ROUGH RIDER CORPS FORMED IN PARIS

Men Are Expert Horsemen and All Have Seen Actual Service

Paris, Aug. 21, 1.30 P. M.—The ministry of war has definitely accepted the services of the Anglo-American rough rider corps formed in Paris. The men will act as scouts and interpreters for which latter service they are particularly well qualified as most of them speak four and some even seven languages, it is announced.

All have seen actual service and are expert horsemen. They will provide their own uniforms and mounts but a fund for their maintenance in the field has been raised by the public. The corps. One of the machines is fitted as a hospital and will carry surgeons and nurses.

Major Charles A. Hedkin, U. S. A., will leave for Genoa with $100,000 for the relief of Americans there as soon as he receives instructions from Henry S. Breckenridge, the American assistant secretary of war, who had been expected in Holland to-day. It is said that the bulk of the $2,500,000 appropriated for relief work by the American congress will be kept aboard the cruiser Tennessee and be drawn upon as needed. The American ambassador to Spain, Joseph E. Willard, who is a passenger on the Tennessee will leave for his port at Madrid as soon as he can get a train.

A Woman's Devotion
The under secretary of fine arts, with tears in his eyes told a committee of the Brotherhood of Artists, of the case of a painter who, being called for military duty was obliged to leave his wife and four children almost destitute: "Do thy duty without worrying about us. The city, state and our associations will look after us women and children." In her letter the wife enclosed a money order for $1, out of William Peixotto, member of the American committee appointed to assist American tourists in Paris and James Smith Thompson, former president of the American Chamber of Commerce in Paris, have informed the Minister of Commerce that they would like to see Americans place some orders with French industries, but there was the difficulty of transportation and also an inability to determine that such orders could be filled in view of restricted postal facilities. Minister Thompson said steps were being taken to re-establish the normal freight service from the principal industrial centers and that the Bank of France would offer the fullest possible facilities for the discounting of commercial paper. He added that the government would still further limit the effects of the moratorium in order to permit manufacturers to use the capital which they had on deposit with the banks.

Brandenburg, Loaded With Coal and Food, May Supply Cruisers

Philadelphia, Aug. 21.—The North German Lloyd steamship Brandenburg today took out clearance papers for Bergen, Norway, and will sail for that port some time during the day or to-night. There has been much activity aboard the ship for several days and it is stated that 10,000 tons of coal has been delivered to her. This has been placed everywhere, even being piled in the staterooms and on deck. The captain explains that this big supply is necessary because it will require two months to steam to Bergen. It is also stated that enough provisions have been taken on board to feed the crew for a year. The mystery surrounding the ship has led to much conjecture concerning her true nature. It is reported she will try to deliver the coal to German warships cruising in this vicinity or else will proceed to Germany and become a hospital ship. It is pointed out that she is too old and slow to be converted into a war cruiser. The Brandenburg arrived here August 5 with passengers and cargo destined for Galveston. Because of danger of capture by British warships it was decided to keep the boat here and send the passengers and cargo by rail.

President Klein Reaches Eighty-third Milestone

THEODORE B. KLEIN

When the hotel clerk at Galen Hall, Wernersville, gets the mail sack tomorrow morning he will wonder at the weight of it until he investigates, and then he will find letters and cards galore, all addressed "To the Hon. Theodore B. Klein, President of the Historical Society of Dauphin County." Mr. Klein will celebrate his eighty-third birthday Saturday, August 22, and, as usual, friends from all over this city and the state, too, will send him greetings. Everyone knows this distinguished resident of Harrisburg and delights to do him honor; from those chums of his boyhood who still call him "Dorie" to the later acquaintances whose friendship is no less sincere.

More Tourists Write of Troubles in Europe

Miss Mabel Bashore, of the music department of Wilson College, writes from San Sebastian, Spain, to her brother, Dr. Harvey B. Bashore, of West Fairview, of the difficulties in causing travelers' checks. "I landed in San Sebastian August 4," writes Miss Bashore. "We had heard nothing of the war and did not know there was trouble between the powers until we tried to get checks cashed. Then the trouble started. We appealed to the American, French and English consuls and finally succeeded in raising money. The French consul is now making efforts to transport Americans from San Sebastian across southern France to Genoa, where we believe we will be able to secure passage home." Mrs. William M. L. Wells, of Fourth and Maclay streets, received word yesterday from her son, William H. Wells, who is now studying French in Paris after graduating from the University of Pennsylvania. Mr. Wells writes that the tales of Americans stranded in Paris are exaggerated, as all hotels there are closed. Americans are not molested by the French soldiers passing through the capital city on the way to the front. Mr. Wells also says he has seen many riots and actual fighting which he will not soon forget. He hopes to return home in September to teach in the Allentown high school.

PLANS ARE ALREADY MADE IN VATICAN TO ELECT ANOTHER POPE

New Head of Catholic Church Will Need 42 of 65 Possible Votes

Rome, Aug. 21.—Rome mourned deeply today the death of Pope Pius, but the sorrow did not prevent the active furtherance of preparations for the holding of a conclave for the election of a new head of the church. There was much speculation as to the probable outcome of the election, but the view appeared to prevail that owing to the divided state of Europe just now it was almost certain that an Italian would be chosen, as the Italian cardinals form the strongest section of the sacred college.

INSANITY PLEA OF SMITH IS ANSWERED

Act of 1874 Doesn't Apply Because Defendant Isn't Convicted

The State, through District Attorney M. E. Stroup, yesterday afternoon formally answered the petition of Edward G. Smith, now awaiting trial in September for the murder of his grandfather, John E. Bush, and who some weeks ago petitioned for the appointment of a commission to inquire into Smith's sanity.

In the petition of the defense, the act of 1874 was cited and upon its provisions the court was asked to name a commission because it was alleged that Smith was insane, was growing worse and was in no position to defend himself upon the murder charge, and would require treatment and confinement in an insane institution.

In replying District Attorney Stroup points out that the act of 1874 does not apply in that it specifically provides for application for a commission where the defendant has been convicted or acquitted.

Cardinals May Not Be Held Within Vatican
Rome, Aug. 21.—It is asserted that the cardinals have discussed the advisability of holding the conclave for the election of a successor to Pius X without shutting themselves within the Vatican throughout their deliberations as has been the traditional practice. Heretofore each cardinal had had an apartment in the palace with accommodations also for his secretary and servants and on the occasion of the last conclave the three days' session of the Sacred College cost $120,000.
