There's No Corn That "GETS-IT" Won't Get

No More Fussing, Plasters, Salves and Corn Pains. Try the New Way.

"Just look at the way that corn comes off!" That's what you'll say when you try wonderful "GETS-IT" on that corn you've tried so long to pry off of your toe. It's easy to apply "GETS-IT"—one, two, three, and it's done! The corn begins to shrivel, away she goes, surely, absolutely. A few drops will do it. "GETS-IT" never makes toes red and raw. Corn pains go! It means the end of cutting and gnawing of corns, the end of sticky plasters that don't work anyhow, the end of salves that eat up your toes, no more "harness," or fusing. Try "GETS-IT" the new, sure way, for corns and calluses. "GETS-IT" is sold by all druggists, 25c a bottle, or sent direct by E. Lawrence & Co., Chicago.—Advertisement.

given a hearing on charges of desertion.

The principal witnesses against Valada were his pretty sister-in-law, Marcia Todorov, with whom he attempted to elope, and his wife, who sat with a six-months-old baby in her arms.

Valada, according to the witnesses, had tired of his wife, Dona, and her younger and more attractive sister, Marcia, appealed to him. He fell in love with her and asked her to elope with him.

The pretty sister consented and they carefully laid their plans. Marcia told her sister she was going to Harrisburg to get work in a store; Valada told his wife he was going to the city to see a friend about some money due him. Together they came to Harrisburg, where they planned to take a train for Reading and be "married."

In some manner, however, an inkling of their plans reached the ears of Dusan Todorov, a brother of the wife and girl with whom the husband was eloping. He set out on hot pursuit. He searched the streets of Harrisburg without success. Then he hastened to the Pennsylvania station.

They were not there. Over to the Reading station he hurried. Here he spied his sister and his brother-in-law about to board the train.

There was a scene and blows were exchanged. Dusan overpowered Valada and turned him over to the police. He then took his sister home. This morning the deserted wife and sister sat side-by-side in the squire's office and tearfully told their stories.

Valada was committed to jail in default of bail.

asphalting will be done by the Central Company. As soon as the traction company completes enough of the new stretch to allow the construction company to begin the asphalt work this phase of the job will be hurried as rapidly as possible.

While the improvement work on the Paxton creek is the only one of the three big jobs under the jurisdiction of the Board of Public Works that has been started thus far, the lowering of the river it is expected will mark the resumption of the operations on the river wall. The dam cannot be continued until the water gets down to the summer level which will probably mean it will be June 15 before this job is resumed.

To-morrow or Monday the first installment of iron work that will be required for the new Dock street bridge will be delivered by the Pennsylvania Steel Company. The stone to be used in the abutments is being prepared and with the arrival of the iron superstructure it is expected that the construction of the viaduct can be proceeded with uninterrupted.

"We want to get this bridge finished as early as possible," said Commissioner Lynch to-day, "because the people in the lower end of the city have been without a direct way across the railroad tracks for months and they should be accommodated as soon as this can possibly be done."

Before beginning actual work on the Front and Second street subways under the Cumberland Valley tracks at Mulberry street, the contractor will build two big sewers, one for sanitary and the other for storm water purposes to care for the sewers that will necessarily have to be changed when the excavation begins.

The building of the sewer will be started within a few days.
