

Greatest of All Human Blessings

The most wonderful thing in the world is love expressed in the helpless infant. And among those aids and comforts for expectant mothers is the well known "Mother's Friend."

Applied as directed upon those muscles involved it soothes the fine network of nerves with which all the muscles are supplied. This a great share of the pains so much dreaded may be avoided and the period of expectancy passed through in ease and comfort.

HOLD LOCAL MAN FOR AUTO FATALITY

Committed For Court Without Bail; Say He Sped Away

Special to The Telegraph Lebanon, Pa., July 14.—Gilbert Stewart, of Harrisburg, yesterday afternoon was committed to the county jail without bail by Alderman R. L. Miller, of this city, on a charge of manslaughter in the death of Claude Witters of Fairbury, who was killed early Sunday morning in a mix-up of two automobiles and a team at West Anville.

Stewart was the driver of the car which is alleged to have figured in the fatal accident and sped away leaving Witters and his four companions lying in the road. With Stewart in the car were Joseph Demma, Preston Bixton, George Huber and Theodore Magell, all of Harrisburg.

It has been established that the car owned and driven by Roy Stauffer, who is dying in the hospital here from a fractured skull, first collided with the team of Wilbur Reed, of Syner, and was then struck by the car driven by Stewart. The question of responsibility for Witters' fatal injury to Stauffer and serious injuries to Paul Zimmerman and Chester Bruce, also in the hospital remains to be solved.

SUBWAY OPEN AS SOON AS POSSIBLE

[Continued from First Page] on the present line of the street about 200 feet south of the bridge, changes the whole neighborhood materially and has attracted much attention. It is now possible to get the full effect of the subway transformation. Hereafter it has not been possible to see Harris Park and the district south owing to the high embankment of the railroad bridge abutment; but now one can see under the bridge and get a view of the park south and beyond Mulberry street.

Hastening Subway Work Engineers were busy yesterday giving the lines for the paving of the new section of the street under the bridge, and it is expected that the idea that the street shall be asphalted and put in permanent shape without a day's unnecessary delay. Until this shall have been done it is probable that no start will be made on the way to Second and Mulberry streets, which is a larger job and will consume more time. Only those who have visited the vicinity of Mulberry and Second streets can realize the important changes which are now under way. Many buildings have already been removed and others are going as rapidly as gangs of men can raze them. Meanwhile work on the big sewer from Second street to the river, a tunnel far under the surface, is going forward night and day.

Commissioner Taylor, head of the Department of Parks and Public Property, will open bids next Monday for the transfer of the earth from the proposed excavation at Second and Mulberry streets to the narrow stretches of the River Front from Calder street northward. It is expected that active operations will begin about the first of August.

If all the bosses on the various improvement undertakings were as full of energy and enthusiasm as Foreman Williams, who is in charge of the construction of the concrete work along the river wall in the northern part of the city, there would be no question about the completion of all the river work this summer. He has broken the record on "sluggers" two or three times within the past week and never stopped the work for a moment yesterday during the heavy shower in the afternoon. This work has now preceded to Geiger, between Peffer and Maclay, and unless the recent showers raise the river too much it is the expectation that this work will be completed to Maclay street by next week.

It is the intention of the Slucker Brothers Construction Company to immediately transfer the concrete gangs from one point to another as rapidly as certain stretches of the work are completed, so that all headway possible may be made while the season is favorable. There is no reason why the whole stretch between Calder and Maclay streets cannot be completed, steps, wall and walk, before the first of October. The slowest work thus far has been on the foot wall, but more men will probably be employed and it is likely that both steam shovels will be pushed to their capacity to clean up the space between the low water line and the wall, this material being necessary to fill in between the slope and the steps. are mapped out with a view to expediting the various undertakings during the summer period, especially in view of the fact that much of the work is reinforced concrete and it is necessary to keep moving during the favorable weather. There is still some controversy over a water main crossing the channel of Paxton creek near State street, but it is expected that all these matters will be adjusted as the work proceeds. There seems to be no reason why the Paxton creek job cannot be completed without difficulty this summer. It has been a slow undertaking.

Some big sewer work is under way in different parts of the city and provision has been made for considerable paving, the more important job being that in Derry street toward the eastern city line. There is much paving yet to be done and the Central Construction and Supply Company is undertaking to be making its preparations to hurry along the work. Harrisburg is already one of the best paved cities in the country and strangers and visitors are constantly saying nice things about the city's fine streets.

WHEN "DRY" IS WET When clothing and the nest raincoat is "dry cleaned" it does not mean what the name usually implies. Dry cleaning consists of a gasoline rinsing in which a certain kind of soap has been dissolved which acts the same as ordinary soap does in water. It removes all soil and grease spots without injuring or shrinking the garment. Phone for Finkelstein, 1320 North Sixth street.

