TANGO WAR HURTS CARLISLE RESORTS

Owners of Parks Must Choose Between Dancers and Church Picnics

Special to The Telegraph Carlisle, Pa., July 8. — Owners of Bolling Springs, Mount Holly, Bellaire and other parks in the vicinity of Carlisle face a peculiar situation as the result of the "tango war" now on here.

In an address before the Sunday school of the First Lutheran Church, the largest in the town, the pastor, the Rev. A. R. Steck, formerly of York, asked that there be no dancing at the annual outing of the school, which will be held at Mount Holly Park tomorrow.

Dr. Steck has the backing of the church council in the move, but the younger members of the congregation, many of whom are among the town's most enthusiastic dancers, are strongly against the proposition.

The movement against dancing was begun by the St. Paul's Lutheran congregation, who at their picnic held some weeks ago refused to take the park if dancing was allowed.

The same stand is taken by the Methodists, who picnic on Saturday.

SCALES COVERED TOP OF BABY'S HEAD

Turned to Crust. Spread to Back. Hair Fell Out. Itched and Burned. Fretful and Cross. Cuticura Soap and Ointment Healed.

Vernon, Pa.—"When my baby was about two months old the top of his head was covered with brown scales which turned into thick crusty scabs and began to spread to the back of his head. His hair fell out until he was bald where the scabs were. It must have itched and burned for baby scratched and he was very fretful and cross. He was so bad that he could not sleep and the scabs began to run. We tried several remedies but could not cure him. Finally a friend told us about Cuticura Soap and Ointment and I immediately sent for a sample. They healed him so much that I bought the full-sized Cuticura Soap and Ointment. After using them according to directions he was healed completely in two weeks. His hair is coming in real thick now." (Signed) Mrs. Emily Wright, Jan. 28, 1914.

Samples Free by Mail Do you realize that to go through life tortured and distressed by itching, burning, scaly and crusted eczemas, rashes, and other skin and scalp humors is, in the majority of cases, unnecessary? Cuticura Soap and Ointment afford immediate relief and prove successful in the most distressing cases, when the usual methods fail.

MARKET WAGON HIT BY AUTO AT CAMP HILL

Mrs. W. H. Hoffman Badly Injured When Vehicle Is Crushed by Big Machine

Camp Hill, Pa., July 8.—Mrs. W. H. Hoffman, of Wertzville, near Hagerstown, was badly injured last night when the market wagon in which she was riding was struck by an automobile driven by Harry Forney, of Paxtang.

The Hoffmans were going to the Harrisburg markets with a wagonload of produce. When the team reached a point between the tollgate and Bowman avenue Forney suddenly saw the team in front of him, but the brakes on the automobile would not hold and he crashed into it.

The woman was thrown a distance of ten feet and was picked up in an unconscious condition. Mr. Forney and C. N. Cooper carried her to the residence of Calvin Jones, where she remained in an unconscious condition until late in the night. Dr. H. C. Lawton was summoned at once and attended to the woman's injuries.

The produce was scattered over the street and the wagon was badly battered. The horse ran away, but was caught shortly afterward. The front of the automobile was damaged.

Mrs. Hoffman was still at the Jones residence this morning and while her injuries are severe she is slowly recovering. She suffered considerably during the night and bled from lacerations and bruises about the face. That has been checked almost entirely and Dr. Lawton said this morning that he expected Mrs. Hoffman to soon recover sufficiently to be taken to her home.

ODD FELLOW REUNION TO DRAW THOUSANDS

1914 Gathering at Pen Mar Will Be Attended by Many Harrisburg Members of Order

Harrisburg Odd Fellows are looking forward with much anticipation to the annual I. O. O. F. reunion to be held this year, Thursday, August 6, at Pen-Mar. Big as was the reunion of last year, the 1914 gathering promises to be even larger.

One of the controlling factors toward this bigger crowd is the fact that more excursion trains will be run to the park and that many more excursionists are expected. For the first time there will be run a special train over the Norfolk and Western Railway.

There will be eleven excursion trains to the park, as follows: On the Western Maryland Railway—From Baltimore, York, Shippensburg, Westminster, Cumberland and Hagerstown.

On the Cumberland Valley Railroad—From Harrisburg and Winchester. On the Baltimore and Ohio—From Baltimore via Ellicott City (this had been discontinued for several years), from Washington via Weverton.

Norfolk and Western—From Elkton, Va., the first I. O. O. F. excursion train ever run over this road to Pen-Mar.

C. A. Gessaman, secretary of the reunion committee, is receiving, daily, reports from lodges in many sections, telling of much interest and of a prospective large attendance.

Judge Paul A. Benson, of the Common Pleas Court of Erie county, grand master of the I. O. O. F. in Pennsylvania, will preside over the meeting in the auditorium.

The degree staff of Garden Rebekah Lodge, No. 32, Gardenville, Md., will give an exhibition drill after the exercises in the auditorium. Mrs. Lillian Joyne is the director.

At 1:45 the Patriarchs Militant (twelve cantons have been invited by Secretary Gessaman) will form in a body at the Western Maryland station and march to the auditorium. A prize of $15 will be given the canton having the largest number of men in line and one of $10 to the canton with the second largest number. There will be present a number of bands, which will give concerts during the morning and afternoon.

THOUSANDS OF HARRISBURGERS ON PICTURE SHEET Never in the history of the Colonial Theater has its management accomplished anything that brought forth as much comment as the presentation yesterday of a film in which local news events of the past week are shown on the motion picture screen.

In this picture, which continues to-day and to-morrow, the Fourth of July parade and flag-raising are shown, with intimate views of the paraders and those who lined the sidewalks. The Mayor and the speaker of the day are shown in excellent photography. Some exceptionally good views are displayed of the Governor's Troop in camp on the John Rely farm on July 4, one picture presenting Captain Owen M. Copelin on horseback, just before he was thrown and injured. The kiddies at play in camp on McCormick's Island are also shown, as are many other features well worth seeing.

To-morrow the Colonial will present a new bill of vaudeville, including the Girl in the Moon, a beautiful singing act, in which a girl seated on a quarter-moon sails out over the heads of the audience.—Advertisement.

PHOTOPLAY THEATER "The Perils of Pauline" will be continued at this theater to-day. In the picture to-day Pauline is rescued from the balloon accident, but is later locked in a deserted house. Lying in the old shack on a cot, bound by ropes, she sees the building set afire. She is again rescued from the house, and later sees the story of her rescue printed in one of the big city newspapers. Such is the character of the subject showing at the Photoplay to-day.—Advertisement.
