SPECIAL ELECTION BY BABY BOROUGH

Paxtang Residents Will Decide on Nominees—Bailey Won't Be Burgess

Paxtang will likely hold a special election of officials to conduct the affairs of the new baby borough until the November election when permanent officers will be selected.

That no officers will be nominated for appointment by the court has been practically decided upon and the time for holding the special election will be one of the questions that will be disposed of at the meeting of the citizens to-morrow evening. At this meeting, however, the election board and the place for holding the special election—all of which will be incorporated in the decree to be issued by the court—will be decided upon. The formal decree of incorporation will likely be asked for the latter part of this week.

Another matter that will be decided upon to-morrow evening will be the question of whether the burgess will be a member of council or whether his office will be ex-officio councilman. Despite general reports to the contrary, it was definitely learned today that County Treasurer Arthur H. Bailey will not be a candidate for the office of burgess.

Tax Collector of Hummelstown—Frank G. Wheeler was appointed tax collector of Hummelstown to-day. His term of office will run from July 1 to October 31.

To Open and Grade Whitehall St.—The Dauphin county court was petitioned by City Solicitor D. S. Seitz today to appoint a board of viewers to decide upon the opening and grading of Whitehall street from Market to Prospect.

Transfer Progress License.—The transfer of the license of the Hotel Progress, Progress, from Anthony B. Harlaeker and Anthony Bonitz to Anthony B. Harlaeker alone, was granted to-day by the Dauphin county court.

Wants $1,000 For Slander.—Suit for $1,000 for alleged slander was filed to-day by Lena Sobel against Miss Celia.

Must Make Pipe Connections.—Property owners abutting on Emerald street from Front to Fifth, Nineteenth from Market to Regina, Apricot alley from Front to 7th, and 7th from Hornet, Wengert alley from 103 feet west of Fifteenth to Sixteenth, and Whistler alley from Apricot to Wengert alley, have been notified by City Engineer M. B. Clevinger to make the necessary sewer, water, gas and steam heating pipe connections preparatory to the start of paving operations, within sixty days.

Fort Hunter License Transfer July 6.—July 6 has been fixed for the hearing before the Dauphin county court of the application of Walter C. Baskin for the transfer to him of the license of the Fort Hunter hotel now held by Harry B. Gladfelter. The application has been presented by Attorney Charles C. Stroh.

The class members are Miss Marian Whittaker, Miss Sarah Rauch, Miss Mary Middleton, Miss Edith Denny, Miss Georgia Bailey, Miss Bertha Hozentogler, Miss Sara Clark, Miss Martha Creawell, Miss Sarah Gerberich and Miss Mary Emily Bailey.

Mrs. Frank L. Cook of the Etter Apartments, Pine street, returned last evening after a month's stay with relatives at her former home in Goshen, Ind.

Miss Elizabeth Tate and Miss Catherine Campbell, of Parkersburg, West Va., are visiting Miss Mary Sponser at 105 Chestnut street.

Mrs. Frank A. Gibson, of 1525 North Second street, is entertaining her daughter, Mrs. John Beecher, of Philadelphia, and her little girl.

John Harold Fox, of 212 Pine street, a Munceton student, went to Altoona to-day to take a summer position with the Bell Telephone Company.

"LUCILLE LOVE" AT THE PALACE

After she is abducted from the ocean liner on its arrival at San Francisco, Lucille is hurried to Hugo Loubeque's home by his accomplice. Although Loubeque treats his pretty captive kindly, she is never left unguarded. Never had a successful outcome of her mission looked more hopeless.

Captain Clarkson of the liner, is not idle. He locates the house where the girl is held prisoner, and has it surrounded by detectives.

In the meantime Loubeque becomes a victim of his own cleverness. One of the moving floors of his house comes down upon him by accident and crushes him into unconsciousness. Lucille is in his pocket, and is again in possession of the papers. When Loubeque awakens he misses the documents. His plans are interrupted, however, by the arrival of Captain Clarkson and the police. The police allows them to search every nook and corner of the house and they do not find Lucille. Shortly afterwards Lucille communicates with the detectives through the officers of the law their way into the house, and a terrific battle with Loubeque's henchmen follows. In the midst of the fight a rope is dropped to Lucille, and she escapes to the roof. Loubeque is hot on her trail, however. He disables or slays her rescuers, and the fight continues at a dizzy height, over house tops. Lucille at last sees an opening. She climbs down a fire escape and Loubeque does not follow. He has a better plan. He follows her down the fire escape and she follows him into an office building and rejoices at her freedom. She starts down stairs and meets Loubeque coming up.

"You are too much trouble here," comments Loubeque. "I will take you to my ranch in Mexico." Ordinarily, she would have sought safety in flight. Now she seems to sense the futility of such a move. Crestfallen and supine, she follows the man of iron will down the stairs into the street.

Charles Callahan and James Guines of Driftwood, Pa., have returned home after a pleasant stay with friends in this city.

Mr. and Mrs. Homer Day have gone to Philadelphia after a week-end visit with their relatives, Mr. and Mrs. Gerald Day, of Market street.

David Finlay, III, of the Elphinstone apartments, is spending the summer at Camp Awosting, Lake Winnebago, N. Y.

Kaufman's Clean Sweep Sale Starts Tomorrow

On pages four and five of this paper will be found full page announcements of Kaufman's Underselling Store's Clean Sweep Sale, which will begin to-morrow morning at 8:15 o'clock. The store was closed all day from every department, together with arranging stocks and placing them about the store for the convenient inspection of the public.

Full information regarding merchandise which will enter the sale from every department, together with prices will be found by references to the advertisements in this paper. The broom, a regular feature of this semi-annual event, will play an important part in the present occasion, and the first of the broom coupons appears in the advertisement this evening.

Always an important event at the Kaufman store, there will be a concerted effort on the part of heads of departments and management to make this particular occasion the most noteworthy selling event the store has ever held. Each year an effort is put forth to excel the preceding sales with new records, and the successes of the past necessitate extraordinary merchandising conditions to establish a new record in the event which opens to-morrow.
