USE "TIZ" IF FEET ACHIE, BURN, PUFF UP

Can't beat "TIZ" for sore, tired, sweaty, calloused feet or corns.

"Sure! I use 'TIZ' every time for any foot trouble."

You can be happy-footed just like me. Use "TIZ" and never suffer with tender, raw, burning, blistered, swollen, tired, smelly feet. "TIZ" and only "TIZ" takes the pain and soreness out of corns, callouses and bunions. As soon as you put your feet in a "TIZ" bath, you just feel the happiness soaking in. How good your poor, old feet feel. They want to dance for joy. "TIZ" is grand. "TIZ" instantly draws out all the poisonous excretions which puff up your feet and cause sore, inflamed, aching, sweaty, smelly feet. Get a 25 cent box of "TIZ" at any drug store or department store. Get instant foot relief. Laugh at foot sufferers who complain. Because your feet are never, never going to bother or make you limp any more.—Advertisement.

OLD DONEGAL PRESBYTERIAN CHURCH

Congregation Organized in 1714 Holds Annual Reunion

First Church Built in 1722 and Present One in 1730; Men Took Prominent Part in Revolutionary War

Special to The Telegraph. Marietta, Pa., June 17.—To-day the congregation of the Old Donegal Presbyterian Church held its annual reunion. All day trains, trolley cars, automobiles and carriages were headed that way, and many walked. Every year the interest grows more and more, and the committees in charge to-day were well repaid for their efforts, as it was predicted that the largest crowd in the history of the events would be present. The pastor of this church is the Rev. Frank C. Bossert, who has in connection with it the church of the same denomination at Mount Joy. The first session to-day was held at 11 o'clock presided over by ex-Congressman H. Burd Cassel, of Marietta. The program included: Invocation by the Rev. Frank C. Bossert; address, B. C. Atlee, of Lancaster; songs, Miss Mary B. Detweiler, of Mt. Joy; paper, John Scott and the Public Schools, by Bernard J. Myers, of Marietta; address, Charles H. Gordinier, A. M., ph. D., of Millersville. Immediately following the exercises a recess for dinner was held, and a trip made around the cemetery where are buried heroes of many wars. The ancestors of ex-President McKinley worshipped at this church, and some of the descendants are buried there. At 2 o'clock was held the meeting of the Donegal Society, organized three years ago to perpetrate the memory of the old Donegal church, to collect relics, antiques, souvenirs, to consign to the church and members of the church years ago, to preserve and beautify the graveyard, and to carry on the annual reunion. It was presided over by Miss Martha Bladen Clark. All persons of Donegal descent or individuals interested in Donegal are eligible to membership. To-day a number of new relics were added to the large collection. At 3 o'clock the Witness Tree Chapter, Daughters of the American Revolutionary, held its session, and it was presided over by Miss Eleanor Jane Fulton, of Lancaster, regent of Donegal Chapter. This evening at 7:30 o'clock, a session will be held to be presided over by the Rev. James S. Armentrout. The reunion committee consisted of the Rev. Frank C. Bossert, Mt. Joy; Miss Martha B. Clark, Lancaster; Miss Rebecca J. Slaymaker, Lancaster; Miss Mary B. Detweiler, at Mt. Joy; Amos Gish, Elizabethtown; Mrs. Zook Mt. Joy; Benjamin F. Hoffman, Baldrige; Miss Bertha B. Heisey, Rheems; and Miss Mary Summy, Marietta. Donegal Church is the oldest Presbyterian church of this section. The great-grandfather of William McKinley was a worshiper here. In the Revolutionary War Donegal sent nearly all its male members to the army and seventeen of them held the rank of colonel, and many minor officers. The congregation was organized in 1714, when Andrew Galbraith rode to New Castle on the Delaware, and asked the authorities of the Presbyterian church that a minister be sent to this section to establish a church. Two ministers were sent back with him to preach. The first church was built in 1722 from logs hewn in the forest of Donegal, and the building was very small. The congregation grew rapidly and a new one was started in 1730 the present building was erected. The church is built of stone with plaster finish on the exterior. The floor is made of large square red brick, and the work was all done by the members of the congregation. The interior was very plainly finished, the seats were very high and the backs were twice as high as the pews of to-day. In front of the church is still standing the huge oak commonly known as "Witness Tree," due to the fact that under it the members of the congregation took the oath of allegiance to the thirteen colonies. Under this tree Alexander Lowery assembled his troops to go to the battle of Brandywine. From time to time the tree has been trimmed and the wood used in making trinkets, gavels and other things, and many visitors secure either a piece of bark or a sprig from it. The local daughters of the American Revolutionary some time ago erected a monument to the memory of the soldiers buried in the graveyard. The church is only a short distance from the home of ex-United States Senator J. Donald Cameron, and to-day he was among the guests. The spot is a mecca for sightseers at any time. Among the places represented to-day were Washington, Lancaster, Harrisburg, Philadelphia, York, Rheems, Elizabethtown, Marietta, Columbia, Pittsburgh and other places.

