MUST WAIT REVISED POST OFFICE PLANS

Exterior Will Not Be Finished Before Next Summer, Says Builder While katyids are singing on country roads a meaningful song which says to ears that can listen there are only six more weeks till frost, W. Lowrie, superintendent of construction, who is bossing the Post Office alteration job for Contractors J. & E. A. Pennock, of Philadelphia, is humming a tune in another key which winds up with the refrain: "Are we gonna get the plans, before the frost gets us?"

Superintendent Lowrie said yesterday that work had now progressed about as far as it could. There is scarcely anything to do except pottering about a bit on the inside until the revised plans arrive. Officially the contractors don't know yet that the new appropriation has been made and one on each wing. Until the arrival of the plans from Washington nothing can be done. Supposing that the plans should arrive before September 1, it will be about mid-September before a full force could be got to work on the building, and that would leave about a month and a half or less of the year.

Superintendent Lowrie is in hopes that he can finish enough of the exterior of the building to permit the work to go forward on the interior, leaving the exterior to be completed next spring. In other words, it is hoped that the building can be got into such shape as to afford an enclosed space so that inside construction can go on, but unless the plans arrive soon that will be hopeless, and it will be far into the fall of 1915, perhaps, before the building stands ready. At present there is a great square hole in the wall on the Locust street side. Seven men are at work. "We should have 107," said Superintendent Lowrie. The structural work for the wing to face the Locust street is in place and also the brick foundations on that side, as well as the boiler which will heat the building. But "Are we gonna get the plans before the frost gets us?"

Giboney Protesting Against Liquor Tax

Philadelphia, Aug. 21.—"The deliberate creation of drunkenness is involved in the reported plans of the national government to overcome the expected revenue shortage resulting from the tax on alcoholic liquors, according to a letter protesting against such legislation sent to President Wilson yesterday by D. Clarence Giboney, president of the Law and Order Society of Philadelphia. In raising the liquor taxes, according to this letter, the government virtually says to the liquor dealer: "We need more money, and we are going to get it from you. You must get out of your business. Sell all the liquor you can. Create all the drunkards you can, but get the cash." It is simply a matter, Mr. Giboney says, of financing the national debt by "making widows, orphans, imbeciles and insane."

FOREIGNERS FOR FRENCH ARMY

Paris, Aug. 21, 1.30 p. m.—The great square fronting the Invalides in Paris presented a striking spectacle to-day when 18,000 foreign volunteers assembled in orderly formation under the flag of their various nations, to be mustered in. There were 4,500 Jews from all countries, who desired to serve as a separate command; there were also 3,000 Belgians, 4,500 Italians, 2,600 Russians, 2,000 Swiss, 1,000 Spaniards, 600 Roumanians, 335 Luxemburgers and 125 Americans.

Senator Sproul Under Arrest in Germany

Chester, Pa., Aug. 21.—In a letter received here to-day from State Senator William C. Sproul, he gives an account of the arrest of himself and Charles R. Long, of the Chester Times, while traveling through the war zone. He writes: "Here we are, apparently safe in Amsterdam, and feel as happy as a storm-tossed ship after it reaches a port of safety. Our experience getting out of Germany has been a most thrilling and exciting one. The Holland-American Line, so far as we can learn, is the only one sailing, and they are filled up for the ship sailing tomorrow, August 2. "We had a tough trip in reaching Holland, and our inconvenience was great and tiring; but, on the whole, perhaps, we have suffered less than other American tourists. In Frankfurt we were taken before a big German officer, who, after questioning us, seemed satisfied and turned us over to his municipal police. After an examination we were permitted to employ a porter and find our baggage, which was located on the station platform. "Niederlahnstein we were again placed under arrest and taken before the military post. I presume they thought we were English spies, for war had been declared on England by Germany. In Cologne we were approached by an officer because of our papers. He advised us not to talk English on the street and stay in our hotel until we left."

