

WOMEN AND THEIR INTERESTS

GET OUT OF THE WAY

By DOROTHY DIX

Every day you meet the man who stops on the steps of the subway, or in the doorway of a theater or on the narrow platform of a railroad station, to leisurely light a cigarette.

Behind him is the whole crowd of hurrying, bustling people with important engagements to keep, with business to do. But they are all held back by the human obstacle in their pathway. They can't get by him, nor around him, nor over him without killing him, which they would dearly like to do if murder didn't entail so many unpleasant consequences.

You know the woman who, in the midst of looking at goods at a counter, stops to greet an old friend and tell her the story of her life, and just exactly the state of health of every particular member of her family, and what she said to John and John said to her. It's nothing to her that she's taking up a dollar or two of the clerk's time and that there are dozens of other women waiting impatiently to be served. She doesn't care that she's disarranging the day's schedule for a lot of busy men and women and putting a stumbling block in the way of their success.

All of us also, have friends, charming friends, who have nothing to do themselves, and who never realize that anybody else has anything to do that has to be done at any particular time. They feel an affectionate impulse toward you, and they call you up over the telephone to have a nice, long, leisurely chat at the very moment when you have just reached the high note of your morning's work that calls for every bit of concentration and force and enthusiasm that is in you.

Or else they happen to be passing by your office, and they drop in to pay a visit, though a blind person could see that you desk is piled moun-

Sometimes the human obstruction to happiness is the husband, and he knocks everything his wife does, not because he really objects, but because he's just built that way. He doesn't like the way she dresses. Nor manages her household, nor raises the children, but he hasn't got any improvements to offer.

Not long ago I met a beautiful and attractive woman whom I hadn't seen for a long time. "No," she said, "I scarcely go about at all now. My mother and my husband are chronic objectors, and by the time I have had an endless argument with each one of them about why I accepted that particular invitation, why I was going, why I was going to wear a certain dress and so on, I was too exhausted to go. I can't put on a low neck gown without being warned that I'll catch my death of cold, or a high neck dress without having a lecture on the folly of coddling up your throat. Believe me, I'm braved from head to foot with combating objections that even the objectors don't object to in reality."

One of the most pathetic and exasperating things in the world is that people who do things spend nine-tenths of their strength in fighting the people who don't do anything, and who don't want anybody else to do anything. Nearly every bit of the criticism you ever get is destructive, not constructive.

The very men and women who are most insistent on telling you that you mustn't do things the way you are doing them, have no suggestions to make regarding the way you should do them. Constructive criticism is a boost up the ladder, but destructive criticism is the weight of the universe pulling you down.

Probably nobody is so lucky as not to have had some near and dear relative who was one of these Standing Objections, who conceived it to be his or her mission in life to stand by and throw cold water on every project that was broached in the family circle.

Sometimes the Standing Objector is a wife, who is always sure that her husband should do things in the manner in which he is doing it. She's certain that every trade will turn out disastrously, and so sure that any changes will be for the worse that she takes all the blame upon herself, and he either gives up or learns to keep his plans to himself.

Sometimes the objectors are parents who have been wise enough to plant out any successful careers for their children, but take out their interest in the matter by objecting to everything the boys and girls want to do. They don't want John to be a merchant or a doctor, but they don't provide him with some other career or business. They don't want their girls to marry, neither do they want them to go into business. They don't like the young man who coos to see Sadie, but they don't know why, and by the time the girls and boys have gotten through fighting their parents' objections their own flower of enthusiasm has faded.

The objectors are the wet blankets on effort that account for many failures. Heaven keep us from belonging to the tribe! If we can't do things ourselves, let us at least not stand in the way of those who can achieve. Let us keep out of the way of those who are marching on and give them a clear path.

SOMETIMES PARENTS

They don't want John to be a merchant or a doctor, but they don't provide him with some other career or business. They don't want their girls to marry, neither do they want them to go into business. ## WHITE LEGHORN MAY LOSE CHAMPIONSHIP

Twenty-fifth Week of International Contest Springs Some Surprises

The twenty-fifth week of the International Egg Laying Contest at Storrs, developed two new high records. The best previous single day's production of 536 made in the twenty-third week was bettered 25, or a total of 561 eggs. The yield for the week was 92 eggs better than the preceding and 36 eggs better than the best previous record of 3,645 made in the twenty-second week or a total for the current week of 3,682 eggs.

