PALACE THEATER

At the Palace to-morrow Grace Curd and Francis Ford will be featured in Series 4 of "Lucille Love."

At the end of the third installment of "Lucille Love," we left the daughter of General Loco, the missing papers still in her possession, trying to escape from the South Sea Island. As the fourth installment opens a lion is trying to break down the door of the desperate girl's shelter, and is only foiled by a spear in Lucille's terrified hands.

Loubeque is not so easy to turn from his purpose of recovering the papers, which mean the disgrace of General Love. He instructs his native slave to collect dry grass and how to weave a rope. This he stretches from his own hut to Lucille's and ignites the end. In a short time the fire eats its way to the hut where Lucille is asleep.

PHYSICIANS ENDORSE VINOL

To Create Strength and for Pulmonary Troubles.

Run-down, debilitated people, those who need strength, or who suffer from chronic coughs, colds or bronchitis, may find help in these letters.

Dr. C. L. Dreese, Goshen, N. Y., says: "In cases where the curative influence of cod liver oil is needed, I prescribe Vinol, which I find to be far more palatable and efficacious than other cod liver preparations. It is a worthy cod liver preparation in which a physician may have every confidence."

Dr. L. B. Bouchelle, of Thomasville, Ga., says: "I have used Vinol in my family and in my general practice with the most satisfactory results. It is exceedingly beneficial to those afflicted with bronchial or pulmonary troubles, and to create strength."

Dr. W. N. Rand, of Evans Mills, N. Y., says: "I want to say that I have used and prescribed Vinol in my practice and it will do all you claim for it and more."

We return your money if Vinol fails to help you. George A. Gargas, Druggist, Harrisburg, Penna. Vinol is sold in Steelton by John L. Porr. P. S.—For children's Eczema, Saxo Salve is guaranteed truly wonderful.—Advertisement.

Loubeque's native summons his tribe, which is hostile to that by which Lucille was captured, to assist him. Lucille is awoken from her sleep, is driven from the hut by the fire and almost runs into the arms of Loubeque. He struggles with her and attempts to seize the papers. But Lucille's savages are at hand and attack the spy before he can recover the papers.

Lucille makes good her escape and enters the chief's hut. While the natives are afraid of the white man, they are not afraid of the savages who support him, and a terrible battle ensues between the rival tribes. To stop the carnage, Lucille resolves to take advantage of the superstition of the natives and dresses herself all in white. Climbing on the great white elephant she goes among the warriors and the fighting ceases like magic.

But Loubeque is not discouraged and at this juncture there comes to his assistance an ally in the person of a woman from the tribe to which his slave belongs. Loubeque sends the woman to the chief to tell him that she is from a neighboring tribe which is friendly. She is to say her master is ill and at the point of death, and that she has heard of the wonderful white healing woman who cured the chief's daughter, and had been sent to get her to heal her master.

The ruse succeeds, and Lucille starts on horseback with the false guide. In the meantime her companion, under Loubeque's direction, has dug a pitfall and covered it with brush. When Lucille's horse came down the trail bearing his rider, both crash into the pit, in one of the most sensational pictures thus far shown in the series. The two slaves of Loubeque climb down into the pit, and the woman takes the papers from the bodice of Lucille's dress. She returns them in triumph to her new master, who decides that while he lacks the sacred amulet which is still around Lucille's neck, his present mission is but half accomplished.

Four other Universal reels will also be shown.—Advertisement.

THE MODERN ENTERTAINER

The kings of old had their jesters called in to relieve the monotony of regal routine. The poorest urchin today with only a 5-cent piece in his pocket does not have to depend on a cheap clown for entertainment. He can come to the Victoria, where the first films reproduce the greatest actors and scenes in the world.

STEADFASTNESS CONFERENCE TOPIC

Easton Man in Charge of Bible Study Work in Baptist Church

The sixth monthly Bible conference, which takes place under the auspices of the Harrisburg Bible Conference, Association, begins this afternoon in the First Baptist Church, Second and Pine streets, at 7 o'clock. "Christian Steadfastness" is the theme which will run throughout the sessions, to be conducted by George L. Alrich, of Easton.

"Standing Fast in the Faith" is the subject this afternoon and at the session to-night at 7.45 the topic will be "Standing Fast in the Liberty." "In the Spirit" and "In the Lord" will be the topics at meetings to-morrow at the same time as those conducted to-day.

Lutherans at Conference.—Attending the Harrisburg conference of the Eastern Pennsylvania synod of the Lutheran Church this evening at Wilkes-Barre will be the following Harrisburg ministers: The Rev. H. W. A. Hanson, the Rev. S. W. Herman, the Rev. L. C. Manges, the Rev. J. D. Markward, the Rev. H. L. Meisenholder, the Rev. A. M. Stanzel, the Rev. E. E. Snyder, the Rev. E. Victor Roland, and the Rev. Thomas Reisch. Sunday schools will be discussed this evening. The conference will close Tuesday.

Raise Money For New Church.—At Curtin Heights Methodist Episcopal Church more than $3,000 for church erection was collected yesterday, making a total of $12,000 now in the church fund. The $3,000 was raised yesterday at the church when the twenty-fourth anniversary exercises were held. At the morning service $1,500 was raised; at Sunday school $400 cash was gathered, and more than $500 pledged and collected in cash. Groups of persons organized preliminary report collections of from $50 to $175.

