

Lumber That's Easy To Work

saves money to the builder because it saves time and work of carpenters.

We are very careful about the softness and grain of our finishing lumber, siding, ceiling, etc.

Most of it is mill planed so that it can be nailed right into the house ready for painting.

Give us your next order and examine the good quality.

HARRISBURG BROTHERS SEE ACTIVE SERVICE IN THE NAVY

HARRY SCHORY Third Class Gunner's Mate on the North Dakota

CHARLES F. SCHORY Late Second Class Commissary on the Maryland

ALEXANDER SCHORY Chief Gunner's Mate on the Virginia

Among the Harrisburgers who are doing duty for Uncle Sam in the Navy, are Alexander Schory, chief gunner's mate on the Virginia, now en route to Vera Cruz. A younger brother, Harry Schory, third class gunner's mate on the North Dakota, is awaiting orders to get into battle. Another brother, Charles F. Schory, was recently given an honorable discharge from the Maryland on which he was commissary, second class. He is ready to re-enlist at a moment's notice. These three brothers are the sons of John Schory, a florist, now residing in Pittsburgh.

NEW SQUADRON OF CAVALRY FORMED

Four Companies of Twelfth Infantry Transferred to Mounted Branch of Service

General orders were issued to-day from National Guard headquarters transferring four companies of the Twelfth Infantry to the cavalry arm of the Guard. The four companies are E. Sunbury; H. Lock Haven; L. Bellefonte, and A. Lewisburg, and they are to be constituted the Third Squadron of cavalry, under the designations of Troops I, K, L and M, in the order named. Major Wallace Fetzer, Sunbury, of the Twelfth Infantry, is detailed to command the new squadron and to organize a squadron staff. Part of the equipment is in hand and the rest will be requisitioned immediately. It was stated that the issuance of the order was in pursuance of a plan contemplated for some time. It is probable that steps to organize new infantry companies will be taken shortly.

PEACEMAKERS ASK FOR AN ARMISTICE

He expressed the hope that no untoward occurrence should develop pending negotiations. The most earnest hopes for peace. An armistice, strictly adhered to, would prevent such a development. Officials expressed keen interest in official reports from Berlin that the mediators had asked European powers to use their influence on President Wilson that would prevent this government from making conditions of settlement as a condition of peace. It would make impossible the success of the effort to bring about peace. At the State Department it was stated that nothing was known of this action on the part of the envoys. Following his visit to Secretary Bryan, Ambassador Da Gama returned to the Argentine legation, where the envoys resumed their conference. When this government would make answer to the armistice proposal was not indicated here.

Washington, D. C., April 29.—Criticism of the Navy Department's withdrawal of the warships from Tampico was voiced in the Senate to-day. Senator Fall of New Mexico, presented telegrams from refugees at Galveston, describing conditions at Tampico. An effort by Senators Reed and Gore to prevent the reading of the telegrams failed.

The communications stated that the American vice consul at Tampico narrowly escaped lynching and declared information as to the situation there. The secretary of the navy was vigorously criticized.

"Do I understand," asked Senator Brandegee, "that American citizens were forced to take refuge on British and French warships while our vessels were nine miles away?" "Yes," replied Senator Fall, "our vessels were riding at anchor nine miles away while German ships were protecting our citizens."

"There would be few refugees in Galveston to-day except for the intervention of the English gunboat," was stated in a telegram from J. B. Wood. "That statement is so absurd, so wicked and so contemptible as to destroy all value of the telegram," declared Senator Stone, chairman of the foreign relations committee. He also referred to the mediation plans and asked if there could be senators who desired to put a stumbling block in the way of mediation. Senator Fall stated he had not noticed the phrase objected to by Senator Stone and withdrew the entire telegram from the Record.

Senator Sheppard read a newspaper editorial quoting Admiral Mahan's official explanation of the withdrawal of the American warships. "No doubt that is true," said Senator Lodge. "I went to the Navy Department myself and asked why the ships had been withdrawn and they said that the sight of American ships there might inflame the mob."