Twenty-five individuals including Barred, White and Buff Rocks; White and Buff Wyandottes; Rhode Island Reds; White and Buff Leghorns; Buff Orpingtons, and "hens" proved to be every day layers during the week, each of these individuals being credited with seven eggs.

The breeds with the largest representation in the contest have in the twenty-five weeks the contest has run, made averages per bird as follows: Barred Plymouth Rocks, 4 pens, 56 eggs; White Rocks, 7 pens, 49 eggs; White Leghorns, 33 hens, 66 eggs; White Wyandottes, 5 pens, 50 eggs; Buff Wyandottes, 4 pens, 52 eggs; Rhode Island Reds, 13 pens, 56 eggs.

The supremacy of White Leghorns as layers, it seems, is being threatened more and more every day.

SETTLES SYSTEM TO SET SITTER

This Is the Way to Induce Hen to Move to Another Place

It is not always an easy matter to get a sitting hen to another place than that which she has chosen, or slow. Leave her for a few days until her broodiness has become an obsession from which she is not easily freed. Then, having arranged and placed within it a decoy of useless eggs, steal out quietly at night, without a lantern if possible, and gather the hen into our arms, take her to the new location and put her gently into the nest. Be as quiet and gentle as possible in making the transfer.

Don't forget to dust the hen liberally with a good insect powder as place that has become well established; better forget her food than this. Work the powder well into her feathers, and repeat this about once a week while she is upon the nest. A sitting hen must protect herself from vermin, and she may be led, even unto death, if not protected. This is the easiest time in the world to rid the mother of lice and protect the future chicks.

TESTING EGGS

Testing eggs is the most interesting part of the work of hatching. There are four important reasons for testing eggs. Probably the most important of these is to learn the per cent. fertile and the strength of the germs. When this is known it is often possible to make some changes of great benefit in the breeding pens, or the conditions of environment.

FUNERAL OF THE REV. H. S. GABEL, D. D.

Special to The Telegraph

Mt. Joy, Pa., May 2.—Yesterday afternoon the funeral of the late Rev. H. S. Gabel, D. D., pastor of the Mt. Joy United Brethren Church was held and sermons were preached by the Rev. G. D. Batdorf, of Lancaster, and the Rev. H. E. Miller, of Lebanon. The Rev. S. E. Hupley, of Harrisburg, and the Rev. J. T. Spangler, of Harrisburg, the former pastor at Mt. Joy, also assisted in the services. A beautiful tribute to the life of the deceased was read by a representative of the Mt. Joy Ministerial Association. Thirty of the ministers of the conference attended the funeral. Last evening the body was taken to Dayton, Ohio.

LECTURE ON MISSIONS

Penbrook, Pa., May 2.—There will be a lecture on Missions in Zion's Lutheran Church, Penbrook, by the Rev. George M. Dillender, of Carlisle, Pa., Tuesday evening, May 5, at 8 o'clock, for the benefit of the Missionary Society. A silver offering will be made.

Good Locust Fence Posts

Are the only kind to use where you want a fence to last a life time.

They cost just a little more than chestnut or hemlock, etc.

It's not necessary to be rebuilding fences every few years. Use the right kind of lumber and the job is done for years to come.

NEWBRO'S HERPICIDE

The Original Germ-Remedy for Dandruff. Makes hair soft and fluffy. Stops itching of the Scalp.

Don't Blame Your Mirror

Many ladies compel their mirrors to bear silent witness to needless hair destruction. Day after day they see beauty and attractiveness despoiled by the removal of great combfuls of slightly diseased hair that could be saved. If your mirror could talk it would plead with you to "save your hair—not the combings." It can be done with Newbro's Herpicide which eradicates the contagion that causes dull, brittle and lustless hair, also dandruff and falling hair. Correct this and the hair's natural luster and abundance will return. Almost extraordinary results. An exquisite hair dressing.