G. A. R. up in Arms Against President

Special to The Telegraph
Washington, May 25.—Much comment among political leaders in Washington has been caused by President Wilson's refusal to take part in the Memorial Day exercises at Arlington on May 30 as contrasted with his acceptance of an invitation to deliver an address there four days later on the occasion of the exercises to be held in memory of the Confederate dead.

Grand Army men here have taken to heart the President's declination of the invitation extended to him to deliver an address on May 30 and some of them threaten to remain away from the unveiling of the Confederate monument on June 4 on account of the incident.

On behalf of the President it is explained that he has refused all invitations to appear in public since the Mexican affair became acute. The invitation to participate in the Confederate exercises on June 4 was received and accepted a considerable time ago. Dr. Gleason, commander of the Department of the Potomac, recalls that the President absented himself from Arlington on May 30 last and passed the day automobiling in Virginia.

"LUCILLE LOVE" AT PHOTOPLAY

The two reels covering the second installment of the thrilling story appearing in the Harrisburg Telegraph, "Lucille Love, the Girl of Mystery," are being shown at the Photoplay Theater to-day in addition to the regular program.

Those who failed to see this installment on its first run in the city should not miss the opportunity presented to-day to see in motion pictures many of the thrilling scenes that occur in this interesting story which is being followed by thousands of people the country over.—Advertisement.

VICTORIA THEATER

"The Great Diamond Robbery," in six reels, to-day. One of the most gripping and thrilling melodramas of modern times. Featuring Wallace Edginger, assisted by Gall Kane and a superb company of 100 stars. Three National reels also on to-day's program at the Victoria.—Advertisement.

GYM CARNIVAL AT CATHEDRAL HALL

Hassett and St. Cecilia Clubs to Give Annual Event Tomorrow and Wednesday

The fifth annual gymnastic carnival of the Hassett Boys' Club and the St. Cecilia Club for Girls will be held to-morrow and Wednesday evenings in Cathedral Hall gymnasium.

The carnival will be under the direction of the Rev. T. B. Johnson, assistant rector at St. Patrick's. The assistant directors for the carnival will be Rodney B. Millar, physical instructor; Edward H. Smith, military drillmaster; Miss Susanne Westbrook, instructor in dancing, and Miss Sarah Maloney, pianist.

The carnival will be opened with an orchestra overture. A grand march by members of the Hassett Boys' Club and the St. Cecilia Club for Girls will follow. Next will be a wand drill by the junior members of the Hassett Club. The St. Cecilia juniors will give a Maypole dance. Following the dance a recitative sketch will be given by Miss Martina Moeslein. The junior and senior members of the girls' club will perform various stunts on a parallel bar, which will be followed with mat work by the junior boys' team. The senior girls of the St. Cecilia Club will do a Danish folk dance which promises to be one of the most interesting events of the evening.

The second part of the program is as follows: Song recital by Miss Clara Snelman; Indian club swinging by the senior girls' team; parallel bar work, senior and junior boys; Jap walk, the Irish folk dance by senior girls; grand march by both clubs.

Miss Reed Will Not Take Place of Caroline Katzenstein in Phila.

Miss Katherine B. Reed, chairman of publicity of the Pennsylvania Woman Suffrage Association, will act as executive secretary of all the Philadelphia Woman Suffrage organizations, of which there are several for the next several days. Organization heads here want to limit her stay to not longer than a fortnight as she is needed in planning for the coming campaign.

A report that Miss Reed was to take the place of Miss Caroline Katzenstein who is leaving without foundation. "We couldn't spare her," said Mrs. Reoessing, who is back again at her desk as president of the association here.

3 Baltimore Excursionists Narrowly Escape Drowning When Canoe Capsizes

Three youths from Union Bridge, Md., who came to Harrisburg Saturday on the Baltimore excursion were thrown into the Susquehanna when the canoe capsized just opposite the Harrisburg hospital and were rescued by the prompt work of James K. Jackson, A. Ross Walter and Ralph Anderson who saw the accident from a nearby bathhouse. Jackson operates a boating pavilion at the foot of Chestnut street and the other two were his guests.

U. S. Letter Carriers Hold First Annual Memorial

Flowers and aluminum markers were yesterday placed on the graves of four Harrisburg letter carriers in accordance with the first annual memorial observance as instituted by the National Association of Letter Carriers. Similar services were held all over the United States, and are to be conducted every year on the Sunday preceding Memorial Day. A committee from the local branch, No. 509, accompanied by Postmaster Frank C. Sites and Charles H. Hoffman, superintendent of delivery, visited the Harrisburg Cemetery, where the following program was carried out: Hymn, "Blest Be the Tie That Binds"; prayer, Harry C. Jordan; remarks, Rudolph K. Fortna, quartet, George L. Ebersole, Harry Jordan, Rudolph K. Fortna, Edward Reem; address, Edward W. Walton, president; closing hymn, "God Be With You 'Till We Meet Again." The committee and officials then visited the other cemeteries and decorated the graves of members. Members of the local who are buried in local cemeteries were: Edward B. Arnes, Thomas F. Muma, A. Hummel Buehler, Vernon R. Minnis.