FATHER AND SON IN KNIGHTS' FUNCTION

Templars Elevate M. D. Lichtner to Eminent Commander; Junior Makes Address

Outside of a few choice instances found in the history books, it doesn't often happen that father and son all in one evening, but that occurred last night at the installation of Pilgrim Commandery, No. 11, Knights Templar, when Marcellus D. Lichtner was elevated to eminent commander and his son, the Rev. Mellyar H. Lichtner, of Beusant Commandery, No. 8, Baltimore, was attended in an inspiring discourse by the guests and ladies present. There were also a morning star in the hall when, after a reception to installing officers, the Rev. Harry N. Bassler, prelate, pronounced the invocation. The installation of Marcellus D. Lichtner by William M. Donaldson, past grand commander, followed; then William H. H. Baker inducted John C. Shumberger as generalissimo. Clyde M. Love became captain-general. Owen M. Copelin officiating; Daniel H. Heisey installed Howard A. Rutherford as treasurer; George A. Goras installed N. Frank as recorder. Installation of appointed officers was followed by the charge to the commandery, delivered by William M. Donaldson. Proclamation was delivered by Artur D. Bacon, marshal, assisted by Francis C. Neely, herald. An address by the Rev. Lichtner proved the feature of the evening. The Baltimore division spoke on "The Quest of a New Knighthood," contrasting the methods of the Crusaders with the methods of Templars to-day.

To-day the knights go forth to "make safe the road to Jericho" without the sword. Making safe the road to Jericho means the elimination of charity and charitable organizations in the time of peace. The Rev. Mr. Lichtner's talk was full of pithy and invigorating expressions and was greatly appreciated by the Harrisburg knights. A luncheon and dancing closed the evening's festivities. The committee on arrangements included Frederick J. Smith, chairman; Christian Nauss, N. Frank, Matter, William H. H. Baker, Marshall, Lichtner, John C. Shumberger, Clyde Love, William B. Mausteller, William A. Boylston, W. Walzer, Fredrick M. Tittle, Francis C. Neely, Charles H. Smith and George Roberts.

GEORGE F. BAER LAID AT REST IN READING

delphia home were conducted by the Rev. Dr. James Crawford, of Christ Reformed Church. He made no reference to the death of Mr. Baer, confining himself to the simple funeral services of the church. The services occupied a scant half hour.

Special Train in Waiting After the family took final leave the funeral party was formed and proceeded to the Reading Terminal where a special train was in waiting. The plain hearse without plumes or flags, conveying the body of Mr. Baer, stopped on the Market street side of the big terminal. Traffic and other persons hurrying to trains paused as pallbearers slowly drew the casket from the hearse and proceeded into the station.

The carriers containing the mourners drew up at the Terminal in the Twelfth street side and entered the building by the side entrance, almost beneath the windows of the office that had been used by Mr. Baer.

Mrs. Baer, bowed with grief, leaned on the arm of her widowed daughter, Mrs. Frank Conner, of Reading, as she entered the station. Bower of Flowers Despite the request of the family to omit flowers, the Philadelphia friends of the Baers were bower of memorial tributes. Noticeable among the floral offerings was a stand of American beauty roses almost eight feet high from the New Jersey central railroad. From Somerset county, Pa., where Mr. Baer was born, came a wreath of flowers, the tribute of the Bar Association of that county.

During the services at Reading all trains on the Reading system came to a standstill for one minute at 2 o'clock.

Refugees Tell Pitiful Tales of Hardships

Washington, D. C., April 29.—A late report from Consul Canada at Vera Cruz, says the refugees arriving from Cordoba told pitiful tales of hardships inflicted upon them during their imprisonment there. After their arrest they were herded together like cattle and marched through the public streets to a small and unsanitary jail. Meanwhile angry mobs on all sides threw decayed fruit, stones and other missiles at them and threatened their lives. Arrived at the jail, they were crowded into small rooms, forty of the prisoners being in the same apartment.

HARRISBURG HAS INCREASED 5,000

Census Bureau Now Estimates Population of This City at Nearly 70,000

Washington, D. C., April 29.—Pennsylvania population, it is estimated by the Census Bureau, will reach 8,242,967 in July this year, an increase in four years of 580,856. Rockefeller, Jr., Talks of Strike Situation

New York, April 29.—The only point at issue between the Colorado Fuel and Iron Company and the miners, so far as the company is concerned, is unionizing the miners at the demand of an outside body, said John D. Rockefeller, Jr., yesterday in the first statement he has made concerning the Colorado situation. Mr. Rockefeller said the company voluntarily granted all the demands of the men long before the strike was thought of. When Congressman Foster, chairman of the House committee on mines and mining, came to New York Monday at the behest of the President to interview Mr. Rockefeller in the hope of a solution of the situation, he was unable to make any suggestion which did not involve the unionizing of the mines or the submission of that question to arbitration. Mr. Rockefeller will not arbitrate this matter. In his statement he concludes: "But there is a final aspect of this grave matter which deserves more than all else the attention of the American public in this crisis: whether the Colorado Fuel and Iron Company and the other operators have been wholly free from blame or not in the present controversy, the issue now to be decided is whether the State, or failing the State, the nation, shall make good the constitutional guarantee of law and order."