Americans Are Well Treated in Germany

London, Aug. 21, 1.20 P. M.—Franklin Martin of Chicago who left here a week ago for Munich to bring out the American flag because he was returned to London this morning. His trip was successful for Miss Stone is with him. Dr. Martin tells a story full of interesting experiences on the continent since his arrival. "Judging from my trip and the experiences of Miss Stone in Munich Americans are as safe in Germany as in Chicago or New York. We did not parade the American flag because we knew that many persons were seeking the protection of the Stars and Stripes who were not entitled to it. "It is impossible to make the trip from London to Germany without being impressed with the thoughtfulness of the preparations Germany is making for every contingency that can arise on land. The morals of the people was inspiring. They expected to win, and they have no thought of turning back or of failure. There is no fume of difficulty in obtaining money in Germany. If one has credit and can be identified, that there is in London. "In three weeks I have been an eye witness to mobilization in France, England and Holland. It is difficult to say which preparations I admired the most. They all have been so magnificent, yet so different. In Paris it was "on to Berlin." In Germany it is "on to London." In London it is an impressive but ominous silence."

Aged Almsouse Inmate Charges Another With Ill-treatment at Home

Charged with assault and battery upon J. H. McDowell, Michael McCauliffe was held for court this morning by Squire T. V. Garner, of Steelton. McDowell, an inmate of the county almsouse, charged McCauliffe with ill-treatment while at the almsouse and at the office of the magistrate it was pointed out by McDowell that McCauliffe was an attendant, later when McCauliffe gruffly ordered him from the bench. When he refused McDowell said McCauliffe choked him and threw him from the bench. When McDowell complained later he said McCauliffe came into the room and before he could be interfered with, rushed upon McDowell and dre him to his feet, choked him and threw him to the floor again. McCauliffe left the almsouse subsequently and was arrested in Lykens by Constable Oscar Hawk and taken to Steelton by Constable John Gibbs. At the office of the Poor Board it was said that McCauliffe was not an attendant, although he did help to sweep out one of the wards. Harsh words and even rows between attendants are not infrequent among the great number of inmates there, it was admitted. The records show that McCauliffe was admitted as an inmate from Lykens April 15. He is a miner and was ill. He was discharged, however, on August 7, and the records show that his dismissal followed a hit with Watchman Bernard Gastrock.

Congress Will Remain in Session Until War in Europe Is Finished

Washington, Aug. 21.—Efforts of Republican senators to reach an agreement with Democrats for adjournment of Congress within the next two weeks has come to a halt, administration leaders declaring Congress would have to remain in session during the war in Europe. Chairman Simmons of the Senate finance committee said today that he had no doubt that Congress would adjournment now. "It is impossible to make the trip from London to Germany without being impressed with the thoughtfulness of the preparations Germany is making for every contingency that can arise on land. The morals of the people was inspiring. They expected to win, and they have no thought of turning back or of failure. There is no fume of difficulty in obtaining money in Germany. Count Proud of Son's Death on Battlefield

Paris, Aug. 21, 6.20.—Count Guerry de Beaugard, a veteran of the war of 1870, thus announces the death of a son at the front. "One son already has met death of the brave beyond the frontier at the head of a squadron of the Seventh Hussars. Other will avenge him. Another of my sons, an artilleryman is with the general staff. My eldest son is with the Twenty-first Chasseurs. Long live France!"

Pope Requested Burial in Crypt of St. Peters

Rome, Aug. 21, 11.25 P. M. via Paris, Aug. 21, 8.50 A. M.—Nothing is officially known about the late pope's will but the Giornale d'Italia says it is drawn in humble, pious language. It recommends his successor to grant his sisters a pension of $60 monthly each, but does not mention his niece, Gilda Parolin. It also expresses the desire that a pension of $12 monthly be granted to his valet. The newspaper adds that the late pontiff asks that his secretary, Monsignor Giovanni Bressan and Monsignor Giuseppe Pescini be promoted to canons. "The will contains a recommendation that the burial be a modest one in the crypt of St. Peters. It concludes by invoking God's forgiveness for the sins which the testator may have committed, especially as pontiff. "The Tribune says the Austrian ambassador to Italy, before his resignation because of ill health, asked Pope Pius X to bless Austria-Hungary and the Austrian armies. The pontiff replied: "I bless peace."

