FEELS LIKE A NEW WOMAN

As Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound Dispelled Backache, Headaches and Dizziness.

Piqua, Ohio.—"I would be very ungrateful if I failed to give Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound the praise it deserves, for I have taken it at different times and it always relieved me when other medicines failed, and when I hear a woman complain I always recommend it. Last winter I was attacked with a severe case of organic weakness. I had backache, pains in my hips and over my kidneys, headache, dizziness, lassitude, had no energy, limbs ached and I was always tired. I had taken Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound on one other occasion, and it had helped me so I took it again and it has built me up, until now I feel like a new woman. You have my hearty consent to use my name and testimonial in any way and I hope it will benefit suffering women."—Mrs. ORPHA TURNER, 431 S. Wayne St., Piqua, Ohio.

Women who are suffering from those distressing ills peculiar to their sex should not doubt the ability of Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound to restore their health.

If you want special advice write to Lydia E. Pinkham Medicine Co., (confidential) Lynn, Mass. Your letter will be opened, read and answered by a woman and held in strict confidence.

BELL TELEPHONE

Rate Theory of the Great System Presented at the Public Service Commission

INTERCHANGES NOW MADE

Interesting Statement Regarding the Business Made by One of Executives

The Bell Telephone company yesterday put before the Public Service Commission its ideas on the rate question and, incidentally, gave the interesting information that it was about to put into effect the agreement made with the United States government to allow independent companies to interchange messages. The hearing was one of the most interesting in a long time and the whole theory of the Bell system was presented in extended testimony. T. P. Sylvan, assistant to the president of The Bell Telephone Company of Pennsylvania and the Central District Telephone Company, was the principal witness. Mr. Sylvan testified on what is known as the "State-wide" theory in the question of rate-making. The Bell Company contends that there are undoubtedly places in the State which are not self-sustaining, but by reason of the importance of these towns to other towns, it is necessary to continue the operation of telephone service even though it may be at a loss. It was brought out that the Bell Company management takes the position that it is impossible to ascertain by any known method of book-keeping just what are the profits in any one exchange in the State. The reason for this is that the toll and exchange service are so closely interrelated that it is impossible to separate the costs of furnishing the service. Mr. Sylvan gave as an illustration that if the Public Service Commission required the exact cost of operating a certain exchange, it would be necessary to keep most elaborate records showing just how much time the various employees of that exchange devoted to local work and how much to toll work. It would also be necessary to pro-rate against that exchange part of the salaries and expenses of all the various supervising officials, together with the expense of general management, legal department, financial department, accounting department and all other departments of the company.

TELEPHONE STOCK COMPANY RULING

Principle Laid Down by the Public Service Commission in Somerset Complaint

The Public Service Commission has issued an order that the Economy Telephone Stock Company shall make no difference in the rates which it charges stockholders and nonstockholders subscribers or users of its service, and that the practice of furnishing and maintaining telephone service free at hotels and railway stations must be discontinued. This decision, which establishes certain principles to be further developed by the commission by the Somerset Telephone Company, in which it was alleged that the Economy company charged its patrons who held stock $2 per annum for service than it did subscribers who are not stockholders. The respondent attempted to justify its action on the ground that it builds new lines and furnishes service in new territory only after a subscriber takes stock, and, therefore, such a concession is found to be a necessary inducement to the business of the company, and extended. In other words, the contention was that the stockholding subscriber really builds the line, bears the labor and material of erecting it, and, consequently, because of the larger risk taken by him he should receive some consideration in the rates he is charged.

BANKS TO PAY TWO PER CENT. INTEREST

amount to thousands of dollars and that the city heretofore has not earned a cent on the daily balances. He said he believes that district should get some return for this. His plan for distributing the general and sinking fund balances among all the city banks, he said, is to base the amount to be deposited on the proportionate capital and surplus of the institution. Mr. Pohl, the only director who discussed the matter, said he didn't feel that he was a director should be held responsible for school funds if the money was placed in a city bank that might eventually fail. The fact that he as a director was not bonded offered no protection, he said. Mr. Werner mentioned a section in the school code to answer that and Secretary Hammelbaugh, without so much as looking at the book, recited the section that provides that any depository institution under the circumstances shall file a surety bond.

Domestic Science This Fall

Following the defeat of the amendment by a vote of 6 to 2 the vote was cast on the adoption of the report and only Messrs. Yates and Werner voted for it. Domestic science will be taught this fall with the incoming freshman class of girls in the Central high school. Directors Yates and Werner protested against this. Both said they believed the instruction should begin in the grammar grades first. While the special committee, of which Dr. Yates was a member, visited Reading's domestic science room in the high school the instructor told the city directors that she considered even high school freshmen much too young to undergo instruction in home economics.
