

PENROSE PRAISED BY THE COLONEL

Letter Shows How He Appreciated What Was Done For Him When He Ran in 1904

Joseph R. Grundy, of Bucks county, a warm supporter of Senator Penrose, in a letter to the New York Sun says it is unfair to accuse the Senator of the loss of Pennsylvania to the Republican party two years ago. He goes back to 1904 with the following statement:

"Senator Penrose was at that time chairman of the Republican State committee and had been chairman of it for more than a year. Every particle of the work done for Roosevelt in this State was done by Mr. Penrose and the half-million majority received by the Republican presidential candidates here in 1904 was no more to be attributed to Senator Quay than it was to Simon Cameron.

"As evidence of that fact let me quote a letter of acknowledgement sent by President Roosevelt himself to Senator Penrose:

"My Dear Senator Penrose: Upon my word! Of all phenomenal returns, the Pennsylvania returns are most phenomenal! I congratulate and cordially thank you. Faithfully yours,

THEODORE ROOSEVELT."

"As for the Progressive vote in Pennsylvania two years ago, it would be as unfair to lay that at the door of Senator Penrose as it would be to assert that Senator Root was responsible for the loss of New York State in 1912. You know, of course, that only two States in the Union, Vermont and Utah, remained in the Republican column, and to assume on the strength of that temporary aberration that Republican principles are dead in Pennsylvania or that Senator Penrose estranged the voters of his party is to convict The Sun of an unwillingness to recognize the facts.

"To all unprejudiced observers there must be very much more significance in the statement that Senator Penrose received, at a contested State primary election, within 55,614 as many Republican votes as Mr. Taft got at the presidential election in 1912. He received almost twice as many votes as his successful Democratic rival and he received five and one-half times more votes than his Washington rival, Gifford Pinchot."

GETTYSBURG EXERCISES

Special to The Telegraph
Gettysburg, Pa., June 11.—At a meeting of the board of trustees of Gettysburg College on Tuesday, Professor E. M. Wing, of Cornell University, was elected acting professor of electrical and mechanical engineering. The junior oratorical contest for the Reddig prize of $25 was won by Hubert Luther McCherry, of North Washington, with honorable mention of James Milton Lotz, of Altoona. The senior class day exercises took place on the campus and in the evening the president's annual reception was held. Class reunions and banquets were held in the evening.

Passing Impressions of Finance

By H. L. Bennet

If, in our quest of what has caused business to suffer from so many sinking spells recently, we dig no further than the surface symptoms, we can remain content with the explanation advanced by President Wilson that the trouble has been and is still merely psychological. Unfortunately, the average business man holds a different view. His heart purses and the increasing difficulty he encounters in making a decent profit, tells him in an impressive and more matter of fact way that there is something wrong. No amount of faith in an opposite view can correct the condition. It is confidence that is missing. As long as industry and commerce are uncertain, and to the extent that Mother Grundy down in Washington threatens to regulate them, they hesitate to forge ahead.

As long as the political diagnosticians keep stirring the agitation that there is slight hope for an early recovery in business. Regulation is a good thing; so is a good piece of steak. Either, however, can be overdone. Regulation within reason is helpful and constructive, but the very moment we endeavor to regulate almost every human action, it is almost certain that we shall bind human energy with so many things that it will be unable to move about. A starved individual will regard a savory meal as if it were manna from above, but allow him to gorge himself without stopping to acquire another appetite and a stomach pump will be needed for his relief. The simile may be drawn out, but it has all the elements of truth.

The Seven Sisters' bills which put New Jersey prominently on the political map and placed her most eminent son, Woodrow Wilson in the White House, have a worthy imitator in the anti-trust bills which the President is sponsoring and which the lower house has passed almost without opposition. It now remains to be seen whether the Senate will give the bill to regulate big business. The measure did not go through as originally designed for at the last moment the friends of labor secured the ascendancy over the minds of the members of the House. The alternatives and the section which made labor and the farmers amenable to the terms of the bill was eliminated. Not in many years has Congress stood before such a piece of class legislation, where one class of men must advance to an enlargement of national policing whilst another class is allowed to go scot free. Such laws are not just; they are inequitable.

Amid all this raval there is at least a grain of comfort in the knowledge that Congress must soon adjourn and for a few months there will be peace and freedom from agitation. After that comes the election which may put a different political complexion on the next national assembly by replacing many of the theorists and dreamers with more able balanced men who do not always think that the whole business structure is a fabrication of rottenness. The New Haven inquiry is near an end and we shall not have to listen to one big rich man calling another big rich man "You're a l-t-c." We are also getting nearer to some decision on the rate increase question which the Commerce Commission has taken almost a year to decide. Beyond that looms up more encouraging than any other favorable sign the prospect for a generous harvest so that if the present portends read aright the last half of the year may develop into a real business boom.

The warm fight now being waged between the Toledo City officials and the local traction company over the question of a three cent all around fare is beginning to attract national attention. Especially for the owners and operators of public service corporations is this contest of more than passing interest as it involves problems which some day or other they may have to face and on its outcome they will have to guide their policies when in a like situation. Henry L. Doherty, the president of the Toledo Traction Company, is fighting tooth and nail for what he contends is but a square deal. He is the Sir Satchel of the public service interests of the country the man daring enough and willing enough to go to the front to battle for their rights.