Advances of Russians Force German Retreat

London, Aug. 21, 5.50 A. M.—A St. Petersburg dispatch to the Daily Mail says the "Novoe Vremya" published an account of the fighting at Eydkukhen, East Prussia, by an eye witness who says: "The fighting here seemed to prove that the German army's military qualities did not justify its reputation, the men in the skirmish lines huddled together making excellent targets for our fire. "The German cavalry avoided ours, retreating when the Russians advanced for the charge. The German infantry, likewise, retired before our bayonet charges. "The Novoe Vremya—comments on Japan's ultimatum as follows: "The enemies of our enemies are our friends. The cry of the yellow peril is not just. The yellow race, even as the white race, rises against German violence."

They were taken to Belfort to-day, where crowds of curious townspeople gathered to see them. Eighteen other guns captured to-day are expected to reach Belfort to-morrow, together with 600 prisoners."

Washington, D. C., Aug. 21.—The Administration's proposal to invest government invest $25,000,000 in vessels to help carry American grain and manufactures to the overseas trade was not received as enthusiastically yesterday to-day as it was yesterday. Washington, D. C., Aug. 21.—Attorney General McReynolds expects several indictments to be returned within the next few days as the result of the investigation ordered by President Wilson of the increase in food prices since the outbreak of the war. Government officials would not say to-day in what cities the indictments would be sought, but it has been declared no effort would be made to localize the prosecutions in any particular part of the country. GERMANS PREPARE TO LEAVE BRUSSELS

London, Aug. 21, 9.10 A. M.—"Brussels is filled with refugees from surrounding towns despite the large number who left the city for Ghent and Ostend during the past few days," says the Daily Chronicle's Ghent correspondent. "The plight of most of the refugees is pitiable," the correspondent adds. "Many are camped in the public square whose homes in the suburbs have been fired by the Prussians. The roads leading into Brussels have been covered all day with a mass of refugees, many drawn by dogs and others by girls, women and aged peasants. "Most of these people have lost everything. Few of them have any money. The peasant is considered lucky who succeeded in saving a single horse or a cow. Most of them tell of German barbarities, but it is evident that a majority of these tales are exaggerated. "Great Cavalry Screen "Military men characterize the German force which is moving across Belgium as overwhelming, saying it consists of at least two or three army corps. The advance of this huge force is covered all day with a screen of cavalry. The Germans had no difficulty in taking Louvain, which was virtually undefended. "In the high wooded country between Louvain and Brussels the Germans found an excellent defensive position. Having occupied Louvain, the Germans pushed forward with great celerity, the cavalry opening out in fan-shaped formation, spreading across the country. "At one point they ran into a strong force of Belgian artillery, which punished them severely. Later on in the day a Belgian scouting force reached Louvain and found it unoccupied, but received imperative orders to fall back because of the danger of being outflanked and annihilated."

Weeds Cut Down the High Cost of Living

Chicago, Ill., Aug. 21.—As a remedy for the soaring prices of foodstuffs Mrs. W. K. Jaques, of 4316 Greenwood avenue, urges housewives to use weeds on their tables. "There are ten weeds, all edible, that can be used for food," Mrs. Jaques said. "These are the dock, nettle, sorrel, purslane, milkweed, dandelion, pigweed, the chickweed, marsh marigold and brake fern. They are excellent greens and are nourishing. Purslane, commonly called 'puss-sly,' which grows in the original sin, is most people is edible. Chinese are fond of it and it is found in well cultivated garden. Purslane will not grow any place else and it can't stand cold weather. "As this is planting time for the weeds, when the seeds are ripened and blossoming and each weed is trying to get seeds in the ground for next year, people should decide whether or not these aggressive plants are to decorate the vacant lots over the city."