FAMILY OF HUERTA IS READY TO LEAVE [Continued from First Page] communication between Mexico City and Vera Cruz. The chief engineer of the Mexican railway was sent from the capital personally to supervise the repairing of the gap in the line near the coast. Huerta, it was believed, might use that route of departure. The railway was torn up after the American occupation of Vera Cruz. With a crisis imminent administration officials and envoys of the South American republics were untiring in their efforts to-day to bring about a transition of power in Mexico City without further sacrifice of life. Carranza, Constitutional chief, in notifying the United States that he would not sanction any conference with representatives of Huerta to draft peace terms, declared that unconditional surrender of the authorities in Mexico City was the only thing he would accept. He said he could give ample assurances for the guarantee of life and property.

General Carranza Will Go to Monterey By Associated Press Saltillo, Mexico, July 13 (via Laredo, Texas, July 14).—General Carranza and his official family will leave here to-morrow for Monterey, where the temporary capital will next be established. Many Constitutional commanders gathered for a final conference to-day with General Carranza. The generals forming the commission which met recently at Torreon have rejoined their commands and it is understood have been given instructions to make utmost speed in the advance on Mexico City. All troops in this section will be transported at once to San Luis Potosi and General Pablo Gonzalez and staff will proceed to that place, where it is expected General Gonzalez will take supreme command on Monday or Tuesday.

A report prevalent here from San Luis Potosi is that a man named Cardenas, alleged to have fired the shot which killed former President Madero, is with the federal garrison at San Luis Potosi. The Constitutional forces will attempt to capture him.

ASSETS IF CRIME CAN BE DISCOVERED [Continued from First Page] London and other points had received no copies of the evidence to-day. It is understood, however, that copies will be received. District Attorney Whitman, who has been in Newport, came here to-day. Will Not Discuss Report Directors and former directors of the road generally have refused to discuss the commission's report. Mr. Mellen, however, under whose administration the alleged acts complained of were committed, branded it as "a report of a political tribunal made for political purposes." The full board of the present New Haven directors is to meet in New York on Thursday. At that time some statement bearing on the charges may be issued. Mr. Mellen's counsel, J. W. H. Crim, has issued a statement defending Mellen's actions. He said that Mellen's private fortune when he took charge of the New Haven was a million dollars. Now, he added, it was far less than that. He added that if the government or the stockholders began action against the directors of the New Haven Railroad, as suggested by the commission, the directors would retaliate with what he termed an affirmative action, in which the other action would be nullified, and much to the credit of Mr. Mellen and the directors would be established. May Be Indicted District Attorney Whitman reached his office shortly before 11 o'clock and issued this statement: "When these papers (relative to the New Haven) reach this office they will be closely scrutinized, and if we have any reason to believe that any crime of any kind has been committed, by any person connected with the New Haven Railroad or its management in this county an indictment will follow no matter who the person may be."

FRAME AND STUCCO HOUSE W. C. Terry is to erect a two-story frame and stucco at 2200 Chestnut street. The cost will be $3,900.

Senate Plans to Frame Legislation For Control of Railroad Financing

Washington, July 14.—With its unmeasured denunciation of the "maladministration" of New Haven financial affairs and "criminal negligence" of directors, the Interstate Commerce Commission's sensational report on its investigation of the New England railroad lines was to-day before the Senate Committee working to frame legislation for control of railroad financing, interlocking directorates and other subjects concerned in the investigation. Administration supporters declared that many of the recommendations of the committee agreed perfectly with portions of President Wilson's trust legislation program. The next step in New Haven affairs, however, was expected from the Department of Justice. Apart from alleged violations of laws of States and liability of the New Haven's directors over which Attorney General McReynolds has said the federal statutes have no control, the Department was concerned chiefly in the commission's findings that all the acts characterized as "corrupt and unlawful" were for the purpose of setting up a monopoly in violation of the federal statutes. The Department of Justice has taken that view in its dissolution suit against the New Haven system which probably will be filed within the next few days, unless the railroad officials reverse their attitude and accept the terms of peaceful dissolution. Certified copies of testimony and exhibits of evidence gathered by the commission's examiners were on their way by registered mail to-day to district attorneys in various jurisdictions in New York, Connecticut and Rhode Island in which New Haven transactions were carried out. The testimony and exhibits relate to such acts as the commission has characterized as unlawful but which State officers if any, must act. The entire record was sent some time ago to the Department of Justice where it has been under study by the attorneys in charge of the government's contemplated dissolution suit. New Haven affairs were brought up in the Senate during a "prosperity" debate between Senator Gallinger, Republican, and Senator Thomas, Democrat. The Republican senator read a clipping telling of the discharge of shop hands in Wilmington, Del., and the Democratic senator retorted that his colleague might be more solicitous of those who had suffered in New Haven operations as disclosed in the Interstate Commerce Commission's report.

Senator Thomas quoted from the late J. Pierpont Morgan's will, the words in which the dead financier committed "my soul to the hands of my Maker."

"That will is a fitting companion piece to the commission's report," concluded Mr. Thomas. WOMAN AGAIN ON TRIAL By Associated Press New Haven, Conn., July 14.—Besie J. Wakefield was to-day placed on trial for a second time under an indictment for murder in the first degree in causing the death of her husband, William O. Wakefield, at Cheshire on June 23, 1913. The woman was found guilty of the murder on October 31 and sentenced to be hanged on March 4 last. Upon an appeal the Supreme Court of Errors granted a new trial.
