LOSING HOPE WOMAN VERY ILL

Finally Restored To Health By Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound.

Bellevue, Ohio.—"I was in a terrible state before I took Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound. My back ached until I thought it would break, I had pains all over me, nervous feelings and periodic troubles. I was very weak and run down and was losing hope of ever being well and strong. After taking Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound I improved rapidly and today am a well woman. I cannot tell you how happy I feel and I cannot say too much for your Compound. Would not be without it in the house if it cost three times the amount."—Mrs. CHAS. CHAPMAN, R. F. D. No. 7, Bellevue, Ohio.

MEMORIAL SERVICES IN SCHOOLS FRIDAY

Secretary Hammelbaugh Sends Letters to Teachers Urging Observance of Occasion

Services appropriate to the memory of the country's heroes of the Civil War will be observed by the school children of the city on Friday afternoon, May 29. Instructions as to paying a proper tribute have been issued to the school principals in a letter sent out by D. D. Hammelbaugh, secretary of the school board. Following is the letter:

To the Principal: In accordance with the usual custom the afternoon of Friday 29th will be devoted to exercises appropriate to Memorial Day. The committee of the Grand Army is making every effort to have a few of the veterans at each building and they should be given a royal welcome. Let us not forget that these brave defenders of our country's flag and deserving in the highest degree of our respect and honor. You are again reminded that the veterans are all getting old and many of them are feeble and they should be urged to make addresses unless they show a willingness to do so. We honor ourselves by honoring them.

HAVE YOU A BABY? THEN READ ADVICE

a somewhat better chance of living one week than the baby at birth. 2. Concentrate on the mother. What the mother is the children are. The stream is no purer than the source. Let us glorify motherhood by every means in our power. Let us have good mothering; that is at the foundation of happy healthy children. 3. The standard of home life must be raised. Fatherhood and motherhood must be entered upon with due recognition of parental duties and responsibilities entailed. 4. Along with venereal disease must be placed alcoholism as a serious cause of infant mortality. Parental neglect is a common result of alcoholic habits, and this implies a high rate of mortality among children affected by such neglect. 5. The child born maimed and blighted is cheated of its birthright, being robbed of power, for normal growth and development, and made to bear a terrible burden of unhappiness. 6. A woman rarely looks better, even the plainest woman, than when she has a little child clinging to her best ornament. 7. Hygiene is the science of health, and to the healthy people we must begin with the baby. The alcohol habit increases the infant death rate by weakening the minds and bodies of adults, thus making parents less capable of bearing healthy children and of caring for those that have been born. 8. Poor health of the mother and consequent want of breast milk are the main causes of infantile mortality; therefore, it is of the greatest importance that the mother guard her health before the baby is born. Conditions Which May Endanger the Life of a Child 1. Taking children into homes or places where there is sickness, or where they have died from any doubtful or contagious diseases. 2. Sending children who are slightly ill to school, Sunday school, kindergarten, dancing classes, parties, or allowing them to play or mingle with other children. 3. Taking children into crowded places, overcrowded street cars, moving picture shows, curb street markets, on tiresome journeys, excursions, or keeping children up late. 4. Permitting children to play in ash heaps, sleeping grounds, dirty backyards, or allow them to play in manure pits, slaughter houses, pigsties, or wherever there is filth or unhygienic surroundings. 5. Giving the baby food that has been previously tasted by others. 6. Exposing the baby's eyes to the direct rays of the sun. 7. Giving children candy, hokey-pokey, ice cream, beer, bananas, tea, coffee, cake, or improper foods for infants and children. 8. Rubbish and garbage in alley, backyard and gutter. 9. Uncovered privy seats. 10. Soiled privy or water closet seats and floors. 11. Uncovered garbage cans. 12. Keeping of unclean domestic pets (dogs and cats). 13. Soiled clothing and bedding. 14. Unwashed dishes and partially eaten food lying about exposed to flies. 15. Improper care of food. 16. Using drinking cups, glasses, and eating utensils that have not been washed and scalded since they were used by others. 17. Handling of towels, handkerchiefs and napkins used by someone else.

MEMORIAL DAY AT DILLSBURG.

Boy or Girl? Great Question!

This brings to many minds an old and tried family remedy—an external application known as "Mother's Friend." During the period of expectancy it is applied to the abdominal muscles and is designed to soothe the intricate network of nerves involved. In this manner it has such a beneficial influence as to justify its use in all cases of coming motherhood. It has been generally recommended for years and years and those who have used it speak in highest praise of the immense relief it affords. Particularly do these knowing mothers speak of the absence of morning sickness, absence of strain on the ligaments and freedom from those many other distresses which are usually looked forward to with so much concern. There is no question but what "Mother's Friend" has a marked tendency to relieve the mind and this of itself in addition to the physical relief has given it a very wide popularity among women. It is absolutely safe to use, renders the skin pliable, is penetrating in its nature and is composed of those emollient substances best suited to thoroughly lubricate the nerves, muscles, tendons and ligaments involved. You can obtain "Mother's Friend" at almost any drug store. It is prepared only by Bradford Regulator Co., 401 Lamar Bldg., Atlanta, Ga.

