Two of the most important needed improvements are the paving of South Main street to the State highway and the erection of a bridge at Dorcas street, connecting the main part of the town with the Sixth ward. WOMAN'S $50 NETS $200,000

Special to The Telegraph
Northumberland, Pa., May 13.—Mrs. John Kane, wife of a real estate salesman, several months ago took options on 300 acres of what was believed to be oil or gas lands, near Ridgway in Elk county. The flyer cost $50 she said.
Last week, a test well was sunk on the land adjoining her lease, and a gas gusher was struck. She sold part of her land for $500 per acre and today received an offer that will net her close to $200,000. She will accept this as soon as the details can be arranged.

MOUNT HOLLY CLAY WORKS SHUT DOWN

Disagreement Between Owners of Town's Two Industries Causes Suspension of Business

Special to The Telegraph
Carlisle, Pa., May 13.—As the result of orders issued by S. M. Kitzmiller, of Shippensburg, who recently purchased the property of the Mount Holly Paper Company at Mount Holly Springs, consisting of two paper mills, the land on which Holly Park is situated, and several hundred acres of woodland, the Cumberland Clay Works, the only industry of any importance at present operating in the town was closed to-day. Forty men are out of work and business in the town is at a practical standstill.
The closing of the plant of the Clay Company which mines a superior quality of white clay used in the making of tiles and bricks, came as the result of a disagreement between Mr. Kitzmiller and W. S. Russell of the Cumberland works. There is a spur track on the Gettysburg and Harrisburg Railroad which runs from Holly through the gap to the property of the clay company. At one point it crosses a spur of land belonging formerly to the Mt. Holly Paper Company, now the property of Mr. Kitzmiller. It is claimed by Mr. Russell that he has ordered the railroad to send no more about the mill banks and that he intends to tear up the track.
The reason given is that the water from the banks, carrying with it some white clay, is draining into the mill race, and that this is causing the mill race to freeze. Mr. Russell claims was due some months ago to the frosts and was later remedied. On Friday there was a cloudburst, in that section and a small stream was created for milling purposes was torn away. The banks are accordingly draining into Holly lake. It is claimed, however, that Kitzmiller did not give an opportunity to repair the dam before issuing his order.

The company has been using the track in question for about five years and has a small mill on the ground rent. This, it is claimed, was paid until May and a check has been dispatched for the next three months. The haul to Mount Holly which is about five miles is claimed by Mr. Russell to be almost impossible and the plant has accordingly suspended operations. About forty men, all of them residents of Holly and doing business in that town are without any source of income.
Since the property of the Mount Holly Paper Company was purchased by the Shippensburg man there has been considerable talk of the mill and the residents. Some months ago the proposition was made that if the property be exonerated from taxes the mill could be reopened. The property is assessed at about $50,000 and if taxes were taken off would raise the tax on the other property several mills. The borough council refused to claim the property and the citizens of the town and furthermore that they were not able to grant the exonerated. The mills were not opened and in consequence there is little work in the town.

Passing Impressions of Finance

By H. L. Bennet

Editor of The Financial World

Businessmen everywhere are down in the mouth. They talk gloomily about poor orders and a disinclination on the part of customers to buy goods beyond their bare necessities. Trade conditions, it is true, are far from normal, but no fundamental weakness that can be seen, is responsible for them. Bank deposits have seldom been as large as are now reported. Of the capital we have indeed a surplus. When money is so easy and there is so great a quantity of it stacked up in our bank vaults, it is impossible to have any crisis such as marks the coming of a panic. Nor can this capital remain long unemployed, for its owners will wish to make it earn a profit. What grips the country just now is "General Apathy" who in full command of sentiment, has made corporations and merchants hold back until the skies are really clouded.

Prosperity goes hand in hand with the new wealth a country produces. What is our outlook in this connection? Our Bounteous Mother Earth and Nature we must largely depend for our new wealth, and consequently prosperity. She has not failed us thus far this year. Crop reports are of the most brilliant character. We have had plenty of moisture all over the country, and we need now only apprehend drought or such destruction as can arise from the attacks of insect life. Where there has been plenty of moisture such dangers are minimized. Already we know that we shall probably have the largest winter wheat harvest we have ever raised. This crop reduced to a cash basis, means a rich store of available capital this summer and fall with which to do business.

