CANOEISTS ARE GLAD TO BE HOME AGAIN

Have Delightful Trip and Spend the Week Camping Near Millerstown

Tired out with want of sleep and hungry for mother's good old-fashioned and well-cooked victuals, the members of Camp Bum-It, Henry W. Stewart, of 808 Chestnut street, and Walter G. Fogelson, of 1055 South Ninth street, drifted into this city Saturday noon.

These two young men left Harrisburg, Saturday, August 22, for a week's canoe trip up the Susquehanna. Saturday they reached Dauphin and camped over night in their tent, thinking the hotel accommodations would be rather poor. Early the next morning they started again on their way, going as far as Newport, where they took in the weekly movies. By Wednesday they reached Millerstown where they met the Hick-a-Thrift Club from Harrisburg.

After enjoying the pleasures of Millerstown, they returned to camp which was one mile above. By this time, they started to hunger for some of mother's good old-fashioned biscuits and stove-cooked food, instead of camp fire potatoes, and burned bacon and eggs, so they determined to start for home. After some hard paddling, but a week's good time, they landed in this city, going merrily to the popular old "Home, Sweet Home."

"LEAGUE" FORGOT THE LITTLE BOSS

Only Four Persons Turned Out to Greet McCormick in Ye Ancient Town of Dauphin

ONE MAN HUSTLED UP THREE

Candidate Said He Was Behind His Schedule and Had to Hasten Toward the North

Special to The Telegraph. Dauphin, Pa., Aug. 31.—Vance C. McCormick, exuding his new thought Democratic propaganda, and bound for Erie, Pa., to hold an enthusiastic reception here Saturday morning, his audience, all four of them, were mighty pleased to see the gubernatorial candidate. As one of them expressed it afterward, "It isn't every day you can see a guy who spends $23,000 to get a nomination, at least, not this side of Cameron and Manly streets."

It had been widely heralded that McCormick would be in town at exactly 8:30 o'clock Saturday morning. Arrangement had been completed a week earlier when Lewis M. Neiffer, E. Moeslein and Charles Rubendall visited Dauphin and formed the "McCormick-Palmer League." The "league" was supposed to greet the $23,000 candidate Saturday. It was pretty well formed, that "league," as Rubendall, one of the organizers, has been openly a republican in the Republican and Keystone parties. He would probably have had more experience if there had been more political parties.

Well, McCormick arrived and looked for the "league." There was nothing within a league or so that even resembled it. After his car had stopped in front of Stricker's store in Main street one of the town residents strolled up. Beaming a typical candidate's smile, McCormick arose. So did E. Moeslein, president of the league, who had even a more rosy beam on his countenance.

"I want you to meet our next Governor," he said to the crowd.

"Hey, Harry," he called to another resident, who was coming across the street with two large pieces of pastebread under his arm, "come on over here and meet a friend of mine."

"Wait a minute," said Harry, "I want to fix these up first." He passed on into the store and a minute later came out with two photographs of Martin G. Brumbaugh, taken in front of a window. Then he came out and shook hands with the other candidate, who had by this time grown a trifle frigid.

"The board of trustees of the Rittersville State Homeopathic Asylum has adopted plans for the erection of a number of buildings adjudged necessary for the proper conduct of the institution. For this purpose the board has a fund of $105,000, appropriated by the last Legislature. Drawings have been made, the plans conforming to what has been found desirable from experience.

The new structure will be a reception building for the admission and proper care and treatment of recoverable patients; two buildings for tubercular patients, a nurses' home for men, and an isolation cottage. There will also be a tramway for hauling the coal men from the Central Railroad of New Jersey to the power house.

Lord Roberts Admits England Is in Danger

London, Aug. 31.—Field Marshal Lord Roberts, addressing a meeting for the purpose of obtaining recruits for the army, asserted that the country was in great danger. There was no use in mincing words, he said; defeat would mean ruin, shame and slavery.

"Our soldiers are fighting bravely," said Lord Roberts, "but they are lamentably few, and it is the duty of every able-bodied man to see that the army is maintained at its full strength. The women must not stand in the light of their sons' and husbands' duty."
