

DERRY ST. BLOCK GETS ANOTHER ROW

Four Houses to Go Up in Square That Has Been Built Mostly Within Past Two Years

The construction of another row of houses on the south side of Derry street in the 2100 block is announced to-day. Four three-story brick dwellings will be erected by Peter Vanderloo. The houses will be mansard-roofed and will make an attractive appearance, adding another substantial lot of dwellings to a square that has been built up practically within the past two years.

Progress in building in this direction has been marked during the past few years, and while the section is not as yet entirely built up, it is predicted that it will be within a few years a solidly built up portion of the city. As it is on the crest of the hill and within a few minutes' ride of either the business section of town or the outlying country and Paxtang Park, it should prove attractive as a place to live in.

Construction on the latest row of houses, which will occupy 2141-3-5-7 Derry street, will be begun in the near future. The operation will cost in the neighborhood of $10,000.

URGE "SAFETY FIRST"

The Bell Telephone Company of Pennsylvania, which organized a "Safety First" movement and has adopted the slogan "Get the Habit" in connection with that movement, has distributed a celluloid pocket calendar among all the drivers of company-owned motor vehicles. The caution contained on the back of this calendar cover all points relative to accidents, their causes and prevention.

COURT REPORTERS TO MEET HERE

Court reporters from all over Pennsylvania will meet in this city, July 8, at a convention of the stenographers. An interesting program is being planned.

NO MOVIE VIEWS OF HALL'S HANGING

Theaters, Jail Officials and Sheriff Also Deny Current Story

Inquiry at all the city's moving picture managements, jail officials and the sheriff developed the fact to-day that there is no truth in the report that a moving picture operator on Wednesday took pictures of the execution of Pascal Hall and would soon place the reels on exhibition. It is a fact, however, that a "movie" operator got a picture of the crowds in front of the jail and a picture of the removal of the gallows, some time after the execution. However, these views, it is said, are to be preserved from a historical viewpoint, inasmuch as the execution of Hall may be the last hanging in the county.

The report that a moving picture series of the execution itself had been taken got about pretty generally, however. In this connection the Colored Voters' Energetic League of Dauphin County adopted resolutions deprecating the display of any moving pictures of the hanging of Pascal Hall. Here are the resolutions:

Whereas it has been brought to our attention that one or more of the moving picture concerns of the city of Harrisburg, having taken views of the hanging of Pascal Hall in the courtyard of Dauphin county prison on Wednesday, June 24, which views they intend to display in the various moving picture houses of the city, and

Whereas we think such pictures are undoubtedly injurious to the morals of the community, and

Whereas we, as the better class of negroes of the city, regret the necessity of such hangings, and

Resolved, That we, the members of the Colored Voters' Energetic League of the County of Dauphin, do vehemently protest against the exhibition of these views, and invoke the aid of all fair and right minded citizens, the members of the Police Department, the members of the City Council and the State Board of Censorship in our protest. (Signed) L. D. KANE, C. E. DIGGS, L. L. NEWMAN, Committee.

TO BUILD STORAGE WAREHOUSE

Harry Hush will soon begin the erection of a big storage warehouse at 230 North Court street. The building will replace a three-story brick destroyed by fire last April. It will cost $5,000.

Many Interesting Features in 101 Ranch Wild West Show

CHIEF IRON TAIL

With 101 Ranch Show Arrangements have been completed for a return engagement of Miller Brothers and Arlington's 101 Ranch Wild West show to Harrisburg Monday, July 6.

Particular interest attaches to the coming of the 101 Ranch Wild West Show this season because it is probable that several years will elapse before the next visit of this popular and typical exhibition to this city. If negotiations which are now pending are completed it is probable that the show will make an extensive tour of England, Continental Europe and other countries.

In view of the return engagement of the show, the management announces that the exhibition still adheres to the original policy of presenting a characteristic wild west program, and eliminating circus features. The only innovations are a band of Cossacks, whose rough-riding furnishes an interesting comparison to the riding of the American cowboys, and the new auto polo sensation. This is a game of polo, in which racing machines instead of ponies are utilized, and it is said to have created a furore elsewhere. The wild west spirit is retained, however, even in this feature, for chauffeurs and mallet-men are all cowboys and learned the trick of handling the machines and "fighting for the ball" on the 101 Ranch at Bliss, Oklahoma, last winter.

There is a romance about the old days on the plains that can never be entirely destroyed; the old frontiers, with their long hair and deer-skin coats; the trappers; the overland mail coach drivers; the wild Indians of the prairies—these all have their fascination for the student of events as well as for the lover of strenuous, wholesome amusement. But, after all, the modern cowboy, although lacking in the numbers that characterized the old days, is cleverer than the cowboy of twenty years ago. There are roping feats, exploited in the 101 Ranch show, by cowboys and cowgirls, that would have been considered outside the range of possibility a few years ago. There are tricks of riding—daring exploits upon outlaw horses and reckless disregard of life and limb that have never hitherto been equaled.

The 101 Ranch, it is announced, offers an especially interesting congress this season. There are sixty-five Sioux Indians and a big company of representatives from other noted types, led by Iron Tail, the old Sioux chief, who is probably the best known Indian in America. Iron Tail's profile is on the new nickel.—Advertisement.

The second plan would retain the strong members of the group of stores and provide for the liquidation of the others. The third proposal provides for the taking over of the stores by the banks of the cities in which they are located. The banks would then determine whether individual reorganization should be brought about.

Plans Are Being Made For Reorganization of H. B. Clafin Company

New York, June 27.—While no definite plans have been decided upon for the reorganization of the H. B. Clafin company, which went into the hands of receivers on Thursday, three possibilities are said to be under consideration.

The first of these provides for an actual consolidation of the Clafin chain of stores, instead of having the union vested in stock ownership by John Clafin. This plan would make the New York house in effect a purchasing agency for the retail stores and cut it off from relations with any other stores.

The second plan would retain the strong members of the group of stores and provide for the liquidation of the others.

The third proposal provides for the taking over of the stores by the banks of the cities in which they are located. The banks would then determine whether individual reorganization should be brought about.

50 STATE BANKS BECOME RESERVE BANK MEMBERS

Washington, D. C., June 27.—Fifty State banks and trust companies all told have qualified for membership in federal reserve banks as against 7,500 national banks.

This small number of State institutions in the new federal banking plan is due chiefly to State laws forbidding State banks to acquire stock in other corporations. There are only twenty States in which the Treasury department officials are absolutely certain it is possible for State banking institutions to become members of the new federal reserve banks without some modification of the laws.