FENDER SAVES BABY

While playing with some children at Fifteenth and State streets early last evening, 23-month-old Edward Turns, son of Mr. and Mrs. Edward T. Turns, 1419 North street, ran out into the street in front of an approaching trolley and before the car could be stopped the youngster was picked up and carried for twenty feet on the fender. He escaped with no other injuries than a fractured bone in his left foot and a slight gash on the ankle.

WANT TO BUY ST. PAUL'S CHURCH

Realizing the need of a place to worship after the Capitol Park Extension Commission purchases the two local orthodox synagogues, the Keshner Israel, Fourth and State streets, and the Chisuk Emuna, Filbert and North streets, negotiations are under way to purchase the old St. Paul's Episcopal Church, Sixth and Forster streets. It is likely that the two orthodox churches will consolidate.

Red Cross Sale Dr. Phillips' Topic

Dr. C. R. Phillips, a member of the Harrisburg Red Cross Seal Committee, will be the opening speaker of the fourth annual conference of Pennsylvania Tuberculosis Workers to be held in the red room of the Bellevue-Stratford hotel, Philadelphia, May 6. Dr. Phillips will deliver an address on "A Rousing Red Cross Seal Campaign." The conference will be divided into a morning and afternoon session, the first to be held at 10:30 o'clock and the second at 2:30. Dr. Frank A. Craig, of Philadelphia, will be chairman of the morning session; Dr. William Charles White, Pittsburgh, will lead the afternoon meeting. The major subjects to be discussed will be: 1—"The Red Cross Seal Campaign"; 2—"Home Conditions and Tuberculosis"; 3—"Tuberculosis and the Public Health."

COMMISSIONERS FILL VACANCIES

Telephones jingled most all day in the county commissioners' office while the clerks answered insistent inquiries about a hundred and one things about the Spring registration. To-day is the only day and from all reports the list of names that were tabulated was more or less list. One of two vacancies had to be filled by the county commissioners. In the Fifth precinct of the Eighth ward Warren Vandye was unable to serve and Elmer C. Finkenbinder was named as his successor and in the Third precinct of the Third, Harry A. VanHorn was appointed to succeed William Bailey.

Wilson, assistant director of the Department of Health, Philadelphia; Dr. H. R. M. Landis, Phipps Institute, and Karl de Schweinitz, Charity Organization Society, New York City.

Bury Pet Dog in Special Steel Casket

In the garden of the residence of the Misses Wilhelm at Paxtang a mound is observable to-day. Underneath the mound is a steel casket. Within the specially constructed casket lie the remains of Johnny a beloved water-spaniel. Johnny died Sunday and his owners determined to accord him a substantial resting place. Wish- ing to encase the faithful animal's body in a suitable casket they consulted with the Harrisburg Manufacturing and Boiler Company, who sent a daughterman to Paxtang. The dog was measured. There were stipulations as to the design of the casket. Yesterday Johnny was put in a casket of half-inch steel plate measuring 40 by 24 by 12 and weighing 550 pounds and on the shoulders of stout carriers was conveyed to the grave dug in the garden.

EATING RELIEVES STOMACH TROUBLE

A Prominent Physician's Advice.

"Eat good foods and plenty of them. Dining in many cases is almost criminal. Get back to normal. To do so you must have the proper quantity of nourishment. You need it for brain or physical work. Probably there is nothing the matter with your stomach except acidity. This is merely an abnormal secretion of acid in the stomach. Neutralize that acid and your stomach trouble will end at once. Neglect may mean ulcers if not cancer of the stomach. Do not take patented medicines or 'popsin' tablets for dyspepsia. Simply take a neutralizer of acid. Definitely the best neutralizer is ordinary bicarbonate of soda. It is inexpensive and you can get it at any drug store. Take a teaspoonful in a quarter glass of water after each meal. The relief will be immediate."—Advertisement.
