BUSINESS MEN WILL HEAR OF "JOHN MARK"

Chamber of Commerce Will Attend Special Service at Stevens Church

Business Men's Day at Stevens Methodist Church next Sunday evening promises not only to be considerable of a novelty, but a decided success. There have been Children's Days, Mothers' Days, Old Folks' Days and other special observances, but to Harrisburg, at least, a Business Men's Day is something unattempted before. Responding to the invitation of the men's club at Stevens Memorial Church to participate, the Chamber of Commerce today accepted the invitation, and while not making an effort to attend in a body, because it is believed that that would prove excessively inconvenient to many members, its members individually will attend the services. Practically all of the 150 or more members will attend. It is understood that other business organizations will also participate.

The Rev. Clayton Albert Smucker will preach an appropriate sermon. "John Mark, Man of Business," will be the theme, and it will be directed to and preached especially for the attending business men. The men's club is making great preparations for the service and among the enjoyable features there is to be special music by an augmented choir.

Rev. Mr. King Installed.—The Rev. Harry B. King was last night formally installed as pastor of the Paxton Presbyterian Church. The Rev. Dr. Lewis S. Mudge in delivering the installation sermon dwelt on the necessity of personal interest in church work. The Rev. Dr. J. Ritchie Smith, charging the pastor, said the Rev. Mr. King had been called to Paxton as a result of long observation and acquaintance on the part of the parishioners. The Rev. Thomas C. McCarrell, of Middletown, delivered the charge to the people.

Rev. Jordan Reappointed.—The Rev. E. W. Jordan, pastor of African Union Methodist Episcopal Church for the past three years, was reappointed by the conference at West Chester.

Musical at Stevens M. E.—A musical program will be given to-night under auspices of Stevens Memorial Methodist Church choir in the church at 8.15 o'clock. Miss R. Flora Well, assisted by Miss Sara Lerner, violinist, and Miss Ruth Kraybill, pianist, will perform.

speakers outline lines for campaigns against suffrage. Mrs. Horace Brock, president of the association, was unable to be present owing to the death of her grandson at Sparrow's Point, Md. The child was killed when a sundial fell on him playing in the garden, and Mrs. Brock, who was on her way to New York, was turned south again by the telegram announcing the child's death.

Although this is strictly a State convention, yet in view of its being the first of the kind attempted, many prominent women from other States attended. Mrs. Arthur M. Dodge, New York, president of the national association, presided.
