RAIN MAY PREVENT GAME AT LANCASTER

Harrisburg Took Two Victories From the Red Roses Yesterday; Fox and Chabek Pitched

Weather indications were not favorable for a game at Lancaster today. A postponement would give Cockill's crew another double-header, to be played at Lancaster, August 7. The Red Roses come to Harrisburg August 8 for their next game. The one double-header that everybody wishes was over will probably be played at Allentown tomorrow. Harrisburg is scheduled in the Teuton town Wednesday and Thursday. It is up to Johnny Castle to pick the day. A rest today would help Harrisburg, and give Manager Cockill four pitchers for emergency call. Trenton is here Friday and Saturday. As Manager Hoffman's Tigers always give Cockill's crew a hard battle, the locals will have to travel some to take two games. Lancaster dropped two games to Harrisburg yesterday, scores 6 to 1 and 3 to 2. John Fox was a big factor in the first; and back of him was a hard hitting bunch with Whalen's double and McCarthy's sacrifice fly brought two in the sixth. The scores: First Game LANCASTER AB. R. H. Showers Hold Up Play in Longwood Tennis

Boston, Mass., July 28.—Showers early in the day disappointed the tennis enthusiasts who have been watching the tournament at the Longwood Cricket Club, but it was hoped that the weather would clear sufficiently to permit the playing of the finals in the Longwood Cup singles and the Eastern champion doubles, set for this afternoon. The committee had planned to open the day's play with the doubles, with H. H. Hackett and F. B. Alexander, both of New York, and former national doubles champions, opposed to Karl H. Behr, of the Davis Cup defending team, and T. R. Pell, also New York men.

INJUNCTION AGAINST JOHNSON

Pittsburgh, July 28.—Lawyers representing the Cincinnati National League baseball club yesterday sought an injunction restraining Pitcher George Johnson from playing in the present series here between the Kansas City and local Federal League teams. Johnson recently jumped from the Cincinnati club to the Kansas City team.

John P. Fox Is a Winner; Big Help in Present Race

JOHN FOX, PITCHER. Reading's Former Groundkeeper Who Is Helping Harrisburg Win the Pennant

"Silly" Season Here Johnny Heydler Laughs

Special to The Telegraph
New York, July 28.—Secretary John Heydler, of the National League, had a good laugh today. It came when he was shown a dispatch stating that Prof. Jesse E. Wrench, teacher of history at the University of Missouri, predicted that the government would own all the baseball leagues in the United States in the next twenty-five years. "That's all a dream," said Mr. Heydler when he recovered his voice. "Before we talk about government ownership of our baseball and other sports it might be just as well to wait and see what success the government has with ownership of railroads and a few other things. I understand the weather down in Missouri has been frightfully hot the last week or so. And besides, the silly season is now at its height, so we are liable to hear all kinds of foolish talk these days."

The Penn players were Ethel Mauley, Cecilia Kearson, Eva Weiner, Annie Hervort, Elsie Warner, Violet Mitchell, Esther Mark, Edna Bowers, Hamilton players: Maude Beshore, Esther Frank Caroline Connors, Beatrice Pagan, Grace Bennett, Helen Hecker, Elsie Geedy, Elizabeth Yeater, Margaret Shenaleen.

RAIN STOPS TRI-STATE GAMES

Special to The Telegraph
Trenton, N. J., July 28.—Wilkes-Barre and Trenton took the field yesterday, but play was stopped at the beginning of the fourth inning on account of the rain. The score was 3 to 4 in favor of the locals. Allentown, Pa., July 28.—The Allentown-Reading game was called at the beginning of the fourth inning, with the score 2 to 2. A terrific rain and wind storm stopped hostilities. The teams will play two games today.

Fletcher Playing Great Game With Giants

When the Tri-State season ended two years ago and Harrisburg was in the lead, much was said regarding the work of John P. Fox, pitcher. While every player on the team had a part in landing the first championship flag for Harrisburg, Pitcher Fox was given the credit of doing a big share. Pitcher Fox is again in Harrisburg to help land the pennant and he hopes his arm will hold out. Fox, for some reason, did not come to Harrisburg early in the season. He had a good offer from the South and went there. The climate was not of the kind that he agreed with Fox and he came back to Harrisburg. Since his return this twirler has been winning his games. John P. Fox pitcher at Reading in 1908 and 1909. Previous to that time he had been playing ball with independent teams and was also known as the Reading groundkeeper. Fox would practice hard every day. During 1910-11 Fox played with the Western League and played with Harrisburg in 1912 and 1913. He has pitched six games and lost one. In eight games Fox has had two putouts, fifteen assists and no errors. He is batting at .333.

