OLD AND NEW MEN IN WORLD'S SERIES

Connie Mack Has the Veteran Players; Youngsters to Battle For the Boston Braves

New York, Oct. 3.—When the Philadelphia Athletics and the Boston Braves go into action in the twenty-third series for the world's championship baseball honors the diamond campaign will be fought out by teams which represent the old and new in the national sport. Although the average age of the leading players of the two combinations is not widely separated the Athletics' machine is so famous and its success so striking that it appears old by comparison with the squad that George Stallings whipped in shape in midsummer and thus won a pennant for Boston. Taking twenty odd players of the two teams as a basis it will be found that the average age of the Athletics is twenty-six and one-half years and the Braves twenty-four and three-fourths years. While less than two years in average age separates the teams the extremes are more marked in the Athletics than in the Braves. Plank, Bender, Coombs, Odling, Lapp and Thomas. All are past thirty, but the majority of those who will figure in the daily line-up are several years under this age. The three youngest players in the squad are the pitchers, Bush, Pennock and Wyckoff.

Americans Have Advantage The American League representatives have the advantage in years of baseball experience for the Philadelphia club players average fully a year more in time spent upon the professional than the Boston players. The Braves average is remarkably five years with Johnny Evers heading the list with twelve years of play. The point of professional service Plank leads the Athletics with thirteen years of baseball play and experience at his back. Bender is but one year behind and several others just fall short of double figures in their diamond career. As a result the Athletics' average is six years notwithstanding the fact that a number of comparative youngsters are marshaled under the Philadelphia flag.

The team which will act as the standard bearers of the National League is an interesting combination of the youth and the age of the diamond. In some cases extremes have been blended by Manager Stallings in a careful manner to make of the Braves a winning team. This fact is illustrated in two notable cases. Principal figures in the scheme of attack and defense which enabled the Braves to win to the front of the stirring race in the National League.

Veteran of Many Games Johnny Evers, veteran of nearly 2,000 games, a figure prominent in the recent history of the sport, has worked in effective collaboration about second base with "Rabbit" Maranville, barely more than a boy, playing his second season with a major league club. The same combination of old and young is found in the records of the men of the outfield, and of the pitching staff. These figures show the oldest member of the team to be Otto Hess, with 33 years behind him. Almost a boy, Paul Strand at 19 years is the baby of the team.

The statistics of the players who are likely to participate in the world's series of 1914 are as follows:

Three Star Pitchers Who Have Held Boston Braves in the Lead

James, Tyler and Rudolph have developed into first-class pitchers, and their work has brought the Boston Braves to the lead of the National League and in sight of the pennant. James went to Boston from the Portland, Ore. team, while many big league managers had a chance at Rudolph and could see nothing in him. Tyler has been with Boston some time.

"BOB" SHAWKEY TO WED "TIGER LADY"

Former Harrisburg Twirler Admits That Reports Are True; Announcement a Surprise

"Bob" Shawkey, the former Harrisburg twirler, now with Connie Mack, will marry Mrs. Herbert Marvin Clapp, better known as the "Tiger Lady," soon after the world's series. Announcement of the engagement was made in Philadelphia last night. Both Shawkey and Mrs. Clapp admitted that the reports were true. A dispatch from Philadelphia says:

"Mrs. Clapp was divorced from her husband four years ago. H. Mason Clapp, known as the 'Boot Black King,' died in Japan a year ago. 'Her married life with Clapp was tempestuous. Four years ago she was made defendant in an action brought by his wife, who accused him of assault and battery. Nothing ever came of the case. In her charges Mrs. Clapp asserted her husband tried to kill her, but was shot himself in a struggle for possession of a revolver.

"In December, 1911, Clapp and two detectives charged that they had found Mrs. Clapp with another man in a house near Seventeenth and Mount Vernon streets. He immediately began divorce proceedings and was granted an absolute divorce some months later.

"He then went to Japan, where he died a year ago. Since her divorce Mrs. Clapp has been living at the home of her sister, Mrs. Roberta C. LeKier, at 6216 Vine street.

"Before her marriage to Clapp, who had an income of $10,000 a year from his grandfather's estate, she was a manicurist in a downtown hotel. She was shot when he visited the hotel to have his nails manicured. He induced her to go to Texas with him, and at New Hempstead, that State, they were married.

"After their return to the city Mrs. Clapp was a familiar figure, riding in an automobile and wearing a robe of tiger skins and a toque to match. Thus she gained the title of 'tiger lady.'

HARRISBURG ACADEMY WINS OVER THIRD TECH TEAM In a practice scrimmage on Academy field yesterday the Harrisburg Academy team defeated the Tech third team, score 6 to 0.

