

PREPARATIONS MADE FOR DISSOLUTION OF NEW HAVEN SYSTEM

Wilson's Order That Criminal Aspects Be Given Order Creates Discussion

INDICTMENTS TO BE SOUGHT

McReynolds Indicates That He Will First Endeavor to Get Bill Against Mellen

Washington, D. C., July 22.—Preparations for the actual filing of the government's long-delayed suit to dissolve the New Haven railroad system in accordance with President Wilson's instructions were made to-day by the Department of Justice. In a letter to Attorney General McReynolds the President not only directed that civil action be instituted against the New Haven, but ordered that the "criminal aspects of the case" be laid before a federal grand jury.

To Have Full Charge

T. W. Gregory, special assistant in charge of the cases, will have full charge of the civil suit and before the grand jury was to have the aid of F. M. Swacker, an Interstate Commerce Commission expert, who assisted him in preparing the evidence. How many indictments were to be sought had not been divulged early to-day, but correspondence made public plainly indicated that Mr. McReynolds expected to ask for a bill against Mr. Mellen. The most significant fact in connection with the proceedings was said to be a statement made public by Mr. McReynolds months ago when the Interstate Commerce Commission began its New Haven investigation in which he warned the commission to consider whether indictments might be given to certain men if made to testify as to their actions as directors of the road. The names he mentioned were Charles S. Mellen, William Rockefeller, George Macaulough Miller, Charles F. Brooker, Edward Milner, Lewis Cass Ledyard, George F. Baker and Edward D. Robbins.

In his letter to Mr. McReynolds advising suit the President declared that the decision of the New Haven directors not to keep their agreement to dissolve peacefully has caused him the deepest surprise and regret. That their failure "upon so slight a pretext" was "inexplicable and entirely without justification."

Course Is Just

The department's course, he asserted, was just, reasonable and efficient. In the correspondence made public by the department which accompanied President Wilson's letter were communications between the Attorney General and President Justice, of the New Haven.

A feature of the correspondence was Attorney General McReynolds' letter to the President which contained a rebuke for the Interstate Commerce Commission in subpoenaing Mellen and "perhaps others flagrantly culpable" with the possible result of embarrassing the department by claims of immunity in return for their testimony. In this connection Mr. McReynolds stated that criminal prosecutions had always been in mind and that there had never been "the slightest hope that parties guilty of criminal violations of the law would escape."

INTERVENTION IS COMING

LAYING OF WATER MAINS CERTAIN TO DESTROY THE PARK

"How" From People Assured When Council's Action Is Appreciated

When the people generally learn what yesterday's action of the City Council means in the matter of running a big water main through the river park from North street to Paxton street—the entire length of the older section of the city—the officials responsible for this penny-wise-and-pound-foolish policy will be apt to hear from them.

A provision in the contract that the park shall be restored to its original condition and thus be maintained for a period of one year after the main shall have been laid looks very well on paper, but in view of the way that other

Public Service Commission Grants Certificate of Public Convenience to Valley

CAN NOW OFFER ORDINANCE

John C. Nissley Shows Up Traffic Conditions and Indulges in Some Prophecies

The Harrisburg and Mechanicsburg Electric Railway Company, a subsidiary of the Valley Railways Company, was to-day granted a certificate of public convenience by the Public Service Commission, which, in ordinary language, means that the application of the company for an extension of the route covered by its charter has been approved and that it can now apply to the City Council for a franchise to lay a third track in Market Square and Front street. If the Council grants the franchise the ordinance will have to go to the commission for approval. The whole proceeding did not take fifteen minutes. Superintendent C. H. Bishop, of the Valley company, was present, with Charles H. Bergner and E. E. Beideman as counsel. John C. Nissley and John C. Wensell appeared to protest, but Mr. Nissley did the protesting. When he ended he was informally advised to make it to the City Council. The commission's action is a purely formal proceeding, one of those intricate preliminaries embodied in the public service company law for checking surprise moves by corporations.

What the Company Asked. Senator Beideman stated that the company asked amendment to charter rights and permission to apply to Council for money to run a new terminal. He stated that Second street is crowded from Market to Chestnut by reason of the use of Harrisburg alleviate conditions and inure to the final uses. The proposition is pledged to alleviate conditions a diure to the
