

BIG FOUR DIVIDES UP PATRONAGE FOR KEYSTONE STATE

Democratic Bosses Save Wilson the Trouble of Awarding Spoils to Democrats

DAUPHIN IS TAKEN CARE OF Post Offices and Revenue Jobs Will Be Filled Promptly— Campaign Starts Early

Special to The Telegraph Philadelphia, June 22.—Four men, two candidates for election in November, one the official "headsman" of the Post Office Department and another a would-be attorney general, are sitting around a table at a hotel here to-day dividing up the federal patronage of Pennsylvania for President Woodrow Wilson. They are engaged in the sort of thing which used to cause Democratic editors to rave about division of spoils and which brought out caustic remarks from eminent reformers and publicists before they got into office.

The conference is being held by the same four men who made up the primary slate for Pennsylvania and took it over to the White House one evening last spring to have Wilson to rubber stamp it. Incidentally, the "Big Four" slated two of their own number—A. Mitchell Palmer for senator and Vance C. McCormick for governor—thus achieving the goal of years of scheming and plotting for the apportionment of money. The men in conference are Palmer, McCormick, James I. Blaklee, Fourth Assistant Postmaster General, and Roland S. Morris, Democratic State chairman, and the man who put through the platform scheme which was denounced in the recent meeting of the Democratic State committee as "a cheap and mean deal."

Quite Frank About It "The 'Big Four' is quite frank about what it is doing. There is no denial that 'plans' for the campaign are being made and that the apportionment of offices is part of the plan. The four met last evening when the church bells were ringing and decided how to divide the offices. They went at it again to-day. They realize that the exigencies of the campaign in face of business depression and arrogant running of a State machine require work on Sunday eve and Monday morn."

Palmer's Ideas Congressman Palmer got the publicity for the four. He did not give the others a chance. Palmer said that he thought the campaign should start about September 1 and that the machine shop in Harrisburg would be the headquarters, with branches in Philadelphia, Pittsburgh and such other ports as would need cargoes of cash. Incidentally, Palmer gave the interesting information that the party is not harmonious now, but will be in November. He had the news from New York and other counties ringing in his ears when he said that and he was not very comfortable about it when he got up this morning for the reason for his belief that things will be better in November is that Wilson will come into the State and bring his Cabinet with him. Whether the people of the Keystone State will stand for psychological arguments and empty pockets is doubted.

DESERTED IN NEW HAVEN Now Charges Spouse With Marrying Southern Woman Without a Divorce

Special to The Telegraph Waycross, Ga., June 22.—Two wives of R. A. Dunn, one of whom he married in Harrisburg twelve years ago, met in the office of the sheriff here. They had nothing to say to each other of their marital troubles, each contenting herself with a stony stare at the other.

The prosecution was started by Mrs. Dunn No. 1, who before her marriage was Miss Notie Bena Letzell, promiscuous Savannah church circles, being an active worker in Pine Street Presbyterian Church. Her marriage to Dunn, who at that time gave his place of residence as Philadelphia, was performed by the Rev. Isaac N. Bagley in Harrisburg, February 20, 1902.

After residing in Harrisburg for a few months Dunn took his wife to New Haven, Conn. About four years later he came to Georgia, leaving his wife behind. Mrs. Dunn asserts that at first her husband intended her to join him, but that later her clothes, which she had sent to Savannah preparatory to coming south, were returned to New Haven with a curt message that she should stay there.

No. 2 Claims Love The Savannah wife says Dunn loves her and will return to her when he is out of his present trouble. "I love him, too," she said, "and am sorry he has made such a mistake. I have no censure for him, however."

The first wife says she is afraid of Dunn. She says she thinks if he should desert her alone some Waycross undertaker would have to bury her.

He made this clear to callers to-day but refused to go into details. The treaties are pending before the foreign relations committee, before which Secretary Bryan again appeared to-day to continue his explanation. There is some opposition to the proposed payment of $25,000,000 to Colombia, and to features of the Nicaraguan treaty, which some Senators contend would work unduly to sustain the present government there.

Murderer Will Go to His Death in Chair He Helped to Build

Evansville, Ind., June 22.—Robert Collier, a negro, sentenced to death here last week for the murder of Patrolman John Cain, will go to his death Friday, October 16, in the electric chair he helped install at Michigan City.