Mellen Will Testify Tomorrow; Inquiry Will Continue, Says Folk

By Associated Press
Washington, May 13.—Charles S. Mellen, former president of the New York, New Haven and Hartford Railroad, will testify to-morrow before the Interstate Commerce Commission in its inquiry into the New Haven's affairs, notwithstanding earlier indications that the inquiry might be ended last immunity be given witnesses.
After adjournment of the hearing early in the day until next Monday, Mr. Folk, chief lawyer of the commission, and Interstate Commerce Commissioner McChord went to the Attorney General's office, where Senator Kern of Indiana, and Senator Norris of Nebraska, and Senator Newland of Oregon, preceded them.
Within a few minutes Mr. McChord and Mr. Folk left the conference showing evidences of excitement. Asked why he had left, Counsel Folk replied: "The conduct of Mr. McReynolds was such that we did not care to remain."
Mr. McReynolds read a letter sent to the Interstate Commerce Commission yesterday in which he suggested that the commission consider carefully the effect of the examination of the New Haven matter, and that the original prosecution which the government might desire hereafter to institute.
After the conference, Senator Norris, author of the resolution which instituted the New Haven inquiry, went to Mr. Folk's office. At the conclusion of this meeting Mr. Folk said: "We are going right ahead with this investigation and Mr. Mellen and the directors of the New Haven will be put on the stand. We are going to bring out the truth—the whole truth—no matter whom it hits or whom it hurts."

The Liver as Aid To Blood Purity

The Natural Stimulus Required is Not the Pur-gative Kind.

Important as it is to keep the bowels open, it should be remembered that such action does not necessarily mean that the liver has been stimulated. The action of S. S. S. is a natural purgative, and it moves over. It works in the liver cells to assist in the natural and necessary function of the liver. S. S. S. contains constituents into what are known as assimilable products. These are readily absorbed into the body tissues to constantly provide new and healthy material for that which is being destroyed by the energy of tissue changes.
The presence of any blood trouble naturally suggests a sluggish liver, but there is required those medicinal properties which, upon reaching the liver, still retain their catalytic energy to keep on through the blood circulation to do battle with impurities wherever they may have settled.

Three Cases Offered For Consideration To-day

Rheumatism Cured; Stomach Trouble Improved; St. Vitus' Dance Much Better

John Holtz, of South Front street, had rheumatism in his ankles, knees, arms and shoulders. Last year he spent over $200 in special efforts to be cured, but he only grew worse. About five weeks ago he called at Forney's drug store and obtained a treatment of Quaker Extract and Oil of Balm. He again called and in the presence of a crowd of people he said: "I do not need any more of your Quaker Remedies, because one treatment of them has cured me. I have not had a rheumatic pain for over ten days, so I know I am cured." Henry Schumacher, of Progress, said: "I always have been a hard-working farmer, but this year I simply could not work on account of the terrible condition of my liver, kidneys and stomach. I could not stoop over without having awful pains across my back; my liver was bad, because my tongue was coated. My color bad and I always felt tired. My stomach would bloat and I was subject to bloating, belching and dizziness. I commenced using Quaker Extract and Oil of Balm just two weeks ago. To-day I am much improved in every way, am able to work again, my tongue is clear, color good and my stomach feels strong again. I came in specially to-day to get some more of the Quaker Extract."
Rosa Wickelman, of York, a school girl, aged 9 years, suffered with what is known as St. Vitus' dance. She was in an extremely nervous condition and everybody who knew her or saw her sympathized with her. Nearly everything suggested was tried for this terribly afflicted girl, but nothing seemed to help. Her mother called and obtained a treatment of Quaker Extract. She called again and stated that her daughter Rosa was so much better that she could now walk around the house unassisted, something she had not done for nearly two years.
Call at W. H. Kennedy's, 30 South Third street, if you suffer from rheumatism, catarrh or stomach trouble.