Chickens, Pigeons and Ducks Furnish Eggs For Patients

Waynesboro, Pa., June 17.—A busy place at the White Pine Sanatorium at Mont Alto is the poultry yards, presided over by Levi Waganman. The henry now contains 996 chickens and about 1,300 small chicks. Between forty and forty-three dozens of eggs are gathered each day and fed to patients—which, by the way, is not nearly the quantity consumed each day by the several hundred patients at the institution. Besides these, there are about 1,000 pigeons and hundreds of ducks. The fowls are all used for the sick at the big tubercular sufferers' camp.

ESCAPED LUNATIC CAPTURED

Sunbury, Pa., June 17.—Marion Reed, who escaped from the Morris-town, N. J., insane asylum more than a week ago, was caught in Sunbury by Police Chief Merrill Shannon, and sent back to the institution. He is asserted by the authorities there to be a dangerous firebug, and a man who is anything but safe to be at large.

150 DELEGATES AT C. E. CONVENTION

Annual Meeting Being Held in United Brethren Church at New Cumberland

New Cumberland, Pa., June 17.—One hundred and fifty delegates and a number of visitors are in New Cumberland, attending the annual Christian Endeavor convention. The auditorium of Trinity United Brethren church is prettily decorated with the colors of the society, purple and yellow, and also the social room of the church were dinner and supper is served to the delegates. The convention opened yesterday afternoon with a good attendance. At last evening's session, the large audience applauded the excellent music rendered by the conference quartet who sang several selections with much expression. The address of the evening by the Rev. G. D. Gossard, D. D., president of Lebanon Valley College, was very brilliant and instructive. In his address he said the church and school stand together and how good rules in all things in each vocation in life which can be accomplished by perseverance. He said it took a century for an oak to grow and develop and only three months for a squash. At the close of the address, the Rev. Mr. Gossard told the delegates of Lebanon Valley College and said they needed a larger building to meet the demand.

SONS OF VETERANS BEING INSPECTED

Regimental Drills and Big Sham Battle at Military Gathering Near Selinsgrove

Special to The Telegraph. Selinsgrove, Pa., June 17.—Following the inspection yesterday of the Sixth and Second Regiments, Major E. R. Campbell, this morning inspected the Third, this command having the largest number of men on its muster rolls. The accountants and uniform of each citizen soldier were gone over with a critical eye by the inspector general. The inspector expressed himself as well pleased with the behavior of the men generally and declared he noticed a marked improvement over last year, due to hard drilling during the winter months. Regimental drills were in order after inspection and kept the men busy until noon mess. This afternoon, it is understood, the line officers under Brigadier General Stewart will make an inspection of the surrounding country and map out a field for the big sham battle on Friday afternoon. Tomorrow a grand review of the Sons of Veterans Reserves will be held at Selinsgrove and not on the camp grounds. Governor John K. Tener and United States Senator Penrose will be present to review the men.

Maryland Couple Come to Pennsylvania For Wedding

Special to The Telegraph. Hagerstown, Md., June 17.—Announcement is made of the wedding of Miss Emma M. Mentzer, the attractive daughter of Mr. and Mrs. William B. Mentzer, of Williamsport, and M. Paul Middlekauff, of this city, which took place six months ago in Chambersburg, Pa., and was kept a secret until this time. The ceremony took place December 30, 1913, at the Lutheran parsonage in Chambersburg and was performed by the Rev. G. C. Roth, pastor. The young couple reversed the usual order of things and quietly crossed the Mason and Dixon Line into Pennsylvania, to be made man and wife, with Mr. and Mrs. Harry O. Barnes as the witnesses.

Over thirty years of public favor for Wilbur Cocoa

ALL this rests on quality—the unfailing quality which you are sure of because the Wilbur's make it sure for you. They select the finest cocoa beans, and grind and blend them to secure just the right richness and choiceness of flavor and aroma—the natural chocolate taste and body, and with that the natural healthfulness of nature's pure cocoa.

Doesn't this tempt you? You can make it easily. A tall glass of foamy, cold, creamy Wilbur Cocoa. Just put a piece of ice in glass, add two tablespoons Wilbur Cocoa Syrup, fill with cold milk or water. It's cooling and good. Make Wilbur Cocoa Syrup this way and have it ready for other uses: 1 cup Wilbur Cocoa, 2 cups sugar, 2 cups water; ½ teaspoon salt. Put the water and sugar in saucepan, stir until dissolved, put on fire and boil five minutes; mix Wilbur Cocoa with cold water to make a paste and add to boiling water and sugar; boil slowly for ten minutes; add the salt. When cold put into bottles or glass jar in the refrigerator.

Ask your grocer, or write us a postal card, for "Cook's Tours Through Wilburland"—a little book of cocoa surprises and delights for all occasions.
