MISS SHOOK MARRIES CHAS. RENO HINKLEY

Pretty Ceremony This Noon at a Presbyterian Church of Allegheny

MRS. C. RENO HINKLEY

The marriage of Miss Caroline M. Shook, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Frank L. Shook, of the Northside, Pittsburgh, to Charles Reno Hinkley of this city, was a pretty event of noon today in a Presbyterian church of Allegheny. The bride wore a stylish traveling suit of navy blue cloth with hat to harmonize, and was unattended. A wedding breakfast was unattended after the ceremony at the bride's home. Following a western journey, Mr. and Mrs. Hinkley will reside in Park avenue, Allegheny.

The attractive little bride was a student at the Central High school during her residence in this city, finishing her education at the Margaret Morrison school of Pittsburgh. Many prenuptial events were given in her honor, among them a shower by the Theta Sigma Sorority of which she is a member. Mr. Hinkley, a member of the class of 1908 Central High school, is connected with the Water Supply Commission of Pennsylvania. Among the wedding guests to-day were Mrs. L. B. Hindle, of Philadelphia; Mrs. Emma Hinkley, Miss Cecilia Hinkley, Mrs. Warren Follwell, Miss Florence Follwell and Mrs. J. B. Makibbin, of Harrisburg.

Patriotic Women Unveil Gateway to Soldiers

There was a large gathering of patriotic men and women at the historic old Silver Spring Church on Saturday afternoon, for the impressive exercises attending the unveiling of the memorial gateway to soldiers of the American Revolution. The war of 1812, buried in the churchyard. Part of the program was given under the great trees in front of the church, and after prayer, singing, reading the Scriptures and an address by the pastor of the old church, the Rev. Thomas J. Ferguson, a procession led by Mrs. Bache Smead and Mrs. Gilbert M. McCauley, regents of the Carlisle and Harrisburg Chapters, Daughters of the American Revolution, started for the churchyard, singing "America."

Following a masterly patriotic oration by Jesse E. B. Cunningham, first assistant to the Attorney General of Pennsylvania, George Sutton sang "The Star Spangled Banner." The bronze tablets were unveiled by Mrs. Ewalt, of Silver Spring, and Miss McKnight, of Carlisle, lineal descendants of some of the heroes whose names were on the memorials. Mrs. Bache Smead, of Carlisle, presented the gateway to the church and John Parker accepted it for the trustees.

ENTERTAINED AT SUPPER

Mr. and Mrs. James Cless entertained the following persons at a supper, at their home in Bressler, on Memorial Day: Harry Murray, Mrs. Ewing Wallace and daughters, Misses Freida, Emma, Margaret, Ruth and Marie, Master Spurgeon Houdeshell, Mr. and Mrs. A. J. Michener and son, Leonard, Mr. and Mrs. William Runkle and daughters, Catherine and Masters, Earl and Donald Runkle, Miss Catherine and Elizabeth Shoemaker, all of Harrisburg; Alvin Hesse, of Steelton; Mr. and Mrs. James Cless and son, Harry, of Bressler.

VISIT SOUTHERN RESORTS

Sentor E. E. Beldeman, Charles E. Covert and John D. Harris spent the week-end motoring in Maryland and Virginia, visiting Old Point and Richmond.

HOME FOR A VISIT

Mrs. Edward J. Stackpole returned Saturday night from Sharon, where she had been the guest for two weeks of her daughter, Mrs. Walter Bruns, and well, who returned with her for a visit.

Edward Z. Gross returned Saturday from Chicago, where he attended the Presbyterian General Assembly as a commissioner from this district. Dr. and Mrs. A. S. Koser spent the week-end at their country place, near Grantam.

WOMEN HAVE TO SMILE

In a great many cases and try to make those around them happy, while they are racked with the pain of organic trouble. Few men realize how common such heroisms. The remedy for this condition is Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound—a simple remedy made from roots and herbs, which for forty years has been overcoming the most obstinate ills of women. Every woman suffering from female ills owes it to herself and family to give it a fair trial.—Advertisement.

Baptist Choir Members Take Outing in Woods

Members of the Tabernacle Baptist choir and a few of their friends enjoyed a delightful day's outing in the woods along Charles creek, Memorial Day. Sports of all kind were enjoyed, with photographing and a long hike through the beautiful woods and mountains surrounding the valley. Special features were the basketball game in the morning, a quoit-pitching contest and tennis games played on a roughly-constructed tennis court made for the occasion.

The young women of the party prepared two delicious old-fashioned meals. When the sun was beginning to lower in the West the happy crowd returned to the city with the good feeling of a day well spent and determined to have more such outings in the future.

