ROYAL TERRACE NOW READY FOR TENANTS

Newly Built-up Section of Hill Has Improved Method of Approach

With the placing of a light in the Jonestown road just east of Cameron street and the construction of a new bridge at Kings street on the same highway, an improved method of approach to Royal Terrace, the newly built-up section of the upper portion of Allison Hill, is provided. Finishing touches to a row of twenty-two cosy little houses are being added by W. A. McIlhenny, a clerk in the County Commissioners' office. Incidental arrangements have been completed for the occupancy of nineteen of them.

The houses are on a high bluff overlooking the city and the approach is made either by the Jonestown road from Cameron street or via State street. The Jonestown road had been more or less lighted and the plan to place a light a certain distance from Cameron street will help to make the highway more convenient for travel. The King street bridge, a concrete viaduct, is nearing completion. The omnibus street lighting ordinance which Mr. Bowman offered in Council yesterday.

BRUMBAUGH ASKS ABOUT THE WAR TAX

Demands to Know What Is the Necessity For the Additional Burden Upon People

Dr. Martin G. Brumbaugh, Republican nominee for Governor, last night at a rousing meeting in Lock Haven answered the puffs given to the national Democratic administration and its tariff law by Vance C. McCormick, candidate on the mule ticket, by asking if the country was faring so well if it was necessary to impose a hundred million-dollar new tax and why the mills and furnaces did not start up. The address was the culmination of a great day in Clinton county and caused widespread comment throughout the west branch valley to-day. Nothing has struck home better than the educator's importunate query and the effect was shown to-day by the interest shown in his candidacy in the upper part of Northumberland county.

To-day the campaign party will be in Liberty, where the speaker will be at Watonsville, Milton and Sunbury, winding up to-night with a big meeting at Sunbury. To-morrow Union, Snyder and Millin counties will be visited.

The meeting last night was the largest attended political rally of any party held in Lock Haven during the last twenty years. The Garden Theater, which seats 1,500, was filled half an hour before the meeting began and hundreds filled the aisles and thronged the doors, cheering every point made by the speakers.

Why the War Tax?
"Not at war with any country," Dr. Brumbaugh said in the course of his remarks, "and with no prospects of being involved, American workers will be forced to pay $100,000,000 in taxes which shall have come from import duties now lost through the Underwood tariff bill."

"Would it not be infinitely better for 'em' to have all our own people asked Dr. Brumbaugh, "to re-establish a protective policy adequate to the needs of our government and to the needs of our working people so that we shall have resources of our own with which to maintain our government and conduct all its different affairs and not to resort to the specious subterfuge of imposing a burden of $100,000,000 taxes upon peaceful people in the name of a war tax?"

Dr. Brumbaugh was particularly sharp in his criticism of the Democratic party, which he charged with "protection" which assails the fair name of Pennsylvania.

"Will the people hear them in this crisis?" he asked. "Has the day not long years of disappointment found them to be false, sordid spirits, seeking to exploit the public for their own selfish ends?"

"As to Administration
"I do not claim, I never have, that the affairs of Pennsylvania are perfectly administered. I do assert that they have been administered generally by able and nobler men than those who, in their greed, would have you regard all officials as rogues and scoundrels."

"Moreover, I am here to assure you in no vague or indefinite way that if you elect me Governor of Pennsylvania, there shall be a thorough and complete reorganization of the public service. Incompetency and incapacity shall go, as surely as shall go dishonesty. There shall be a new day of open, honest, effective service inaugurated for the people of Pennsylvania."

"Let no man doubt the full meaning of this declaration."
The Sideshow
But small crowds greeted the itinerants of the Palmer-McCormick party in Schuylkill county last night in Pottsville. There were less than two hundred who occupied seats in the Academy, notwithstanding that the coming of these candidates for these offices had been heralded generally before their coming in the press of the city and county.

Judge H. O. Bechtel presided, who, after a brief speech introducing Congressman Robert E. Lee, invited the jargards at the rear of the academy circle to come forward and occupy seats in the orchestra chairs. He told the audience that he would not occupy their time in a speech, but later on, in the month of October, he would appear there for his constituency and would then discuss the issues of the campaign.

Oklahoma Man Wins Odd Fellow Contest

Special to The Telegraph
Atlantic City, N. J., Sept. 23.—Administration dominated the convention of the Sovereign Grand Lodge of Odd Fellows, and Judge J. R. Robertson, of Oklahoma, chairman of the commission on appeals, and one of the strongest men in the order, was made Deputy Grand Master for the next two years, after six ballots had been taken. Wilson K. Mohr, of Allentown, Pa., for whom a boom was launched several days ago, was eliminated after the first ballot, on which he received nine votes.