Collier was released from the Michigan City prison last February when he was serving a sentence for assault and battery with intent to kill. He was suffering with tuberculosis and was sent home to die. One of his last supporters at the penitentiary was helping to construct the death chair.

Collier shows no sign of fear at his approaching death. "Yes, sir," he smiled in his cell in the county jail. "I helped build the chair and I was the first man to sit in it after it was completed. Now I'm going to spend my last moment in it. I am going to the chair happy as a bird."

LAUNCH CAPSIZES IN OSWEGO CANAL AND 12 PERSONS LOSE LIVES

Twenty Passengers Rode in Little Vessel Licensed to Carry Not More Than Ten

Syracuse, N. Y., June 22.—An investigation of the launch accident, which resulted in the drowning of twelve people in the Oswego canal last night is being made under the direction of Coroner Moore.

There were twenty passengers on the boat and it was reported to-day that the craft was licensed to carry not more than ten passengers. It was raining at the time of the accident and the canvas curtains had been pulled down and buttoned securely, so that the boat proved a death trap for its passengers.

Seven children are numbered among the victims. Three women and two men were also drowned. Only one of the children on the boat at the time of the accident was saved.

Lewis Dainer, owner of the launch, said to-day that he was not more than fifteen feet from the bank, that there were sufficient life preservers on the boat to accommodate all aboard and that all would have been saved but for the rain and the being so dark made it impossible to see the people struggling in the water. Dainer said that his boat struck some object in the canal causing the launch to overturn. He could not say what the object was. Two of Dainer's children are among the victims.

The dead: Mrs. George H. Adams, 26 Syracuse; Genevieve Adams, 1 year old; Lillian Adams, 4; Margaret Adams, 5, all children of Mrs. Adams; Mrs. Harry Welsh, 25, Syracuse; Katherine Welsh, 1 year old; John Mogg, 38, Syracuse; Florence Dainer, 12, Syracuse; Earl Dainer, 10; Charles Schultz, 22, Syracuse; Miss Mabel Tibbets, 26, Syracuse; Howard Cranz, 3, Liverpool.

President Wilson Talks About "Psychological" Business Depression

Washington, D. C., June 22.—Discussing the so-called "psychological" business depression with callers to-day, President Wilson declared he had no quarrel with any persons or corporations who desired to express their opinion to him or to Congress their own opinions on business conditions and anti-trust legislation, but he contended that systematic circulation of form letters and telegrams protesting against new legislation was "certainly open to criticism."

The President said that all he wanted was a square deal and that everything should be open and above board. Telegrams and letters sent broadcast to be signed and forwarded to government officials constituted an artificial campaign, he believed.

Confirmation of Reserve Board Will Be Sought

Washington, D. C., June 22.—Searching the records of the five men President Wilson has nominated for the Federal Reserve Board began to-day in the Senate banking committee, but no formal action was taken.

Friends of the administration indicated they would press for early confirmation of the nominees and several senators seemed satisfied with President Wilson's explanation of how Thomas D. Jones, of Chicago, came to own one share of stock in the International Harvester Company.

The President wrote to Senator Owen that Mr. Jones owned the stock merely to qualify as a director and that he entered the harvester board to correct conditions the government is now fighting through the Department of Justice.

Schenectady Girl May Have Been Murdered

Schenectady, N. Y., June 22.—Police to-day began a search for Theresa Faust, a 16-year-old girl, who has been missing from her home here more than three weeks, in the belief that she might be the victim in the Mohawk river murder mystery.

According to Miss Faust's parents, she wore a pink undergarment when last seen and a piece of such a garment was found with the torso taken from the river last Friday.

