SEVERE STORM HITS LANCASTER COUNTY

Houses and Barns Struck by Lightning and Burned; Tobacco Ruined by Hail

Special to The Telegraph
 Marietta, Pa., July 30.—Another severe electrical storm visited this section Tuesday evening and in its path caused considerable damage. The rain fell in torrents and the roads and gardens were badly washed. The river and creeks were all high and down the streets water ran like a small stream.

A bolt of lightning struck the barn on the John Plaster farm, near Georgetown, and in no time it was a mass of flames. Lightning struck the barn of Menno Brubaker, near Bricker, and this was burned to the ground with all the contents. At New Providence, some of the streets were under water and cellars were filled.

At the residence of William Keen at Quarryville, the house was struck by a bolt of lightning and the one side of the roof was torn off. Lightning struck the barn of W. K. Hopkins, at Drumore and one side of the building was torn away, but no fire ensued. The two and a half story frame house of John Stoltzfus, near Bareville, was struck by lightning and burned to the ground and the family had a narrow escape with their lives.

Beaver Creek, near New Providence, overflowed its banks, for the first time in the history of the oldest resident. Hail ruined the tobacco. At the home of Miss Rebecca Dellinger, at Marietta, lightning struck the large pear tree in the yard, and splintered it. The same bolt of lightning struck Miss Dellinger and she was stunned for several hours.

Several cows belonging to I. M. King, of Intercourse, which were in the field, were struck and one of them was killed. The others were burned.

Stoverdale Campmeeting Will Begin Tomorrow

Special to The Telegraph
 Stoverdale, Pa., July 30.—The Rev. O. G. Romig, of Hershey, arrived in the grove on Wednesday and he will have general supervision of all the services of the campmeeting. He has taken possession of the pastor's cottage, Hershey Inn.

The Rev. Clyde A. Lynch and his newly wedded wife, of Harrisburg, will occupy the same cottage, Hershey Inn.

The first service of the camp will be held on Friday evening at 8 o'clock and will be conducted by the pastor, the Rev. O. G. Romig. At 7:30 o'clock Evangelist Lewis Shelhorn, of Ashland, N. J., will preach the first sermon.

An eight-page program of the campmeeting has been published this year. The booklet contains the order of services, the daily schedule, camp notes and photographs of some of the leading ministers who will officiate.

The Rev. O. G. Romig will accompany the Fishburn Sunday School picnic to Paxtang Park on Thursday.

Miss Anna Brenneman entertained the following young people at Utopia cottage this week: Misses Blanche Meloy, of Harrisburg; Bertha Wise, Elizabeth Glick, of Harrisburg; Augusta Palmer, Walter Haun, Paul Hummel, of Hummelstown; Walter Dowhower, George Hibernian, of Harrisburg.

Miss Nora Shirk, Mrs. John Miller and Miss Dorothy Chubbuck were at Hickory Lodge on Wednesday.

Misses Kathrine Shull, Marion Walters, Esther Brinser and Sara Muth spent Tuesday evening at Pine View with the Misses Kilmore.

Mr. and Mrs. H. E. Reigle and children, of Hummelstown, have opened their cottage for the campmeeting season.

Mrs. A. W. Swengel and daughter, Miss Hope Swengel, and Miss Gladys Shellenberger are spending ten days at the Swengel cottage.

Mrs. J. I. Hetrick and children, Louise and Junior Hetrick, are at Rajah cottage.

Mrs. David Rineard and Miss Mary Ellen Rineard will spend a week with the Misses Ebers at Pine Lodge.

Mrs. Margaret Ellenberger, of Oak Glen, spent Wednesday in Harrisburg.

Mrs. Harry A. Brown was the recent guest of Mrs. S. B. Caveny.

Park Pessler, of Marysville, Miss Esther Ruth and Mrs. E. J. Knisely enjoyed an automobile trip to the grove.

