The Great Style Event of the Autumn Season Is of Very Particular Interest to Every Woman

The style garments in the Festival of Autumn Fashions are our own very careful selection. This year we are setting a new record in the actual numbers of different style examples that will pass through our outerapparel sections this Fall.

Observant visitors to this week's style show have seen that the loose, wide blousiness from shoulder to waist has been discarded with the width of hipdraperies. Now is presented the Russian motif which outlines the figure, to this is added the tunic which may extend to the knee or to a seven-eighth length. This tunic may be plain, or, if you please, it may start from the sides forming a yoke. The figure silhouette expressed in many of the styles enables one to wear straight lines from shoulder to a point forming a low waist line.
