ANNUAL REUNION OF 130TH PENNA. REG'T

Survivors of Famous Battle Organization Hold Business Meeting and Campfire

Special to The Telegraph
Mechanicsburg, Pa., Sept. 18.—Yesterday the twenty-sixth annual reunion of the survivors of the One Hundred and Thirtieth Regiment, Pennsylvania Volunteers, was held in the postroom of the Colonel H. I. Zinn Post, No. 415, Grand Army of the Republic. This regiment, with Colonel H. I. Zinn, fought in some of the most important battles, including Antietam, Fredericksburg and Chancellorsville. Colonel Zinn was killed at the battle of Fredericksburg.

The number of survivors present at the session was forty and there were also present about twenty members of the Ladies' Auxiliary of the regiment. The oldest member present was Isaiah Steigman, of Shiremanstown, who is 85 years old. There are 190 members of the regiment living.

Since the last meeting twenty-four were reported dead.

At the business session in the morning these officers were elected for the ensuing year:

President, Jacob Bitner, of Marysville; vice-president, William Murtorf, of Reading; secretary, J. D. Hemminger, of Carlisle; treasurer, A. C. Fink, of Carlisle; surgeon, Dr. W. L. McKibben, of Amaranth; chaplain, the Rev. J. H. Young, of New Cumberland.

The Ladies' Auxiliary elected the following officers: President, Mrs. Mary A. Zinn; first vice-president, Mrs. W. L. Stoyer; second vice-president, Mrs. Whistler; secretary, Mrs. Frank Gates; treasurer, Mrs. Robert Dukes.

The committee on resolutions reported thanks of association to Post 415, G. A. R., Mechanicsburg, for use of room; to the Woman's Relief Corps of Mechanicsburg for their presence and encouragement; to the citizens generally for courtesy and hospitality, and to the Rev. George Fulton, pastor of the Presbyterian Church, for his services.

At the campfire in the afternoon the address of welcome was given by F. K. Ployer, and the response by Dr. W. L. McKibben. Among other speakers were Colonel George A. Zinn, of the Engineering Corps, U. S. A., of Philadelphia, son of Colonel H. I. Zinn; J. D. Hemminger, Major John Kirk, Mrs. Alice S. Hauck and H. S. Mohler. Flags and china asters decorated the postroom.

Next year, on September 17, the reunion will be held in Carlisle upon invitation of Adjutant John Hays that the regiment be his personal guests.

BISTLINE-ADAMS WEDDING

Special to The Telegraph
Newport, Pa., Sept. 18.—In the presence of the immediate families the Rev. William C. Ney, of St. Paul's Lutheran Church, and pastor of the bride, married Laura May Adams, daughter of Mrs. Joseph W. Adams, to George P. Bistline at the Adams residence, in Mulberry street, at 7 o'clock yesterday morning. The bride was given away by her mother. Immediately after the ceremony a wedding breakfast was served and later in the day the couple left for a tour which will include Washington, D. C., Norfolk, Va., New York and a trip up the Hudson. Mr. Bistline has for years been engaged in an official capacity with the Newport tannery and Mrs. Bistline is one of our popular school teachers.

ENDEAVOR CONVENTION

Special to The Telegraph
Mifflinburg, Pa., Sept. 18.—The twenty-first annual convention of the Union County Christian Endeavor Society was held here. The following program included an address of welcome by the Rev. Dr. M. H. Calkins, pastor of the Mifflinburg Presbyterian Church, and response by the president of the Union Christian Endeavor Society, the Rev. B. F. Bieher, of West Milton. An address by the Rev. William Rearick, pastor of the Lutheran Church, followed. After a few minutes devoted to the general reception of the delegates an afternoon session was opened by a praise service, presided over by the Rev. Dr. K. O. Otis Spessard, pastor of the Mifflinburg Reformed Church, followed by very interesting reports by the district presidents of the Christian Endeavor.

Woman Drops Dead in Street at Waynesboro

Special to The Telegraph
Waynesboro, Pa., Sept. 18.—Miss Mary Clark Davis, a well-known resident of this city, dropped dead on Wednesday night while walking along in front of the residence of Charles Crouse. The news of Miss Davis' sudden death spread rapidly and in a short time a large number of persons were on the scene. She had not complained at any time during the evening and appeared to be in her usual good health. Apoplexy was the cause of her death.

Miss Davis was 44 years old, and was a daughter of George and Rebecca Davis. She lived in Waynesboro all her life and for a number of years had kept house for her uncle, Clayton M. Frey. Both her father and mother are dead, her mother and a brother dying suddenly, as she did.