Mr. and Mrs. J. Frank Palmer, of 311 Green street, have returned to their city home after a month's vacation at Chelsea cottage.

Miss Annie Levan, of Pleasant Hill, arrived yesterday to spend ten days.

Upper End Will Have Great Celebration on Labor Day

Lykens Preparing to Observe Holiday With Parade, Track Meet, Drill Contests, Band Concerts and Sham Battle

Special to The Telegraph
 Lykens, Pa., July 30.—Labor Day this year, instead of only being observed as a day of rest by the miners of the upper end, here, will be one of the biggest events witnessed here in many years, excepting of course, the Old Home Week celebration last year. The drill team of Lykens Camp, No. 238, P. O. S. of A. has taken the matter in charge and has already secured definite answers for the upper end in this neighborhood signifying their intention to turn out and help make the day a grand success. Drill teams from other counties will also be here and at least half a dozen bands are expected.

Among the events of the day are the following: Street parade, track meet, nine events; band concerts, festival and cakewalks. A big sham battle which will be fought between the "Indians" (Red Men) of this valley and the "Soldiers" (drill teams and reserves) about 400 will engage in this event.

The "Goddess of Liberty" contest has opened and the citizens of Lykens and vicinity are greatly interested in the matter as to who shall be goddess. The contestants are: Misses Ruth Sharp, Elsie Rettinger, Virgie Eiders, Christine Schneider, Anna Bohan, Mabel Hechler, Leta Hensel, Sara Umholtz, Flo Kreiner, Florence Bateman and Fannie West.

For track meet information write Ray C. Stuppy, secretary of the committee. All other communications should be addressed to A. B. Morris, or O. M. Kemble.

Winfield Scott Morrison Dies at Carlisle Home

Special to The Telegraph
 Carlisle, Pa., July 30.—Winfield Scott Morrison, one of the most prominent citizens of the county, died yesterday at his home here following a protracted illness. Mr. Morrison was born and lived the greater part of his life on a farm near Barritts, this county, and about two years ago came to Carlisle. He was 70 years old.

Mr. Morrison was a former county auditor and held several other political offices under the Republican administration. He enlisted during the Civil War in Company A, One Hundred and Thirtieth Pennsylvania Volunteer Infantry, and served with distinction. Surviving him are his wife and these children: Harry, New York city; Charles, Arthur and Mrs. Carl Cooper, all of Harrisburg; also by these brothers and sisters: Frank G. Morrison, Naperville, Ill.; William Morrison, of Abilene, Kan.; John Morrison, St. Joseph, Mo.; Mrs. Reuben Martin, Harrisburg; and Mrs. William Martin and Mrs. Enos Stauffer, Carlisle.

He will be buried with the honors of war by Captain Colwell Post, Grand Army of the Republic, of which he was a member.

Tattooed Woman Tries High Dive and Is Rescued by Real Diver Just in Time

Special to The Telegraph
 Waynesboro, Pa., July 30.—Algina, the tattooed woman belonging to the Eastern show that camped in Waynesboro last week to fill in the week till the opening of Old Home Week in Chambersburg, dived into Lake Royer and went down in twelve feet of water where she would have left her life for a moment. The accident occurred at 12:30 p. m. and the injured man died three hours later.

The breaking of a pole placed between the wagon and the engine in pushing the former into the barn caused the accident. The injured man was taken to the home of his father, Dr. A. B. Grove, near by, and three other physicians were summoned, but they were powerless to save him. He was 26 years old and is survived by his father, his stepmother and a brother and sister.

Young Man's Head Crushed Between Wagon and Engine

Special to The Telegraph
 Waynesboro, Pa., July 30.—William Roy Grove, son of Dr. A. B. Grove, of Shady Grove, met with a tragic death on Tuesday afternoon when he had his head crushed between a wagon heavily laden with grain and a traction engine while at work at the John C. Bliner farm, west of Waynesboro. The accident occurred at 12:30 p. m. and the injured man died three hours later.
