

THE GLOBE—STORE CLOSES TO-MORROW AT NOON

Tartans! Tartans! Tartans!

The Fall Suits are here! And Autumn's most favored cloths are Tartan Plaids—real Scotch woolens and elegant worsteds in all the beautiful Clannish colorings.

GLOBE TARTANS will "catch on" with the men who are discriminate about the matter of dress—because there's such a swinging air about GLOBE MODELS that they will be the favorites of the young fellows of 20 and the older fellows of 40. For example, take—

"THE DARTMOUTH"—a jaunty, free and easy model—has bull-dog lapels—narrow shoulders—flap or patch pockets—athletic vest and narrow trousers—it keeps the older man looking years younger and gives the young fellow a manly appearance.

Globe Tartans AT $15 TO $30

These cool evenings suggest a GLOBE Balmacaan or a light weight overcoat—they're here—$15—$20 and $25

How About the Boys' Clothes?

Now that your boy is going to school—how about his clothes? School days are hard on 'em and the only thing to do is buy him the best your money can buy—"GLOBE SPECIAL" TWO PANTS SUITS will "fill 'em" and they only cost $5.00

CHARITIES WILL GET HEARING HERE

Arrangements Being Made by the State Board For Three Hearings During Autumn

Arrangements have been made by the State Board of Public Charities to hear applications for State appropriations at Philadelphia, Harrisburg and Pittsburgh this Fall, the eastern and central State, semi-State and charitable institutions to be heard late in October and the western institutions in November. The board will make recommendations to the Legislature after hearing all applications and making investigations where it is deemed necessary to do so.

The aggregate of the charitable appropriations approved at the close of the last legislative session was very close to the recommendations of the State Board.

It is probable that the findings of the State Economy and Efficiency Commission in regard to State institutions which it has investigated will be submitted to the board about the time of the hearings.

Fairs Are Better.—Reports reaching the State Capitol indicate that gambling and questionable shows have practically disappeared from the fairs and agricultural exhibitions held throughout the State. None has been reported from fairs which receive State aid and there has been a marked improvement in others, according to A. L. Martin, Deputy Secretary of Agriculture, who has been visiting many of the exhibitions. Several years ago payment of State money to fairs which permitted the sale of goods was stopped by A. E. Sisson, when Auditor General, and it has had a wholesome effect.

State Charters.—State charters have been issued as follows: Pressman Tire Company, Philadelphia, capital $10,000; Buddha Tea Company, Pittsburgh, capital $5,000; Coliere Memorial company, Philadelphia, capital $30,000; Mahoning Coal Company, Putneyville, capital $12,000; Urban Feature Film and Service Company, Johnstown, capital $10,000.

Still Going Up.—Capitol Hill officials expect the receipts from automobile and traction engine licenses to pass the $1,250,000 mark before the end of the year. The State will receive $100,000 of that sum and applications for licenses are coming in. The applications for 1915 tags will be received after November 1, although no date has been set.

Will Contest Case.—Arrangements are being made by the Attorney General's Department for a test this fall in the case of the Chief of Mines that he has authority to issue new certificates along the lines recently followed and objected to by mine workers. Two actions in equity have been filed, mostly by Schuylkill county miners.

Increase in Pupils.—Reports received at the Department of Public Instruction indicate that the school terms which opened this week have large increases of pupils. In the cities the increase is especially notable.

Drawing Up Answer.—Dr. J. M. Baldy, president of the Bureau of Medical Education and Licensure, and Deputy Attorney General Cunningham and Wolf to-day arranged the State end of the osteometry act.

Board in Session.—The State Board of Charities was in session here yesterday hearing reports.

Delegation Here.—Dr. Samuel G. Dixon, Commissioner of Health, to-day discussed purification problems with authorities of Conneville, Montrose and Union City.

Insurance Board Here.—Representatives R. J. Baldwin, Delaware, and Robert S. Frey, York, were here for a meeting of the State insurance board.

Lancaster Charter.—The Penn Lime, Stone and Cement Company, of Lancaster, was chartered yesterday afternoon with $5,000 capital.

Less in Fees.—The income from the department of the Secretary of the Commonwealth, every cent of which goes to the State Treasury, had an awful slump in August. Ordinarily it does business at from $25,000 to $50,000 per month in fees. In August it was but $16,165. There were but sixty-two charters. The bulk of the income is from corporation fees, showing the effect of business now.

Paying Nearby Districts.—Jackson township to-day received $1,523.96 as school appropriation and Anville $1,927.95.

HEARD ON THE "HILL"
All 1913 state tax settlements will be closed up within a week and another record made.

GLAD HE DIDN'T SAIL

Otto Fischer, a daughtsman in the bridge and construction department of the Pennsylvania Steel Company, is congratulating himself to-day over the fact that he didn't sail on the Holland-American steamer, New Amsterdam, as he had planned to do. Fischer is a reservist of the Austrian army, formerly serving as a lieutenant in the machine gun corps. What was the first call came for reservists to return to the colors, Fischer laid aside his drawing board and squares and prepared to return to his post in the Austrian army. He went to New York to take the New Amsterdam for Europe. He was advised by the Austrian consul not to take the boat, so he returned to his work here. Yesterday the New Amsterdam was reported captured by the French and the passengers held as prisoners. This led steamship agents here to announce that Fischer was probably among those taken prisoners.
