SEVEN ARE BAPTIZED IN SWATARA CREEK

Impressive Ceremonies Take Place at Stoverdale Campmeeting; Services Drawing to Close

Special to The Telegraph Stoverdale, Pa., Aug. 8.—Campmeeting is drawing to a close, but the interest and attendance are splendid. The early morning worship at 6.30 was conducted by the Rev. Joseph Weirlich, of Middletown. At 10.30 a sermon was preached by the Rev. H. M. Miller, of Penbrook on "The Value of True Worship." The junior service at 1.30 was led by the Rev. O. G. Romly, of Hershey, who gave an illustrated talk on "Two Men in Jail." This was followed by a sermon by the Rev. H. A. Smith, of Royaltown, on "God's Attitude Toward the Unsaved."

At 6 o'clock the campers marched in a body to Swatara Creek where a very impressive baptismal service was held. The sacred rite of baptism was administered by immersion to the following seven candidates: William L. Faust, Morris S. Reider, Emma Garver, Irvin L. Baker and Jennie Baker. The rite was administered by the pastor, the Rev. O. G. Romig, of Hershey, assisted by Evangelist Lewis Shelhorn of Ashland, N. J.

The Christian Endeavor service at 6.30 was in charge of the Rev. C. A. Lynch, of Harrisburg. An address was delivered by Horace Jackson, of Harrisburg.

HERE'S A CHANGE TO SAVE IN TAXES

Five Per Cent. Abatement Allowed on Occupation Assessment; Sum Not Extensive

Five per cent. abatement on occupation or personal tax is allowed by the county tax collector just as on any other tax and the taxpayer may have the advantage of the rebate merely for the asking.

Announcement that that effect was made yesterday in the County Commissioners' office in answer to queries as to whether or not the abatement held when the collectors of county taxes in the city sat in the Courthouse.

"The 5 per cent. abatement holds good on all county taxes, occupation, or personal, as it is called, as well as any other," said an official in the County Commissioners' office. "However, few folks ask for it, but it must be allowed if you ask."

Not that the abatement ordinarily would amount to enough to make a very extensive investment. As a rule the average assessment for occupation is based on the $100 salary. Four mills for taxation runs the tax bill up to as much as 40 cents. And as has been mentioned before, 5 per cent. abatement is allowed.

So one merely by asking the tax collector may save as much as ten cents.

New Trial in Ensminger Case.—New trials were allowed by Judge McCarrall yesterday in the cases of Dr. John T. Ensminger, Jr., and Miss Martha Osten, a trained nurse. The opinion was handed down late in the afternoon. Ensminger and Miss Osten were convicted some time ago of crimes growing out of the alleged infidelity of Ensminger, a married man, with the nurse.

Official Permission to Use Pavilion.—Folks who want to picnic at Reservoir and use the big dining pavilion in the park must hereafter obtain an official permit from the park department.

Some contention has occurred from time to time between picnic parties who clash over the question as to whom is to have the use of the pavilion.

Send Money to State.—A check for $205.79 and another for $94.90 were sent respectively by Register of Wills Fanner and Prothonotary Hoiler yesterday to the State Treasury as parts of Daubhin county's fees from these two offices.

No Word From Cardinal Farley in the War Zone

Grave fears are entertained for Cardinal Farley from whom no word has been received since July 28 when he was at Paris. The cardinal had attended the Eucharistic Congress at Lourdes and was hurrying back to the United States when war broke out.

LARGE BARN BURNED.—Special to The Telegraph Marietta, Pa., Aug. 8.—The large bank barn on the James Wright farm was totally destroyed by fire early this morning, entailing a $4,000 loss. All the livestock was saved.

Recent Deaths in Central Pennsylvania

Marietta.—Mrs. Hannah Ebling, 87 years old, died yesterday very suddenly from heart disease.

Gettysburg.—Mrs. James F. Diehl, mother of three Lutheran ministers, died at her home in Cashion town yesterday. The Rev. Fred Diehl, of Wellsboro; the Rev. John M. Diehl, of Greensboro; and the Rev. S. Heynolds Diehl, of Grand Valley, S. D., are sons. Other sons are Robert E. Diehl, of Gettysburg, president of the Adams county board of auditors, and Dr. J. Irvin Diehl, of Trenton, N. J.

FIRST EFFECT OF WAR CLOUD; RUN ON BERLIN SAVINGS BANK

This was the first effect Berlin felt of the war cloud which hung over Europe just before the Kaiser broke with Russia. It is a picture taken at the time Austria's assault on Serbia indicated the whole of Europe would be involved in a war. It was taken in front of the City Savings Bank, one of the larger institutions of Berlin, and is the first war photograph to reach the United States.

Runs on other banks have followed, not only in Germany, but over Europe, till many of the bankers are in a dangerous conditions.

German Advertisements Were to Guide Army

Special to The Telegraph Paris, Aug. 8.—It was discovered to-day that thousands of posters of "Bouillon Kub," manufactured by a German firm, which dotted the French countryside just as those of a certain brand of pickles do the fields along the railroads in the United States, were intended to be of use to an invading German army by giving information of a military character through the varying sizes of the posters and the colors employed.
