Ten Minks Visit Poultry Yards and Kill Chickens

Mother, Three Feet Long, and Her Little Ones Play Havoc in Mrs. Ditch's Coops at Pen-Mar

Special to The Telegraph
Waynesboro, Pa., June 22.—For the past several weeks Mrs. D. M. Ditch, of the Wayside cottage, Pen-Mar, Md., has been missing young chickens from her coops almost nightly and could not fathom the cause of the removal of the chickens as the door of the house that surrounded the coops did not bear any marks of having been tampered with by chicken thieves.

Recently the coops were again visited and when Mrs. Ditch opened up the chicken house Sunday morning she found thirty-seven of her chickens, about the size of partridges, lying in a heap in the pen.

She knew then that a mink was responsible for the deaths of the chickens, as their necks had been chewed up, showing that the mink killed the fowls by grasping their necks in his mouth and then sucking the blood from their bodies. This operation the animal had performed on all of them.

Mrs. Ditch also discovered that the mink had gained entrance to the place by tunneling from the outside and coming up through the dirt floor.

Mrs. Ditch thought she would prevent further onslaught upon the chickens by having a galvanized roof flooring placed in the henry.

This seemed of no avail, as Sunday night the mink came back to the premises and succeeded in working a hole through the floor and killed twenty more of Mrs. Ditch's chickens in the same manner as before.

Yesterday morning Fred Gallion, superintendent of the Rouzeville Water Company, which furnishes water to the cottages of Pen-Mar during the summer, saw the mink that killed Mrs. Ditch's chickens near her premises.

It was going in the direction of its haunts in a huge rock near the reservoir of the water company. With the animal were nine little minks, the mother and her family, all of which had spent the night feasting on Mrs. Ditch's chickens, and were then homeward bound.

Mr. Gallion said he was going to annihilate Mrs. Mink and her family to-morrow by the use of dynamite, which he was going to place in the opening of the rocks that led to the minks' abode and set it off. He said the mink was as fine a specimen as he ever saw and would measure at least three feet in length.

PAINS AROUND THE HEART

When the action of the stomach is weakened by debility or defective nerve force the food is retained until it ferments. Gas forms and presses on the other organs, particularly the heart, the pains in that region often causing a fear of heart trouble. Organic heart disease rarely causes pain around the heart and when this symptom is noted you should try toning up your digestion before giving way to needless alarm.

Dr. Williams' Pink Pills are a tonic that directly affects the organs of digestion. They supply to the stomach the rich, red blood without which normal digestion is impossible. They awaken into activity the gastric glands and strengthen the muscles of the stomach and give the nerve force necessary to proper digestion and assimilation. With this blood and weak nerves it is impossible to avoid stomach trouble. Build up the blood and strengthen the nerves and note the increased appetite, the comfortable feeling after eating and the improvement in health and vigor.

Two books "Building Up the Blood" and "What to Eat and How to Eat" will be sent free on request by the Dr. Williams' Medicine Co., Schenectady, N. Y. Dr. Williams' Pink Pills are for sale in every drug store.—Advertisement.

"Tea and Coffee are just as harmful to children as alcohol is to grown-ups," says Dr. Charlotte Abbey, superintendent of the Women's Directory, New York.

The reason why coffee and tea injure anybody is because these beverages contain the poisonous drug, caffeine, (from 1/4 to 3 grains to the cup), which physicians have long known affects the heart, stomach and liver.

Children especially, with their delicate nerves, are susceptible to the action of caffeine, and should never be allowed to have tea or coffee or any other beverage containing drugs.

Thousands of adults have found that their headaches, nervousness, indigestion and sleeplessness have vanished when a change was made from coffee and tea to