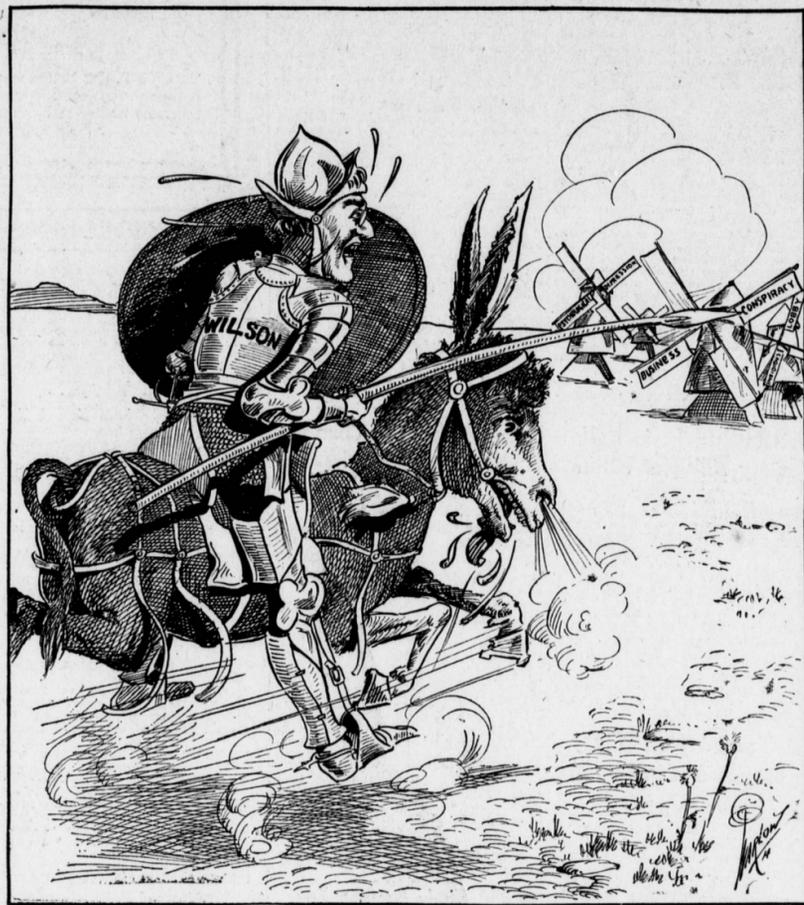

The parents of the Faust girl were unable to give the authorities many details of her disappearance. She simply dropped out of sight. She had no reason for leaving home, they say.

Search also still is being prosecuted for Miss Sarah Meader, who disappeared on May 25.

TILTING AT WINDMILLS

BOTH FACTIONS IN MEXICO MAY TAKE PART IN CONFERENCE

Success of Latest Plans Evolved at Niagara Falls Is Now Being Awaited

AMERICANS FAVOR MOVEMENT

Advantage of New Arrangement Is That Meetings Can Be Held While Fighting Is Going On

Niagara Falls, Ont., June 22.—Actual negotiations between representatives of the two fighting factions in Mexico in an effort to agree on an individual truce, the provision of which is the latest plan which the mediators have evolved for the solution of the Mexican problem.

Just how the two elements will be drawn together remains a secret to-day, but it became known that strong pressure had been brought to bear on General Carranza, through the American government, and that the mediators had persuaded the Huerta government to come into the plan.

Informal parleys between the representatives of the two factions outside of the formal mediation proceedings, but with the counsel and advice of the American delegates, is the object of the new plan. This move was adopted as a last resort to every effort to get the Constitutionalists to agree to an armistice as desired by the mediators having failed.

The Will sanction Agreement The appeal which is said to have influenced both the factions is that the Mexicans themselves must save their country from further bloodshed by each making certain sacrifices, but neither side will be asked to abandon the principles for which they have been contending. It will be several days before the plans will materialize and Constitutional delegates can arrive.

The determination seems to be to leave the question of a provisional president to the two Mexican factions to decide. Any agreement which they may reach will be sanctioned by the American government.

The advantage of the new plan, it is said, is that the conferences will be held in a neutral zone.

Transcontinental Roads Win Their Fight For Title to Oil Lands

Washington, D. C., June 22.—Transcontinental railways won their fight for title to some $700,000,000 worth of oil lands when the Supreme Court to-day held void the clause in the patents making the land revert to the government if found to contain minerals.

The court held that the patents were irregular, but that they could not be attacked collaterally by either claimants—but could only be set aside by a direct attack by the government.

Justice Vandevanter, for the court, incidentally emphasized the claim that the government's time in which it could attack the patents had expired in 1900 or 1901.
