HARRISBURG PIPE WORKS CONTINUE AT FULL CAPACITY

By Time Back Orders Are Filled More Are Expected to Come

DAVID E. TRACY

There is much public interest in the development of the large plant of the Harrisburg Pipe and Pipe Bending Company at State a d Herr streets. This important industry has been one of the interesting factors in the growth of Harrisburg inasmuch as it has duplicated the activity of the city in its own expansion.

Starting in a modest way the plant has grown until it is now one of the largest of the industrial concerns of this section of the country. Its products go far and wide and notwithstanding the business depression it has been operating at full capacity with good prospects of some large orders ahead.

Some important changes have recently taken place in the organization. David E. Tracy, who started as mechanical engineer, having been elected president. He was formerly general superintendent, which place is now taken by W. P. Starkey, formerly assistant general superintendent and chief engineer. Mr. Starkey has designed and supervised the erection of a new universal mill for the company during the past year which has attracted the attention of many engineers throughout the country.

Mr. Tracy recently resigned as president of the Board of Public Works in order to devote his whole attention to the business of the company, although he is still much interested in the working out of the several important public improvement undertakings which were started during his service in this important municipal board.

Under the reorganization E. Z. Wallover becomes vice-president and W. T. Hildrup, Jr., general manager, treasurer and secretary. While there has been a slackening in new orders, which Mr. Hildrup attributes to unwise legislation and lack of public confidence, the company still has a considerable tonnage of unfilled orders and there is likely to be a decided increase in the near future in the demand for the products of the company.

Several hundred men are employed at the big plant and the conditions from the standpoint of steady employment are understood to be reasonably satisfactory.

MOOSE CARNIVAL DRAWS BIG CROWD

No Painted Women, Oriental Dancers or Girl Shows in the Production

The Moose carnival at Sixth and Division streets drew another immense crowd last night, and expressions of appreciation were heard on every hand. It is no exaggeration to state that the Washburn company is one of the cleanest and most refined carnival organizations ever in Harrisburg.

In place of the painted and garishly-attired women and blatant, flashy men, so frequently seen with similar exhibitions, the Washburn personnel is composed of real ladies and gentlemen of quiet dress and pleasing demeanor, who observe the innate details of courtesy as regards the public; and the familiar "Oriental dancers" and "girl shows" are notable for their absence. New canvas, bright paint and varnish and brilliant gilding embellish the outfit, and the whole is artistically illuminated.

The Washburn animal arena is the centerpiece of the exhibition. Mile. Flora, a "lion queen" of more than average personal pulchritude, and Princess Pauline, who handles a cage of snarling leopards with smiling aplomb and absolute fearlessness, are the features of this department, while Herbertine, with his den of lions, and Professor Gardo, with his trained polar bears, round out an instructive and thrilling entertainment of about an hour's duration. Oklahoma Bill's Wild West, with its cowboys, Indians, Mexicans, cowgirls, bronchos and Texas steers; Hamburg's Athletic Show, with a select corps of male and female exponents of physical culture, surrounding John Kilonis, the Greek champion, the Coney Island Dreamland, the Miniature Jungle, "Tamara," the Fat Family, "Ky-Lo," the D'Alma Dog and Pony Circus, the Trip to the Moon, the Ocean Wave, Ferris wheel and carousel all did a rushing business last night.

Taken all in all, the Washburn exhibition is far above the average, is well worthy of the large patronage it is receiving, and the Moose will undoubtedly increase their exchequer substantially by its engagement.—Advertisement.
