G. A. R. VETERANS VISIT OLD FORT M'HENRY

A. C. Leonard Gives Interesting Data of Famous Revolutionary Fort

A. C. Leonard, a G. A. R. veteran formerly of this city, who held the position as chief of the Capitol Guides for several years, writes, to "The New Era" of a recent trip he made to the famous old Fort McHenry.

Mr. Leonard says: A recent visit to this old five-pointed star-shaped fort near Baltimore, Md., where my regiment was stationed for a time at the breaking out of the Civil War, served to awaken memories of the "days that tried men's souls" and proved exceedingly interesting.

The name antiquated cannon are still mounted here and there in pyramids of cannon balls are everywhere to be seen.

The octagon-shaped powder magazine, built in 1775, the underground ammunition compartments, the earthworks, the barracks, hospital, quarters house, chapel and officers' quarters are all there as of yore, though in a well-maintained condition, while the one-time carefully-kept grounds are now grown with high grass and noxious weeds.

At the same spot, within the enclosure, where the old flag of fifteen stars and fifteen stripes was first hoisted, the later-day flag of our country floats from sunrise till sunset, the original flag being preserved in the Smithsonian Institute at Washington, D. C.

The United States Government having recently turned the fort and surrounding grounds over to the care of Baltimore, that city is about to convert it into a public park, and expend half a million on the project.

Baltimore is making extensive arrangements to celebrate, during the week of September 8th, the centennial of the bombardment of Fort McHenry and the birth of our National Hymn.

Mr. and Mrs. B. Hoffman, of 921 Penn street, are home from Philadelphia where they attended the Kremer-Hoffman wedding.

A Simple Way to Reduce Wrinkles

Remember that wrinkles and bagginess of cheek or chin are due to the muscular tissue losing its strength and shrinking. The skin is then too large in area to fit such tissue smoothly. It wrinkles or sags.

To remedy this condition, there's nothing so effective, so quick-acting, as a simple and harmless, scientific formula made at home. Get an ounce of powdered salicylate at your drug-gist's, and a half pint of water. Mix the two and bathe your face in the liquid. This at once tightens the skin and solidifies the underlying tissues which, of course, smooths out the lines and draws in the sagging skin. It also stimulates circulation, bringing a feeling of freshness and vigor to a tired face.—Advertisement.

How to Eradicate All Superfluous Hair

As soon as women of to-day learn of permanent removal of ugly, repulsive hair from their faces, necks, arms or hands is a simple, inexpensive preparation called Mrs. Osgood's Wonder. It is absolutely harmless, cannot injure the skin or complexion and in a surprisingly large number of cases has succeeded in killing the hair down to the very roots, source of all growth. When the roots are killed no more hair can grow. You can get Mrs. Osgood's Wonder from Kennedy's Drug Store or any up-to-date druggist or department store. Signed money-back guaranteed with every package. Let me caution you however, not to apply this treatment except where total destruction of hair is desired.

NEW ENTRANCE TO MT. GRETTA CAMP GROUNDS

Handsome Granite Columns Erected by Civic Club

Music by Eighth Regiment Band and Address by Congressman A. S. Kreider Features of Dedication Ceremonies

Special to The Telegraph—Mt. Gretna, Pa., Aug. 11.—For a time yesterday it looked as though the dedication by the Civic Club of the recently erected granite entrance to the camping association's grounds would be called off. The time set was 3 o'clock and about that time a terrific downpour of rain set in, but in the course of a half hour the sun appeared and the Eighth Regiment band of Carlisle kindly loaned the ladies by Colonel Joseph B. Hutchison for the occasion, struck up a lively air in "Onward Christian Soldiers" and the cottagers poured in through the various avenues until a great crowd made up the audience.

A large platform had been erected in the center of the grounds, and the platform amid clapping of hands and cheering when the services began.

The band rendered a fine selection, which was followed by prayer by the Rev. Mr. Butterwick. Next followed a poem, "Then and Now," by Mrs. Alvin I. Miller, read by Miss Helen Rickenbach, as follows:

"THEN AND NOW"

A score of years or thereabouts The people came from far and near To join in singing, and to shout, And eagerly the Bishop hear.

They worshipped here for ten long days At morning, noon and night. The thoughtless ones who longed to play Were surely in a plight.

Then it came to pass if a stranger asked The way to find Campmeeting, The answer was "Just strike the trail Till you come to the place of the white-washed rail."

Yes, for twenty long years have we stood That led to the place of the white-washed rail. For twenty long years an innumerable host Have entered the Grounds at the Whitewashed Post.

The Ladies, God bless them, Then came to the fore, And said that old post and rail must be no more.

So we banded together, And worked with our might, Behold the result—In stone work and light. Now if perchance you come this way,

QUEEN RETURNS TO ROM E TO BE AT HUSBAND'S SIDE IN ITALY'S CRISIS

Rome, Italy, Aug. 11.—"My place in time of danger is beside my husband." That is what Queen Helen said when she returned to the Quirinal after cutting short a visit with her sister-in-law, Princess Utielle of Montenegro. There is no attempt on the part of the king to disguise the grave situation Italy is facing. The fear now is that with the king's repeated refusal to enter into the great European conflict war may be declared on Italy by either Austria or Germany, or both. When the Kaiser's threat to this effect was conveyed to the king he exclaimed: "Neither friendship for my allies nor offers made by them, no matter how advantageous, would persuade me to sell my honor and that of my country."
