EUROPEAN WAR MAY STOP SCHEDULES

Through Trains to and From Pittsburgh Over Reading, Impossible With Present Business

War in Europe and failure on the part of the railroads to secure freight and passenger increase concessions, may delay the running of through passenger trains from Pittsburgh to Harrisburg over the Reading system.

Plans have been under consideration for two through trains, east and west. The route is from Pittsburgh to Conowingo, thence over the Western Maryland line to Shippensburg and over the Philadelphia, Harrisburg and Pittsburgh branch to Harrisburg.

Recently special trains were run from Pittsburgh to Philadelphia, New York and Atlantic City over this route. The trains went through on record time, and the officials were much pleased with the experiments. It is now announced that until business picks up the through train proposition will be dropped.

Railroad Answers To-morrow—The Interstate Commerce Commission expects to announce to-morrow at noon whether it will reopen the advance freight rate case upon the petition of the eastern railroads. Protests of shippers against a further hearing already have been made. The rate case was decided July 29. It denied the application for a general increase of 5 per cent in rates, but permitted roads between Pittsburgh and Chicago to advance class and commodity rates 5 per cent. No increase whatever was granted east of Pittsburgh.

In their petition for a rehearing the eastern roads asserted their reports since the case was decided continued to show decreases in operating income, and that that situation was aggravated by conditions arising from the European war.

Reading Losses on Coal—Due to the large falling off in sales of anthracite coal, the annual report, issued yesterday, of the Philadelphia and Reading Coal and Iron Company, for the year ended June 30, showing heavy decreases in gross and net earnings. Iron earnings were $22,703,882, a decrease of $8,279,881. Net operating profit was $48,367, or $2,938,551 less than in the previous year. After the payment of fixed charges, the surplus left was $15,390, a decrease of $424,202.

President W. J. Richards in his annual report says: "The total production of anthracite coal from the lands owned, leased and controlled by the company for the year ended June 30, 1914, was 10,271,600 tons, as compared with 12,507,296 tons mined during the previous year, a decrease of 2,235,697 tons or 18.8 per cent.

"During the year the company mined

self and then broke down with emotion. The anthem was taken up by the spectators in the gallery as well as by the members and the singing was heard in the palace yard.

As the members filed out of the chamber Mr. Crooks cried out "God save Ireland."

John Redmond, the Irish Nationalist leader replied: "God save England."

Parliament will sit again October 27. Mr. Redmond, who was the recipient of many warm congratulations in the lobbies of the House after adjournment, left later in the day for Ireland where he will take part in the recruiting campaign.

King George's Speech In his speech from the throne prologuing Parliament King George spoke to-day as follows: "My Lords and Gentlemen: I address you in circumstances that call for action rather than for speech. After every endeavor had been made by my government to preserve the peace of the world, I was compelled in the assertion of treaty obligations solemnly set at naught and for the protection of the public law of Europe and the vital interests of my empire to go to war.

"My navy and my army have with unceasing vigilance, courage and skill sustained, in association with our gallant and faithful allies, just and righteous cause. From every part of my empire there has been a spontaneous and enthusiastic rally to our common flag.

"Gentlemen of the House of Commons: I think you for the liberality with which you have met a great emergency. My Lords and Gentlemen we are fighting for a worthy purpose and we shall not lay down our arms until that purpose has been fully achieved.

"I rely with confidence upon the loyal and united efforts of all my subjects and I pray that almighty God may give us His blessing."

Great works are performed, not by strength, but by perseverance. —Johnson.