Pennsylvania was recognized in the assignments for the important Sovereign Grand Lodge committees. W. K. Mohr, of Allentown, being continued a member of the judiciary council, James H. Avery, of Philadelphia, was appointed to the seasonal commission on finance, and Thomas H. Gross, also of Philadelphia, to the committee on Patriarchs Militant.

INFLAMED PIMPLES ITCHED AND BURNED

Very Hard and Sore. Thought Face Would Be Disfigured For Life. Hated to Go in Public. Cuticura Soap and Ointment Healed.

"718 N. 42nd St., Philadelphia, Pa." "At first my skin broke out in very fine pimples. They were inflamed and very red and they itched and burned me so very bad that I would scratch them until they bled. Whenever the blood from the pimples would touch a larger pimple would come and it would be very hard and sore. I thought my face would be disfigured for life. Instead of going away more came which would gather and have a black tip on them. This made my face very bad looking and it itched all the time so I could not sleep. I hated to go out in public."
"I used — and it made my face worse than it was. I used another remedy for nearly a year but they would break out twice as bad. I was worried nearly sick. Then I got Cuticura Soap and Ointment and inside of two weeks you could hardly tell that I ever had skin disease. The first night I found great relief. The pimples began to dry up and disappear and from that night on I never went to bed without washing my face with the Cuticura Soap and putting the Cuticura Ointment on my face, also on my arms and neck which had become affected. Now my skin is just as clear as it can be. Cuticura Soap and Ointment cured me." (Signed) Miss Vera B. Waddy, Jan. 25, 1914.

French Note Tells of Allies' Advances

Paris, Sept. 23, 3:07 p. m.—The following official communication was given out in Paris at 3 o'clock this afternoon:
"First—On our left wing, on the right bank of the river Oise we have advanced in the region of Lassigny, where there has been violent fighting with the enemy. On the left bank of the Oise and to the north of the river Aisne the situation is unchanged."
"Second—On the center, between Rheims and the river Meuse, there has been no change of importance. In the Woivre district, to the northeast of Verdun, and in the direction of Metz and Compiègne, the enemy undertook violent attacks which were, however, repulsed. In the southern part of the Woivre district the enemy holds a line from Eixecourt to Selchesprey to Ironville, from which he has not issued."
"Third—On our right wing in Lorraine and the Vosges, the Germans have evacuated Nancy and Arras and have shown little activity in the country around Domezre. The capture by the Russians of the fortress of Jaroslau in Galicia is announced."

Knox May Become Candidate For Senate

Philadelphia, Sept. 23.—The Public Ledger to-day says:
"Ex-Secretary of State Philander C. Knox according to a belief in political circles here and in Pittsburgh, is again a candidate for the United States Senate, this time to succeed Senator Oliver. Senator Oliver's term as Junior United States senator does not expire until March 3, 1917, but the election will take place in 1916, which, politically, is but a short time away. The significance of this is not only that Mr. Knox will be a candidate for the United States Senate, but also that he is, according to information received here, preparing to remove his voting residence from Valley Forge to Pittsburgh."

Battle Progressing in Favor of Allies

London, Sept. 23, 8:25 A. M.—The correspondent of the Times at Bordeaux has this to say of the big battle that is being waged in France:
"The battle from the Aisne to the Woivre progresses slowly but methodically in favor of the allies. Both sides have been engaged the last few days in sending reinforcements and assembling new forces on the firing line."

GAG RULE TO FORCE DEMOCRATIC TAX BILL

partments to practice economy. There are many things which can wait over. Temporary delay in many cases will be no injury.

"If we were manufacturing the goods we use, instead of importing them, we would have prosperity, and if we had a sufficiently high import duty on the goods we bring in from abroad, we would have sufficient revenue without taxation. What we need now is economy and not next taxes. Which we have under the Democratic Administration is extravagance and additional taxation."

The minority members of the committee, although they argue that conditions would have been much better under a protective tariff, profess to see no danger in the Treasury situation and declare that the practice of economy by the party in control of affairs would serve to meet the difficulty much better than a tax.

The theory that the withdrawal of government surplus in banks would be dangerous is combated by the Republicans. In their report, after showing that the Treasury balance on September 2 was $122,843,190, said: "We fall to see wherein a gradual withdrawal of the money in these banks, as the Treasury may need it, will have any more serious effect on the banks and business generally than the withdrawal of the much larger sum from the people by increased taxation."