SPORTING BITS

At Lancaster to-day. Trenton will be the attraction at Island Park Friday and Saturday. Izzy Hoffman's crowd plays harder against Harrisburg than any other team. It is now Johnny Castle, the "foxy" C. Carrying six pitchers and seven men is something no other manager can do. When a manager suspends a pitcher he should not be allowed to play on any other team. In order to keep within the salary limit, Johnny Castle works a pitcher one day, suspends him for two days and hires him out to some independent team. Manager Castle must be a privileged character in the Tri-State. Rain did not stop yesterday's double-header at Island Park, but a storm came nearly costing Harrisburg a game. The Bowman and Company junior team wants a game for Friday afternoon. Ages of players from 14 to 26 years. Manager William Atticks, 130 South Fifteenth street. New Cumberland and Steelton are scheduled for a twilight game at New Cumberland to-night. Salada, of Elizabethtown, has signed with New Cumberland. The Lucknow Yankins defeated the Regulars last night, score 4 to 3. Tomorrow the Lucknow team will go to Reading for a game with the P. R. R. team at that place. Hansen Horsey, the Trenton Tri-State twirler, formerly with Reading, is ill at his home in Trenton with appendicitis and will probably have to undergo an operation. Nine men in the Central Pennsylvania league have felled without an error. Harrisburg's "coppers" with a few added stars won a picked nine at Island Park yesterday, score 4 to 3.

LEBANON BOY DROWNED

Lebanon, Pa., July 28.—While wading in less than two feet of water in a creek near Lebanon yesterday afternoon, Chester, the 12-year-old son of Mr. and Mrs. Walter Levan, was drowned.

YOUR EYES ARE PRECIOUS

Send them to us for the preperal first stitch, and it won't be necessary for the other nine. Allentown, Pa., July 28.—The Allentown-Reading game was called at the beginning of the fourth inning, with the score 2 to 2. A terrific rain and wind storm stopped hostilities. The teams will play two games today.

CITY TENNIS STARS DO BRILLIANT WORK

Five Matches Played on Reservoir Courts Yesterday Before Storm

Five matches were played in the city tennis tournament yesterday. It was impossible to get the courts in shape for the contests and the windstorm later in the afternoon stopped several contests. By winning from Miss Helen Hecker the right to play in the semifinals was given Miss Maude Stamm. This contest was replete with brilliant playing and the small gallery of spectators manifested much interest in the outcome. In the mixed doubles Mrs. Chris Sauters and C. A. Yahn defeated Miss Ellenberger and A. L. Lightner; scores, 8 to 6, 6 to 2. In the men's doubles superb work by Graham and Geyelin brought a victory over Ellenberger and Messinger; scores, 6 to 3, 3 to 6, 6 to 2. Hamilton and McAllister defeated H. C. Lightner and Dasher, 6-1, 6-3; Kuyal and Wickersham defeated Royal and Middleton, 11-9, 6-3. On Saturday in the women's singles Mrs. Sauters defeated Miss Ford; scores, 6 to 1 and 6 to 0.

McLOUGHLIN WINS IN LONGWOOD TENNIS BATTLE

Special to The Telegraph
Boston, Mass., July 28.—The Longwood tennis bowl will remain on the Pacific coast another year as the result of the victories of M. E. McLoughlin and R. Lindley Murray, both of California, in the singles event yesterday. New York will hold the Eastern doubles championship through the success in the semi-finals of the former national champions, Hackett and Alexander, and of Mehr and Pell. McLoughlin was a strong favorite last night in his match today with Murray, met the struggle for the Eastern doubles title between the two New York pairs was regarded as about even. Although McLoughlin carried off his match in the semi-finals with R. Noris Williams, 2d, in straight sets, 6-3, 6-4, 6-4, the tennis was the finest seen since the two Davis cup players met in the finals at Newport last year.