CASCARETS FOR BOWELS TONIGHT No headache, constipation, bad cold or sour stomach by morning. Get a 10-cent box. Sick headache, biliousness, coated tongue, head and nose clogged up with a cold—always trace this to food liver; delayed, fermenting food in the bowels or sour, gassy stomach. Poisonous matter clogged in the intestines, instead of being cast out of the system, is reabsorbed into the blood. When this poison reaches the delicate brain tissue it causes congestion and that dull, throbbing, sickening headache. Cascarets immediately cleanse the stomach, remove the sour, undigested food and foul gases, take the excess bile from the liver and carry out all the constipated waste matter and poisons in the bowels. A Cascaret to-night will surely lighten you up by morning. They work while you sleep—10-cent box from your druggist means your head clear, stomach sweet and your liver and bowels regular for months.—Advertisement.

DR. STITES NAMED TO HAMBURG POST

Dr. Dixon Selects Chief Inspector of Dispensaries For the New Position Today

Dr. T. A. Stites, medical inspector of dispensaries of the State Department of Health since the organization of the division of dispensaries, was today named as chief inspector of the new State sanatorium at Hamburg. Dr. Stites comes from Scranton and is a graduate of Princeton and the University of Pennsylvania. He materially assisted Dr. Dixon in the development of the system of dispensaries.

Dr. Stites will leave shortly for Hamburg to take charge of the institution which will soon open its doors.

Dr. Karl Schaffle will act as inspector of dispensaries for the present. To Test Act.—The Dollar Savings Bank of Pittsburgh filed an affidavit to a state proceeding to escheat unclaimed bank deposits in which no act is given that it intends to contest the act of 1872 and start a proceeding of state-wide importance. The State recently proceeded against the bank in a new way, the first proceeding having been abandoned, and the answer just filed charges that constitutional rights are invaded and that there is no authority in law for what the State proposes to do. The act is attacked as unconstitutional and it is declared that the Auditor General is not authorized to sue.

STEELTON MISS SWARTZ DRAMATICAL CONTEST

W. C. T. U. Sessions Close With Re-election of the Old Officers

With an oratorical contest in the United Brethren Church Highspire last evening, the thirtieth annual convention of the Dauphin County Women's Christian Temperance Union was brought to an auspicious close.

The contest was won by Miss Martha Swartz, of Middletown. She was awarded a handsome gold medal. At the afternoon session all the old officers were re-elected. They are: President, Mrs. M. Marjory Stees, of Steelton; vice-president, Mrs. Harriet Kennedy, of Harrisburg; corresponding secretary, Mrs. E. M. J. Goho, of Harrisburg; recording secretary, Miss Ida Spahr, of Harrisburg, and treasurer, Mrs. S. A. Fishburn, of Pennsylvania.

When the roll call was read by the secretary, Miss Ida Spahr, 473 members, 13 superintendents, 23 honorary members and 67 new members responded. Three members died during the year.

A committee consisting of Mrs. Mary Rollinson, Mrs. Harriet Kennedy, Mrs. Harry Saylor, Mrs. Anna Saylor, all of Harrisburg, and Mrs. S. A. Fishburn, of Pennsylvania, was appointed to attend the State convention at Allentown, October 2 to 6. The committee will leave for Allentown in the afternoon. The European war, advocated a law to make the nation self-sufficient and reported that 2,000 copies of reading matter had been distributed in jails and hospitals during the year.

MERCHANTS ON OUTING

A strong spirit of fellowship marked the first outing of the members of the Steelton Merchants' Association and their wives at Linglestown, last evening. About 100 persons were in attendance. Short speeches were made by Burgess Fred Wigfield, Councilman T. J. Nelly, M. J. Kane and B. F. McNear. The outing left for Linglestown in a special car over the Harrisburg Railways lines at 6.40. At Linglestown a chicken and waffle supper was served. This is the first outing of the kind held by the local merchants and the affair was so successful that an effort will be made to have several similar affairs during the year.

TRIES TO KILL GIRL HE COULDN'T WED Enraged Suitor Attempts to Slay Pretty Austrian Girl Who Scorns Him

Enraged, it is alleged, because she refused his proposal of marriage, Savag Remic, an Austrian, seized a large carving knife and attempted to kill Sophia Putin, a pretty Austrian girl, at her home, 262 Franklin street, last evening, according to charges made before Squire Gardner this morning.