Central High Meets Mt. Carmel; Interesting Scholastic Games

In to-day's scholastic football games, both Central high and Steelton high have hard propositions. Mt. Carmel, it is said, has been showing speed and a heavy team. This school has always been represented on the football field with a strong team. The game this afternoon at Island Park promised additional interest because Coach Smith expects to have in his line-up the players who will represent Central throughout the season.

At Steelton, Pottsville high will be the attraction. What Steelton does to the coal miners will allow a comparison of the Steelton and Tech teams. Tech walloped Pottsville high last Saturday, score 19 to 0. Tech does not have a regular game, while Bucknell regulars are battling with Princeton. Tech will line-up against the Bucknell scrubs.

On Franklin field, Philadelphia, the University of Pennsylvania, presented a crippled team against Franklin and Marshall. Last year Penn defeated Franklin and Marshall by a score of 13 to 6. The Indians will try to do better with Lehigh than a year ago, when Lehigh scored on the Redskins.

Movie Girl

The situations are laid in and around a moving picture studio and are funny to the extreme, as the clever comedians never let an opportunity pass to create laughter and the pretty girls go to make the picture complete. "TO-DAY"

The enviable record of having had one of the longest runs on Broadway of the drama presented during the past year is held by "To-day," the success which will be seen at the Majestic Theater, Thursday afternoon and night, October 8. The record of having played an entire season at the Forty-eighth Street Theater is one that has not been reached by many rivals, and can be explained only by the illuminating fact that "To-day" would never have won this distinction if it had not satisfied the theater-going public.—Advertisement.

ORPHEUM

"The Society Ends" bloom in Harrisburg for the last time to-night. Mr. Lasky's beautiful musical comedy, with Clark and Bergman, that tickled the palates of vaudeville devotees this week, leave the Orpheum after to-night's performance. Incidentally a number of sterling Keith acts that supported the big headliner appear for the last time also. Chief of the Keith stars that come to entertain Harrisburg and its visitors during firemen's convention week will be the return of Irene Franklin, queen of vaudeville's singing comedienne. Miss Franklin will offer an entirely new repertoire of songs that she has been singing with tremendous success in many of the country's leading vaudeville theaters this season, but which will be heard for the first time in Harrisburg when Miss Franklin introduces them next week. Miss Franklin appears in a budget of character songs that were written expressly for her, and her new numbers are said to be timely, catchy and clever in any of the old favorites. Burt Green at the piano. Another act of interest on next week's bill will be the return of Frank Milton and the DeLong Sisters in a revival of their successful "rube" comedy skit, called "Twenty Minutes' Layover at Alfalfa Station." Mr. Milton has added much new tom-foolery to his part of the act, and the girls will as usual do some interesting creations in costumes. This act never fails to score rock-solid with Orpheum-goers. Other names of next week's offering will include Potter and Hartwell, Poney and Norman, Pierlot and Schofield, and Manny and Roberts.—Advertisement.

COLONIAL

"The Life of Shakespeare," a masterpiece in moving picture art, appears for the last time at the Colonial to-day. Joe Kramer & Co. in an interesting exhibition of black art; Mintz and Palmer, song and patter duo; and Muriel and Arthur Valli in a comedy variety act, complete the vaudeville roster that leaves the Busy Corner to-night. Moving picture fans will likely be interested in the announcement that the management will present the first local showing of "East Lynne" in moving pictures at the Colonial during the first half of next week. This perennial romance is beautifully presented, splendidly enacted, and is in six parts of unexcelled photography.—Advertisement.

THE DOLLAR MARK AT PALACE

W. A. Brady's production of "The Dollar Mark," in five reels, portrays a phase of life which everyone knows, but which few of us are able to see. The first part of the film is staged in the Cobalt region among the mines. Intrigue tries to get possession of the mine for the Consolidated, but Gresham, the owner, refuses to sell. At last a flood comes along and not only floods the mine, but as well sweeps away the home of the owner and imperiling the lives of two people, Gresham and the girl who is with the party from the Consolidated. The mine is a success, first as a tenderfoot, and later as a full fledged cowboy are great. He becomes foreman of the "Flying U" and has wonderful adventures until the rancher's sister comes for a visit. Kathryn Williams, as the sister of "little doctor," takes them all by storm and Chlp, soon has opposition in his last and most serious adventure with love. The thirteenth episode of "Perils of Pauline" will also be shown to-day. Pauline has three separate thrillers, in which she is almost bitten by a rattler, another when her horse, who is dragged through her and still another when Pauline and Harry make a desperate leap from a high cliff into the water, seventy-five feet below and escape to the other shore.—Advertisement.