Those present were Dorothy Arnold, Ruth Weeber, Helen Matthews, Mabel Hall, Edith Hall, Winifred Jones, Mae Jenkins, Dorothy Criswell, Lewis Jones, William Jones, George Sharp, Albert Sharp, Walter Hall, Fred Arnold, Mr. and Mrs. Frank Criswell, Mr. and Mrs. Roy Shoemaker, Mr. and Mrs. Frank Weeber, Mr. and Mrs. Morris Ulrich, Mr. and Mrs. Philip Arnold.

Three Social Events For Newly Betrothed

Three pretty social events were given in this city, in honor of Miss Minnie Klinefline, of Chambersburg, and Max Swartz of Hagerstown, Md., whose betrothal was recently announced.

Mr. and Mrs. Morris Tuck, of Seventh and Boas streets, were hosts Saturday evening at a dinner of fifty covers for the popular young couple, with dancing and singing. The decorations were of roses and ferns and many good wishes were showered on the bride-elect and her fiancé, a shoe manufacturer of Maryland.

Mr. and Mrs. Simon Toor, of Verbeke street, entertained for Miss Klinefline and Mr. Swartz yesterday at a handsomely appointed dinner and in the evening a late supper was served by Mr. and Mrs. Max Ryder, of Sixth and Boas streets, also in compliment of them.

Spend Memorial Day at Mt. Gretna Cottage

Among the house parties of the week-end was one of Harrisburg's young folks at Chestnut Knob cottage, Mount Gretna.

Mrs. Martindale L. Ward chaperoned the guests who included Miss Florence Eckert, Miss Elsie Yount, Miss Florence Dyer, Miss Mary Kuip, Miss Carolyn Lindley, Miss Wright, of Williamsport, Thomas Gant, of Lancaster; James McNeill, W. Gard Conklin, Walter Johnston, Morris Bushman and William Riddle. Life in the open was thoroughly enjoyed and everyone was ready for the excellent meals.

DR. AND MRS. ARMSTRONG COMING ON FOR WEDDING

The Rev. Dr. James Newton Armstrong and Mrs. Armstrong, of Blairsville, N. J., former Harrisburgers, will be in the city this week to attend the marriage of their cousin, Miss Elsie Haldeman to Dr. William E. Wright. They will be guests of their relatives, Mr. and Mrs. Robert Hopkins Moffitt, who are occupying a cottage at Hagerstown for the summer. Mrs. Armstrong is pleasantly remembered here as Miss Mary Haldeman.

VISITING OLD FRIENDS

Mrs. Benjamin F. Meyers, Jr., of Mount Vernon, N. Y., is the guest of her mother, Mrs. Sophia E. Kaufman, of Third street, near Cumberland. She will remain for several weeks, Mr. Meyers joining her later.

LEAVING FOR COUNTRY

Miss Fannie M. Eby will close her residence at Third and Maclay streets this week and leave for Grantam, to occupy her country place, "The Hedges" for the summer months.

CARSON M'ALLISTER COMEDIAN OF A PLAY

Full Cast For "Jedbury, Jr." the Central High Senior Event Is Announced

CARSON McALLISTER

Carson McAllister, president of the graduating class of the Central High school, will take a prominent and humorous part in the senior play, "Jedbury Junior." Mr. McAllister shares in upholding the comedy element and his clever upholding as the valet of "Jedbury Junior," Boas Sites, is pre-emptive of much laughter.

There are four acts in the play. The scene of the first being in the rooms of Jedbury Junior in London, the second in the drawing room of the Jedbury's beautiful home in Devonshire at the time of their daughter's coming-out party; the third and fourth in the living room of the bungalow of Major Hedway in Bombay.

The cast of characters includes: Christopher Jedbury, Sr., an East Indian merchant, Roland Renn; Mrs. Jedbury, his wife, Kathryn Harris; Nelly, their daughter, Margaret May.

A FINE COMPLEXION

A girl's complexion is something more than a matter to concern her vanity. It is an indication of the state of her health. Pallor in a growing girl means a thinning of the blood. Eruptions mean impurities in the blood. Parents should be watchful of their daughters' complexions, and should see to it that these danger signs are corrected, not covered up. When a girl in her teens becomes pale and sallow, especially if, at the same time, she shows an inclination to tire easily, a listlessness and inattention to her work or studies, she needs Dr. Williams' Pink Pills, a tonic which directly and specifically corrects the condition from which she is suffering. Every girl should read the chapter on "Chlorosis" in the free booklet, "Building Up the Blood." It tells just what to do and gives directions regarding diet, exercise and rest. The girl with a mucky complexion should have the booklet, "A Dainty Laxative," which tells about Pinklets. These books will be sent free on request by the Dr. Williams' Medicine Company, Schenectady, N. Y. Your own druggist can supply Dr. Williams' Pink Pills.—Advertisement.
