Make Your Home a Sunkist Home

SUNKIST fruits do not simply happen—they are the result of long experience and intelligent study.

SUNKIST fruits are so carefully and thoroughly prepared that they differ from the fruits most people know.

SUNKIST fruits are prepared by specialists who know how to pack good fruit—Sunkist fruit.

SUNKIST fruits are for those who want the better kind.

LIBRARY CLOSES SUCCESSFUL TERM

Over 77,000 Books Circulated in the Nine Months the New Building Has Been Open

An annual meeting for election of trustees and hearing of reports was held last night in the new Harrisburg Public Library for the first time and the summary of the nine months in which the library has been open to the people of Harrisburg and vicinity in its new building shows how extensively it has been used and what an important adjunct to educational work it has become. Every book in the library was turned over seven times, that being the technical term for use of books. The books circulated amounted to almost 78,000 and the number of readers who spent some time at the library was over 28,000, of whom more than 10,000 were school children.

George A. Gorgas presided at the annual meeting at which contributors, including the school board of Harrisburg and the Harrisburg High School Alumni Association were represented.

Miss Alice R. Eaton, the librarian, reported the total number of books in the library as 11,528, of which 10,782 are for general circulation, including 2,258 for children, while 654 are for reference including text books. The fiction books number 4,650 and literature 1,800. The library received 5,774 books from the old library, purchased 4,943 and received 801 gifts. The library has 109 periodicals, of which 81 were purchased and 28 donated. Registration now numbers

7,930, of which 5,901 are adults and 2,029 children.

The library was open 250 days and the total circulation was 77,063, of which 60,748 was fiction. The circulation among children was 21,793. The largest day's circulation was 1,053 and the smallest 168, the daily average being 335. The readers were 18,109 adults and 10,813 children. There were 1,244 reference questions answered.

The assembly room report shows that it was used extensively, 1,148 children gathering for the story-telling hours, a very successful feature of work which is on Saturday mornings.

The library has fulfilled an important part in supplying special books for school children and educational books for teachers, including those in the teachers' training class, supplementing the work of the schools.

city were donated and are on file in the library daily.

Auditors were appointed and as soon as they file their report a complete financial statement for the year will be published and also issued in pamphlet form. Such reports are made monthly to the school board, which is a very liberal contributor to the up-keep of the library.

The following trustees were re-elected: Prof. W. S. Steele, William A. Boll, D. Bailey Brandt, Casper Dull, James McCormick, Jr., and A. Boyd Hamilton.

To Reduce Weight by Electricity in Chair

No longer will the overweight athlete, be he pugilist or jockey, oremam or jumper, have to jog many weary miles for days at a stretch, clad in move the superfluous flesh and reach the pink of condition. The modern way is to peacefully recline in a big arm chair while electric currents of faradic and galvanic varieties, gently flow through the body and eliminates all unnecessary averdupois at the rate of a pound every few minutes.

One of these modern weight reducing chairs is exhibited at the electrical show in New York. It is to be found at the electrical hospital and the doctor in charge says that it reduces weight "primarily through the synchronous contraction of the musculature, and secondarily through the electrochemical action of the faradic sinusoidal current passing through the tissues," whatever that means. It is quite possible that these weight reducing chairs will become part of the regular equipment of both track and ring.