ENTERTAINED FOR GUEST
Special to The Telegraph

Those invited to meet Mrs. Dunmire were Mrs. Perry K. Brandt, Mrs. Amos W. Kough, Mrs. J. Emory Fleisher, Mrs. George S. Smoyer, Mrs. William C. Flicker, Mrs. Gilbert Haven Frank, Mrs. Francis A. Fry, Mrs. William C. Ney, Mrs. Edith M. Barton, Mrs. Charles Cox Brandt, Mrs. Lena A. Carl, the Misses Grace McManigal, Eva Robinson, Claire R. Demaree, Helen Eugene Rippman, Marguerite Rippman, Nelle McKenzie Kough, Jessie Marie Kough, Belle Clair, Keen, of New York, and Jodie Arnold, of Texarkana, Ark.

SCHOOL PRINCIPAL CHOSEN
Special to The Telegraph
Marietta, Pa., Sept. 18.—George D. Farrell, of Muncy, Pa., was last evening elected principal of the Marietta high school to fill the vacancy caused by the resignation of Professor William Sohl, who will teach in the boys' high school at Lancaster.

SPORTSMAN WOUNDED
Special to The Telegraph
Marietta, Pa., Sept. 18.—Albert Speice, a sportsman of near town, while engaged yesterday in cleaning his gun prior to attending a match was accidentally shot in the right hand and will lose several fingers.

Hawkins a Big Star
J. M. Hawkins, professional, of Baltimore, Md., headed the entire field with his aggregate of 172 out of 175 in the full day's events. The Mountaintop City expert jumped to the fore through his splendid run of a hundred straight in the last five events.

N. M. Foord, of Wilmington, topped the amateurs. He chipped 171 out of 175 blue rocks. Henderson, Hand, Behm and Adams tied for second place with 170 broken among the "Simon pures."

H. L. Worthington, of Baltimore, holds the conservative target run record. He cracked 127 in line before missing. T. H. Fox, of York, Pa., follows next with 110 and Neaf Apgar holds third place with 106. All three are professionals. Foord heads the amateurs. He chipped 102 straight.

Neaf Apgar, of Plainfield, N. J., was re-elected president of the Westy Hogans at their annual meeting. He has been honored with the chair ever since its organization. J. M. Hawkins, of Baltimore, Md., vice-president, and Bernard Eleessor, York, Pa., secretary-treasurer, were re-elected. The tournament committee for the next class includes L. J. Spier, J. M. Hawkins, H. H. Stevens, T. H. Keller, Jr., C. A. North, James Lewis, George Benjamin and J. L. Clark.

Fifteenth-hundredth anniversary of the association practically decided to hold the next year's tournament on the new million dollar pier. Programs of several years ago were conducted on "Fort" pier until this structure burned. Venice Park has been opposed because of the out-of-the-way location.

MORE GOOD SCORES BY LOCAL SHOOTERS

Harrisburg and West Fairview Stars Held Their Own Yesterday; Westy Hogan Race

Special to The Telegraph
Atlantic City, N. J., Sept. 18.—Shooters from Harrisburg, Pa., and West Fairview, Pa., are holding a good position in the Westy Hogan events. The scores hung up yesterday were good for creditable money divisions. The scores follow:

J. G. Martin, 162; L. B. Warden, 166; H. B. Shoop, 156; Hoffman, 154. The West Fairview scores were: W. E. Hoover, 138; W. A. Miller, 154; D. H. Wagner, 144; Ed. Hatfield, 164; M. B. Stewart, 158.

F. S. Wright, of South Wales, N. Y., titleholder in the Empire State, annexed another crown by his consistent record. Wright only took the much-coveted laurels by the steeper nerve in the shoot-off, following his tie at the close of the day with Walter S. Behm, of Reading, champion of Pennsylvania; Bart Lewis, of Auburn, Ill., and J. G. Hand, of Tower City, Pa., each dropping ninety-eight out of the possible hundred.

Wright and Behm went perfect in the additional allotment of twenty targets, but the former did the Pennsylvanian one better in the next set by cracking nineteen against eighth of Behm. Lewis gained third berth and Hand went fourth as the result of their work in the extra sets.

Other winners in this title event were: R. H. Brauns, of Brookville, Ind.; E. L. Wilson, of Frenchtown, N. J.; H. E. Buckwalter, of Royersford, Pa.; N. M. Ford, of Wilmington, N. C.; Henderson, of Lexington, Ky.; Allen Heil, of Allentown, Pa.; Richard Gerstell, of Grafton, W. Va., and J. W. Mason, of Newark, N. J., who finished in the order named for prizes.
