

Help Your Baby Fight the Summer Heat

It isn't the heat—it's the food that takes our babies from us in summer. More babies die from summer complaint than from any other single thing, and summer complaint comes from cows' milk.

At all times one cow in three, even in such a great state as New York, is consumptive. At all times your babies can get consumption from such cow's milk. This is bad enough in winter. In the summer all this is worse because your baby cannot fight the heat and dangers, too.

If your baby has just the right food, his summer days will be sunny and his nights just smiling sleep. If you can't nurse your baby give him

MAYOR ASKS CITY TO JOIN CELEBRATION

flags, which will be transferred from the flag room to the main rotunda of the Capitol.

Lieutenant-Colonel Maurice E. Finney, chief of staff, Major-General John W. Schall, chief marshal, to-day issued the first general orders covering the formation of the parade.

The Mayor's program is as follows: There is nothing which so inspires the heart with true patriotism as the sight of the beautiful flag of our country and it has been with peculiar reverence that we have gazed upon those flags, many mere fragments, which were once carried by the different regiments of the State of Pennsylvania during the time of war.

They are about to find a new home in the rotunda of the State Capitol, and it becomes us to appropriately observe this occasion, and it is therefore with this purpose in mind that I, John K. Royal, Mayor of the City of Harrisburg, do proclaim the afternoon of Monday, June 15, 1914, as a half-holiday and request that all public offices and places of business be closed, and may the sight of the tattered flags awaken within us all a deeper appreciation of all which they represent.

JOHN K. ROYAL, Mayor.

In the general orders these appointments are announced:

Assistant marshal, Major-General Charles Bowman; chief of staff, Major-General John W. Schall; chief marshal, Colonel Joseph B. Hutchison; chief of staff, Lieutenant-Colonel Maurice E. Finney; aids, Major Fred M. Ott, Major J. Markwood Peters, Captain Edward H. Schell, Captain Owen M. Copelin, Captain Harry N. Bassler, Captain Harry H. Baker, Lieutenant Charles P. Meek, Lieutenant Edgar C. Hummel and Lieutenant A. H. Baldwin, Jr.

Orders for Formation

The several divisions of the parade will form in column, prepared to move at 1.45 sharp on the noon of Monday, June 15, as follows:

First division on Pine street, right resting on Third; second division on Locust street, right resting on Third; third division on Locust street, right resting on Second; fourth division in Capitol grounds, right resting on Fourth and Walnut streets.

Head of column will move from Walnut and Fourth streets, south on Fourth to Market, west on Market to Front, north on Front to State, east on State to Third. When the head of the column arrives at State and Third streets column will be halted, whereupon the first, second and third divisions will form line facing north on the south side of the street.

The fourth division will pass along and in front of line and proceed to the stand erected in front of main entrance to Capitol. Space will be reserved for members of the Grand Army of the Republic and other service organizations near the stand where the exercises will be conducted.

The formation of the parade will be as follows: Platoon of police; chief marshal, Major-General John W. Schall; assistant marshals, Major-General C. B. Dougherty and Colonel Joseph B. Hutchison; chief of staff, Lieutenant-Colonel Maurice E. Finney; aids, Major Fred M. Ott, Major J. Markwood Peters, Captain Edward H. Schell, Captain Owen M. Copelin, Captain Harry N. Bassler, Captain Harry H. Baker, Lieutenant Charles P. Meek, Lieutenant Edgar C. Hummel and Lieutenant A. H. Baldwin, Jr.

First Division—Major E. M. Vale, commanding; Eighth Regiment Infantry Band, Carlisle, Pa., and the following companies of the Eighth Regiment, National Guard of Pennsylvania: Company G, 1st Battalion, I and D, Harrisburg; Company K, York, and Company G, Carlisle; Governor's Troop, National Guard of Pennsylvania, Harrisburg.

Second Division—Department commander of the Grand Army of the Republic, marshal; Commonwealth Band, Harrisburg; members of the Grand Army of the Republic from Eastern and Western Pennsylvania.

Third Division—C. R. Lantz, marshal; Steelton Band, Steelton, Pa.; members of posts comprising the Central Pennsylvania Association, Grand Army of the Republic; Spanish-American War Veterans; Spanish-American Foreign Service Veterans; regimental associations.

