CARPENTIER WILL FIGHT WELLS NEXT

After This Bout He Plans to Take on Gunboat Smith Again

Special to The Telegraph London, July 18.—Representatives of Dick Burke, Carpenter and Bombardier Wells have arranged for a fight between Carpenter and Wells, in London, for the white heavyweight championship of the world, under Burke's management. All the details will be settled during the week. The stakes for Thursday night's match were paid over yesterday, Carpenter receiving a check for $15,000, while Buckley received $10,000 on behalf of Smith, who was not present. Buckley took the check without demur. He made no formal protest against the decision, but wanted to discuss the fairness of Eugene Corri's ruling. He displayed deep annoyance and refused to shake hands with Corri. The chairman of the gathering declined to permit any discussion, and announced on behalf of Dick Burke, the promoter of Thursday's match, that the latter was ready to put up another purse of the same amount for a return fight. For the first time Deschamps then revealed that he had promised to match Carpenter against Wells, if the Frenchman proved successful in yesterday's match. As soon as the Carpenter-Wells match was over, he added, Carpenter was ready to meet Smith again, either in Europe or America, which ever provided the bigger purse. Will Fight Smith While Buckley was endeavoring at yesterday's meeting to discuss Corri's ruling, the chairman said: "In this country when a decision is given by a referee, it is accepted in a sportsmanlike way." "If Gunboat Smith wants a return match right away he is not going to encounter the slightest difficulty," said Carpenter's manager later in the day. "It is Carpenter's wish, as it is my wish, that the white champion of the world should retain the championship, not by a mere fluke or disqualification, but by right of superiority in boxing." Both sides thus have put themselves on record as eagerly desiring an early return match, and the only bar to such a meeting appears to be the arrangement of a suitable purse. Deschamps, commenting on what he termed the disappointing end of Thursday's fight, said both he and Carpenter were dissatisfied with the result. He added: "Carpenter personally wanted the fight to proceed, but I thought the blow he received from Smith while he was down would have proved detrimental had the fight gone on. It knocked all the brilliancy out of the French boy."

TEUTONS PUT CRIMP IN WINNING STREAK

Even Mighty Chabek Couldn't Get by With Another Victory For Senators

Special to The Telegraph Allentown, Pa., July 18.—The Teutons had their batting clothes on yesterday and the mighty Chabek who was moundsman for the Senators, fell. Also the winning streak of the visitors was punctured. The Senators had won thirteen straight before the break yesterday. Ray Topham, of Germantown, did the flinging for the Teutons, while Chabek and O'Neill occupied the points for Cockill's pennant-chasers. Chabek was pulled out of the box in the fifth inning after six runs had been chalked up against him. His successor was batted almost as hard. Harrisburg started out with a rush, and tallied three runs before the side was retired in the opening stanza. Cruikshank tripled, Crist worked a free pass, and Cockill made a clean home run smash into deep right garden. Allentown came back strong in the same inning and took the lead. Castle, Cannel, McGeehan, Boyle and Mecherly hit safely in this round. The home team clinched the game in the fifth, when five more runs were hammered across on singles by Castle, Murray, Mecherly, a double by Cannel and Topham's three-base smash. A triple by O'Neill doubles by Emerson and Keyes and a single by Cruikshank gave Harrisburg two runs in the seventh. Castle, Mecherly and Cruikshank v re the star hitters, with three safe runs each. TENNIS BECOMING THE WORLD GAME

Nearly All Countries Now Have Sharks With the Racket

Not merely personal but national characteristics are reflected in tennis, says the August Outing. Americans and Australians reflect the similar environment of newer countries in that most of their tennis representatives rave the ability to become quickly accustomed to unexpected developments on the courts. The English, however, with their native instinct for conducting matters along conventional lines do not take kindly to innovations. Taking the average of the leading players among the seven nations enlisted in Davis Cup competition, broad lines of character division do unmistakably reveal themselves. Contrasts in mental attitude which history has erected between French, British, German and American types are outlined in strong relief in the modern annals of tennis. The roll of leading French exponents, almost without an exception, consists of players who possess in abundance those traits which are recognized the world over as typically Gallic. Tennis is rapidly becoming the world game. It is eminently suited to the conditions which have been ordained by modern civilization, capable of being played in limited time, and with a minimum of two players, it is an ever-rolling active followers by the thousand in every quarter of the globe. Although there is no place allotted to it on the scoring sheets, temperament plays a major part in tennis. Far above the technique of the individual is his ability to master a mental attitude which puts the burden of attack upon his opponent. Norman E. Brookes, the great Australian crack, has had a remarkably successful career on the courts which is due to his ability to read human nature almost as much as to his remarkable technical proficiency.
