Soldiers Build Hotels in Trenches at Front

London, Oct. 16, 11 A. M.—There has been given out in London a descriptive account of some recent developments in France sent by an eye witness attached to the British General headquarters. The account is dated October 13 in France and is in part as follows: "On the firing line the men sleep and obtain shelter in dugouts they have hollowed or cut out of the sides of the trenches. These refugees are raised slightly above the bottom of the trenches so as to remain dry in wet weather. The floor of the trench also is sloped for purposes of drainage. Some of the trenches are provided with overhead cover which gives protection from the weather as well as from shrapnel balls and splinters of shells. NEGRO BAPTISTS TO MEET HERE SEPT. 21

Prominent Men and Women of Race to Attend 23rd Annual Convention

The Pennsylvania Baptist State convention will be held in this city Wednesday, October 21, to Monday, the 26th, in St. Paul's Baptist Church, State and a meron streets. The president, the Rev. Dr. E. W. Johnson, has guided the affairs of the body for the past fourteen years and has been instrumental in doing a great work in the home fields and in the foreign field. The amount raised for missions during the year was over $3,000, in addition to assisting educational work at Lynchburg, Va., and Downingtown, Pa. British Loss Greater Than That of Germans; Bad Aim Saves Cruiser

London, Oct. 16, 1.42 P. M.—Another triumph for the British submarine service has been recorded. The British navy has raised the tally of British warships sunk by the Germans to seven. To this must be added the virtual destruction of the cruiser Pegasus by a German warship at Zanzibar. The Hawke, a cruiser of 7,350 tons, under command of Captain Hugh Williams, was sunk yesterday in the North Sea, the graveyard of six other warships which were the victims of German torpedoes. It was only bad aim on the part of the German gunner which saved the Hawke's sister ship, the Thebes, and the doubling of yesterday's disaster for that vessel, too, was attacked, but she escaped.

Losses in Warships

The cruisers Amphion, Pathfinder, Aboukir, Cressy, Hogue, Pegasus and Hawke and the torpedo gunboat Speedy make up the British formidable list of losses in warships in the first ten weeks of the war. Against this the British admiralty claims four German cruisers, two torpedo boat destroyers, one torpedo boat, three submarines and eight armed commerce destroyers. Omitting the armed merchantmen, the aggregate warship tonnage loss to England is, of course, much greater than that to Germany. In both cases the lost ships, with the exception of the cruiser Amphion and the submarines, were older craft, used for home or South seas service intended for the sterner work of fleet action being held in safer waters for the day when Germany elects to move from behind her naval base at Heligoland.

SAGE TEA TURNS GRAY HAIR DARK

It's Grandmother's Recipe to Bring Back Color and Lustre to Hair That beautiful, even shade of dark, glossy hair can only be had by brewing a mixture of Sage Tea and Sulphur. Your hair is your charm. It makes or mars the face. When it fades, turns gray, streaked and looks dry, wispy and scrappy, just an application of two of Sage and Sulphur enhances its appearance a hundredfold.

Don't bother to prepare the tonic; you can get from any drug store a 50-cent bottle of "Wyeth's Sage and Sulphur Compound," ready to use. This can always be depended upon to bring back the natural color, thickness and lustre of your hair and remove dandruff, stop scalp itching and falling hair. Everybody uses "Wyeth's" Sage and Sulphur because it works so naturally and evenly that nobody can tell it has been applied. You simply dampen a sponge or soft brush with it and draw this through the hair, taking one small strand at a time; by morning the gray hair has disappeared, and after another application it becomes beautifully dark and appears glossy, lustrous and abundant.—Advertisement.

American Tunes Played as Canadian Troops March Into Their Camp Long Way to Tipperary mingled with the Spanish-American War favorite "There'll Be a Hot Time in the Old Town To-night." The latest American rag-time, among the chief tunes being "This is the Life," also resounded in the quiet English dunes. The greatest contrast between English forces and the Canadians is the physique, the Canadians being on an average much larger and stronger-looking than the English. Riding at the head of the supply convoy was a small Montreal newsboy, who had stowed away on a transport. This little chap, in spite of the fact that he was almost lost in the folds of any army coat loaned him by a good-hearted sergeant of the Highlanders, was nearly frozen, but he insisted on practicing the bugle, proficiency in which he hopes will give him a chance to get to the front.