Fourth Division—Lieutenant C. F. Gramlich, marshal; aids, Samuel P. Town, J. H. Holcomb, William H. Green and John N. Reber; Soldiers' Orphan Industrial School Band, Scotland, Pa. This division will be composed of the battle flags of Pennsylvania, carried by representatives of the respective regiments.

MARKET EGGS BY PARCEL POST

Washington, June 10.—That eggs can be marketed successfully by parcel post is the conclusion reached by the Department of Agriculture to-day as the result of extended experiments. It was demonstrated to the satisfaction of the department that this method of shipment frequently secured a better price for the producer and a fresher article for the consumer.

PROMINENT MEN TO SPEAK

New York, June 10.—Martin W. Littleton, president of the Fourth of July committee, announced to-day that one of the chief features of the celebration this year would be a big public and patriotic meeting at which the speakers will be men prominent in the life of the nation. Champ Clark, speaker of the House, is the first to accept the invitation of the committee.

PAXTANG PARK

Palfrey, Burton and Brown are the big hit of the bill at the Paxtang Park Theater this week in their Folies of Vaudeville stunt. This is claimed to be the most versatile offering that has ever been presented here in vaudeville and all who witness a Monday evening performance are ready to testify to the truth of this statement. It is worthy of the feature spot on the most pretentious of big time bills.

In front of a rich purple curtain, made so full that it suggests extravagance, this trio runs the gamut from classic dancing to trampology trick bicycle riding, acrobatics and parody singing. The entire act is new and novel and is put over by the trio with a speed that adds to its effectiveness. It is elaborately staged and costumed. The classic and fancy dancing by the lady member of the act is a feature in itself and the comedian, who has real ability, keeps the audience in an uproar with his clever work. The straight man is active and smooth in his work, and a vaudeville artist of the first water.

The balance of the bill is most interesting by such acts as Addington and Frank Warren and Arizona, Appleby and Bounding Johnson.—Advertisement.

Baby Pinned in Bed Is Strangled to Death

Lafayette, Ind., June 10.—While Mrs. Lee Marshall, of Mulberry, was doing her house work yesterday, she pinned the night gown of her sleeping infant, aged seven months to the mattress to keep the child from falling out of bed. Mrs. Marshall found the lifeless body of the baby suspended between the bed and floor, a short time later. The child had become entangled in the night gown and strangled.

WHISTLES, THEN KILLS

By Associated Press Evansville, Ind., June 10.—Because Jacob McCullough, 60 years old, wealthy bachelor living near Hatfield, Spencer county, reproved him for whistling, Ernest Hawkins, 20 years old, last night quarreled with the old man and struck him over the head with a rifle barrel, killing McCullough instantly. Hawkins went to Rockport and surrendered.

SHE WENT TO THE RAILROAD BOYS' PICNIC Although Three Weeks Before It Was Said She Could Not Live Much Longer

Among the thousands of people who attended the railroad boys' picnic at Philadelphia last week there was at least one person who spent the most enjoyable day of her life. She was the life of her party going and coming on the train and at the picnic grounds it seemed nothing could tire her. She romped, danced, ate and drank, and even after a strenuous day of excitement and enjoyment she was the liveliest person in the train coming home. And to think, just about three weeks ago it was thought that this young lady was in a dying condition. The case is remarkable. Miss Cora Turner, aged 19 years, an orphan, is living with her relatives near Carlisle. Three years ago she commenced to complain about various stomach troubles. Home remedies failed to relieve her so the best medical attention was obtained, yet she grew worse. Her color was becoming a deadly yellow, the whites of her eyes even became yellow, her tongue was always dreadfully coated, her appetite was poor, she was becoming more nervous, despondent and irritable each day. Her stomach would bloat and she would have severe pain in her sides and across her back. Her condition became pitiable and her life was despaired of. She sent for a treatment of Quaker Extract and Oil of Balm, and again the most wonderful remedies displayed their marvelous power, for—to and behold—four days after taking Quaker she expelled fourteen stomach worms, all of which were over six inches long. These were the cause of her three years of suffering, and Quaker, by removing the cause, cured her. The worms were brought to the drug store, where they are now creating much interest. Miss Turner is gaining in flesh daily, and is now a hale, hearty, happy young lady. If you suffer from rheumatism, catarrh, kidney, liver, stomach or blood troubles, call at W. H. Kennedy's, 30 South Third street.—Advertisement.