Last Members of "Green Tree Mess" Attend Funeral

Special to The Telegraph. Marietta, Pa., May 26.—In 1863, five members of the famous Seventy-ninth Regiment, "The Green Tree Mess," organized a "Pennsylvania Volunteers" and were in camp along the Green River, Tennessee, the organized was named "The Green Tree River Mess." The members were E. K. Martin, E. M. Boring, Joseph Fridy, Stephen S. Clair, and Sigmund E. Wisner. After the war the members held annual reunions except last year when they attended the Gettysburg reunion. With the death of Captain Sigmund E. Wisner, which occurred a few days ago, the mess has now two survivors, Mr. Boring, of Philadelphia, and Mr. Clair, of Columbia. The others have died, and the two attended the funeral today of Captain Wisner, as was the custom for the others to attend the list rites of the members. The wives of all the veterans are dead except the life of Mr. Wisner.

REPUBLICANS SEE BRIGHT FUTURE

"The most favorable thing that can be said of our present industrial situation is that the business men of this country, emulating the example of the President himself, are pursuing a policy of 'watchful waiting.' And so far as our domestic relations are concerned all the world realizes the difference between the colorless diplomacy of Bryan and the red-blooded statesmanship of McKinley, Root, Sherman, Blaine and Sewar."

Representative Kelley attacked both the new tariff law and the Panama free tolls legislation. With reference to the tariff law he said: "Already our magnificent balance of trade of $60,000,000 a month has been completely wiped out and during April just passed there was a net trade against us of $10,107,000. This is the first time there has been a balance of trade against the United States in twenty-one years."

Senator Borah Talks A glowing picture of the future of the Republican party reunited with the Progressive element was painted by Senator Borah. The Republican party, said the Senator, "is coming back into power. The proof of it is on every hand. The trend is unmistakable. I said a year ago that the party which would take place would be an amalgamation of the voters, not the assumed leaders. I said furthermore that that was the only amalgamation that was worth while. I ought not to assume for a moment or concede for a moment that because the party bids fair to go back into power, there is going to be any compromise with the forces which brought it near its ruin. There is in this country influence for the kind of government in politics and it will take possession of any party in the world, if it can, which holds itself in readiness to direct the course of the nation. The kind of government there can be no compromise if we are to have a party which is going to unite and solve the great problems which a new industrial life and a new social condition have imposed upon us."

"What we want in this country is a party which will do the simple but, perhaps, the most important thing, that is, gather up the common sense, the common honesty, the common patriotism, the common justice, and the common righteousness of the common people of this country, and force for legal and constitutional means, and do it all under the Constitution and laws of this blessed Republic."

Uncompromising in his arraignment of the Democratic administration, United States Senator Charles E. Townsend, predicted an increase in the Republican vote in the coming year. Wilson's Mexican policy, together with the Democratic administration's attitude on canal tolls and the tariff will have that tendency, he said.

ROOSEVELT GETS OUT BIG STICK

Strenuous efforts are to be made by Republicans and Progressives to get together and beat the common enemy. The national capital was on the coming-to-day of Theodore Roosevelt. His third visit to Washington since he quit the presidency more than five years ago excited the keenest interest in political circles. Principal interest in the visit of President Roosevelt centered in his lecture before the National Geographic Society and in the conference he was to have with Progressive leaders in Congress. To deliver his lecture on the primary object of Colonel Roosevelt's visit and scientists awaited with great interest the story of his recent exploration in South America.

With equally as much interest politicians of all parties awaited the outcome of the conference of party leaders in which the ex-President will participate. It was expected by Progressive leaders that at this conference a plan of action may be developed for the forthcoming congressional campaign. It was expected that Roosevelt was expected to arrive here Saturday night and remain until midnight. This would give him a stay of a little less than nine hours, but they promised to be full of excitement and strenuousity.

Roosevelt Speaks at Pittsburgh June 30

Philadelphia, May 26.—Colonel Roosevelt's formal campaign for the Progressive party probably will be opened in Pennsylvania. He promised to-day to speak in Pittsburgh on June 30. The date set is the day after the Progressive party convention in Philadelphia. Mr. Roosevelt is to be accompanied by his wife and daughter. He is expected to go to Pittsburgh because of reports in this state recently that the former President would keep out of Pennsylvania during the campaign. The Colonel put an end to these reports by promptly accepting the invitation to go to Pittsburgh. His address will be delivered before the second annual Pennsylvania Progressive conference. William Draper Lewis, dean of the law department of the University of Pennsylvania and Progressive candidate for Governor, also traveled from New York to Philadelphia with Colonel Roosevelt to discuss Pennsylvania matters. Representative Victor Murdock, of Kansas, boarded the train at New York to go on to Washington with the Colonel.

Dean Lewis said the outlook in Pennsylvania was encouraging from the Progressive standpoint. "The Republican party in this state has brought ruin on itself," he said, "by breaking its pledge to revise honestly the tariff and by the acts of its leaders in helping to prevent Roosevelt's nomination on the Republican ticket in 1912."

Other members of Colonel Roosevelt's party on the way to Washington were George K. Cherrie and Leo E. Miller, naturalists, and Anthony Billa, explorer, all of whom went to South America with the Colonel.

A delegation of Pennsylvania Progressives boarded the train and rode through the city with the Colonel. To these Mr. Roosevelt told of his intention to speak at Pittsburgh. "I am in Pennsylvania now," he said, "and I am coming back, and when I do I will have Dean Lewis and Pinchot with me." As he said this he slapped Dr. Lewis on the back. "I am taking an enormous interest in Pennsylvania," he continued, "and that is why I am going to speak in this state."

Several hundred persons greeted Mr. Roosevelt at the station, where he left the train to shake hands with as many as he could before the train started. There was a great shout when someone called for "Three cheers for the old war horse."
