was gone. So were two men whom he had noticed standing on the corner.

Hastily calling an officer, a search was started to locate the team. So far, however, neither Spooner nor the police have found a clue that might help locate the missing team.

The descriptions as furnished the police follow: Bay mare; white star on forehead; right hind leg white; weighs from 1,200 to 1,300 pounds; 15 years old; top buggy has left "arm" missing, plain black.

SUPERFLUOUS HAIR KILLED WITHOUT ELECTRICITY

BY A SPECIALIST

"I have the greatest trouble with correspondents who insist on using common, worthless depilatories or want the torturing barbarous electric needle applied for killing their superfluous hair. I have used Mrs. Milady's Boudoir. "More than Chaminade in physical suffering is caused by these abominable methods than you can imagine. I have carefully investigated and tried a new and simple method that never fails to remove all signs of hair completely and painlessly and without injury to the skin or complexion. In a surprisingly large number of cases it has destroyed large masses of hair so that it has never returned. In fact it is not applied to hair that they must not be applied to hair that they do not wish totally destroyed. It is called "Mrs. Osgood's Wonder," being named for a well known woman who arranged for it to be put on the market after it had succeeded in entirely eradicating all trace of her own very distressing growth of hair on chin, lip and arms which everything else had failed to touch.

Mrs. Osgood's Wonder is quite inexpensive. You can obtain it from Kennedy's Medicine Store, or any up-to-date druggist or department store, if the guarantee is your money back, if it fails. Ask for "Mrs. Osgood's Wonder"; a signed guarantee with every package.—Advertisement.