Remic, according to witnesses, was prevented from carrying out his intentions by the timely intervention of Ranko Zivkov and Mary Valesco, who were attracted to the scene by the girl's screams. When they entered the room, they say, the girl was cowering on one side of a large dining table and Remic was on the opposite side making desperate lunges at her with the knife.

The other man and woman overpowered Remic and turned him over to Constable Bomgardner, who took him to jail to await a hearing before Squire Gardner.

GOVERNMENT VESSEL RAMMED BY COLLIER

at Flower Island, and her four children were lost. Mrs. A. Byrem, wife of a lighthouse keeper at Belle Isle, and her seven children were aboard the Montagny. How many of them were saved was not known this morning.

Survivors were picked up by the steam collier Potana and taken to Grosse Ile. The government boat Abasco was ordered to bring them from Grosse Ile to Quebec.

The Montagny was on her way from Quebec to the Gulf of St. Lawrence and the Straits of Belle Isle, N. F. She had aboard a cargo of coal and provisions for wireless stations and signal service stations along the coast. Although the Montagny was not a passenger vessel, she was utilized to transport the families of the lighthouse keepers at Belle Isle and Flower Island to their stations.

perior William, is progressing normally, but it will be several weeks before he is wholly restored, according to an announcement at the Imperial Court to-day.

No news from official sources for publication has been received since mid-July, when reports of attacks and battle is still in progress. Otherwise there is little illuminating news for the German public, and not the slightest hint of the movements or positions of the German army for the last ten days has been disclosed by the military authorities, who are determined to veil the situation in absolute mystery until a decision is reached. They decline to discuss the statements made in French and English dispatches.

The wording of the latest German bulletin may perhaps be interpreted as indicating that there is only a series of minor engagements in progress, but it is understood that this is not the case, and that the attacks and counter attacks mentioned are part of a heavy general engagement.

Meanwhile the severity of the censorship on the Russian front has been relaxed and a number of stories are circulating through from which it is possible to draw a general picture of the operations leading to the defeat of General Rennenkampf's Russian army.

Took Strong Position From Sept. 7 to 13 the Russians took a strong position on the line from Angerburg to Gerdaunen, Allenburg and Kehlau, the left wing resting on the Mazurian lakes and the right wing protected in the rear and flank by the forest of Frisching, whose pathless woods and swamps are practically almost impregnable position. The Russians devoted great efforts to entrenching their position and brought up besides their heavy artillery. Russian cavalry scouted far to the west and south, but otherwise the army undertook no offensive operations in the vicinity of Soldau, adding them to reinforcements received from the front.

General Hindenburg, the German commander, meanwhile was assembling every available man, depriving the fortresses of their garrisons and calling in all but a bare remnant of the force protecting the southern frontier in the vicinity of Soldau, adding them to reinforcements received from the front.

Flanking Force South General Hindenburg again resorted to the customary German outflanking movement and since the Russian right, protected by the forest and marshes, seemed so strong, he adopted the daring strategy of sending the flanking force from the lake region to the south, the same character of movement by which the Russian Naraw army was trapped and captured a short time before, and which, in case of failure, might have been equally as disastrous for the Germans.

The strategy, however, succeeded, although General Rennenkampf offered a desperate resistance to the frontal attacks. After three days' fighting the Russians were forced back slightly in the center. When the flank movement of the Germans was discovered already threatening the flank, a counter movement was launched against it with a new army collected at Lyck, but the counter attacks failed, and on September 10 the Russians began to fall back on their main position.

The Russian artillery on the right wing appears to have made a good general retreat, but the left wing was hard pressed by the enveloping German infantry. From this wing the Russians retreated across the border in two columns, while the main body went northward and the others in an easterly direction, pursued by the Germans, who advanced far from the border.

The German government has appointed Count Von Merfeldt as governor of the Russian province of Suwalki and other points occupied by them.