Send 10 cents in stamps to The Herpicide Company, Dept. 107B, Detroit, Michigan, for sample and booklet.

Two Sizes—50 cents and $1.00. Sold and guaranteed at all Toilet Goods counters. When you call for Herpicide, do not accept a substitute. Applications at prominent Barber Shops.

Sister: Read My Free Offer!

I am a woman. I know a woman's trials. I know the need of sympathy and help. If you, my sister, are unhappy because of ill-health, if you feel unfit for household duties, social pleasures, or if you are unable to find employment, write and tell me just how you suffer, and ask for my free ten days' trial of a home treatment suited to your needs. Men cannot understand women's sufferings. What we women know from experience, we know better than any man. I want to tell you how to cure yourself at home at a cost of about 12 cents a week. If you suffer from women's peculiar ailments such as: pelvic organs, causing kidney and bladder weakness or pain in the head, back, or bowels; feeling of weight and dragging down sensation, falling or displacement of pelvic organs, causing kidney and bladder weakness or pain in the head, back, or bowels; extreme nervousness, depressed spirits, melancholy, desire to cry, fear of something evil about to happen, creeping feeling along the spine, palpitation, hot flashes, weariness, sallow complexion with dark circles under the eyes, pain in the left breast or a general feeling that life is not worth living.

I INVITE YOU TO SEND TODAY FOR MY FREE TEN DAYS' TREATMENT and learn how these ailments can be easily and surely conquered at home without the dangers and expense of an operation. When you are cured, and able to enjoy life again, you can pass the good word along to some other sufferer. My home treatment is for young or old. To Mothers of Daughters, I will explain how to overcome green sickness (chlorosis), irregularities, headaches, and lassitude in young women and restore them to plumpness and health. Tell me if you are worried about your daughter. Remember it costs you nothing to give my home treatment a ten days' trial, and does not interfere with daily work. If health is won, I accept my generous offer and will write for the free treatment, including my illustrated booklet, "Women's Own Medical Adviser." I will send all in plain wrappers postpaid. To save time, you can cut out this offer, mark your feelings, and return to me. Send today, as you may not see me again.

Coal Is Cheapest and Best Now

To buy coal now is to buy it at the cheapest price for which it can be obtained during the year. And then you gain in quality, too, for the coal sent from the mines at this time of the year may be thoroughly screened before delivery, a difficult matter in cold weather when frost will cause the dirt to cling to the coal. So to buy Montgomery coal now is to buy the best quality of the best coal at the lowest prices. Place your order.

ALL GOWNS MUST BE BROAD AT THE HIPS

The Pattern Is Serviceable For Silks or Filmy Summer Fabrics

82 1/2 Semi-Princess Dress, 34 to 42 bust.

WITH OR WITHOUT RUFFLES AND COLLAR. WITH ELBOW OR LONG SLEEVES.

Every variation of the peg top skirt is in demand. Here is a gown that shows one very prettily draped and which can be made with the ruffles that enhance the broad effect at the hips or without them as the figure demands. In the illustration, the material is one of the very charming foulards with lace frills and chemisette of net but this gown would be pretty made from cotton crepe or from light weight wool crepe or from the taffeta that is such a pronounced favorite while the model also can be used for the voiles and the like of real summer. Without the collar and without the ruffles over the hips, the costume becomes much simpler, well adapted to washable material. By simply using a casing at the waist line and inserting ribbon or tape to regulate the size, the gown becomes adapted to maternity wear whereas it is perfectly suited to general use when the fullness is stitched in place.

For the medium size, the gown will require 7 1/2 yds. of material 27 in. wide, 6 1/2 yds. 36, 4 3/4 yds. 44, with 1 yd. 44 in. wide or 3 yds. of lace 4 in. wide and 3 yds. 1 1/2 in. wide for the ruffles. The width of the skirt at the lower edge is 1 1/2 yds.

The pattern 82 1/2 is cut in sizes from 34 to 42 inches bust measure. It will be mailed to any address by the Fashion Department of this paper, on receipt of ten cents.
