TERRIBLE INJURY ON FISHING TRIP

Side of Man's Head Was Almost Ground Off by Wagon Wheel

Special to The Telegraph. Greencastle, Pa., Oct. 28.—Thomas Wier, of Waynesboro, met with a terrible accident near Greencastle on Tuesday afternoon. He was on a fishing trip along the Conococheague with two companions all day, and about 4 o'clock in the afternoon he was brought in a wagon to the office of Dr. F. A. Bushey, where it was found that the whole side of his face including his mouth and chin had been torn off. He was in an unconscious condition and he was taken to the Chambersburg Hospital. An examination by the hospital physicians showed that Mr. Wier's right cheek was entirely crushed off, his right eye gouged out, his mouth torn off, all his teeth knocked out, and his lower jaw fractured and torn from its socket. His companions said they were sitting on the front seat of the wagon driving to Greencastle, and they looked back and saw Wier in a re-embent position with his head over the side of the machine and wedged under the mill gear. The friction of the wheel in its revolutions tore off the flesh from his face and ground out his eye and teeth. This is the only way they could account for the frightful spectacle of the man when they extricated him from the wheel. None of them had any guns along.

Great Inventor Wires Appreciation of City's Edison Day Observance

Edison prize essays submitted by the city's grammar school children in competition for the $25 in gold offered by the Harrisburg Light and Power Company are now being considered by the judges and it is expected that the selection of the winners will be made in time for announcement to the pupils by Friday afternoon. Thomas A. Edison, the electrical inventor, for whom the children of all the grammar schools celebrated by competing in the essay contest, has wired the electric light company here his appreciation of the way Harrisburg observed the day. Following is his telegram to R. W. Hoy, commercial superintendent: "Thirty-five years ago I was elected over my first incandescent lamp and system. This development and widespread use of the incandescent lamp to-day is indeed gratifying to me and I appreciate the work of your lighting company and the lighting companies of the country whose integrity and progressive business policies have made its use so universal. THOMAS A. EDISON."

Herndon Business Block Destroyed by $10,000 Fire

Herndon, Pa., Oct. 28.—Nearly the entire business section of Herndon was destroyed late last night by a $10,000 blaze which originated in a tinshop in the heart of the town. At the outbreak of the blaze nearly every man and woman in Herndon formed a bucket brigade. Aid was asked from Sunday, but before firemen from there arrived the following buildings and business places were destroyed: Tinshop of Edward Baum, in Main street; farming implement warehouse of Harry Gelnet, which adjoined the tinshop; residence of Mr. Gilnet, which adjoined the warehouse; bakehop and stable of Henry Eyerl, and double house, occupied by W. H. Wetzel and William Wayne.

His Face in Need of Repairs After Brick Unkindly Hit Him

Albert Hayes, colored, 618 Walnut street, is in the Harrisburg Hospital with a fractured nose, badly lacerated lip, a number of loose teeth and some others missing, and his tongue almost completely severed, as a result of having been struck in the face with a brick. This morning Hayes' wife had a warrant issued for her husband's arrest on a charge of assault on the Peace Officer, of Penbrook. The name of the man who threw the brick is not known, but the Penbrook authorities have a good description of him and are now making a search. Late yesterday, according to the information, Hayes and his assailant got into an argument while working on the new Wolfe Bakery, in the square at Penbrook. It is said that Hayes threatened to hit the other man with a shovel, whereupon the latter threw a brick, striking Hayes in the face. At the hospital, five stitches were placed in the man's tongue and four more in his lip. It is also believed that his jaw is fractured.

Colonel Battering Penrose in Speeches

Battering Penrose and Brumbaugh, Colonel Roosevelt whirled yesterday on the Pennsylvania Railroad, making a tour in an effort to promote the candidacy of Gifford Pinchot, Bull Moose, Democrat, for governor, and other candidates. Uniontown, Johnstown and a dozen other cities were scenes of Bull Moose meetings before the Progressive leader arrived in Altoona, where he addressed two capacity crowds in the principal meeting places of the city. The Wilson administration was taken to task in a vigorous fashion by the former President of the United States, for its failure to proceed with an investigation of the causes of the disorders in the Colorado mine fields four months ago, after they had sent United States troops into the section to quell the disturbances between miners and State militia. Then he cried: "I have been thrown into very close touch with Mr. Plinn for the last three years and there is not a gamer or straight advocate for decency than Mr. Plinn that I have ever met." Gifford Pinchot, Judge Brumm, William Draper Lewis and other Washington party candidates also addressed the meetings.

STATE RESOUNDING WITH SPEECHES

Orators Are Talking in Almost Every County of the Commonwealth These Days

Pennsylvania is resounding with campaign oratory as the days until the election lessen and the candidates and their supporters are speaking nightly not in one, but in two and three counties, being circled from one place to another to keep engagements. Yesterday's cold weather did not cause the campaign work to slacken a bit. Senator Penrose toured Northampton county and closed with a big meeting in Allentown. Dr. Brumbaugh also invaded the Democratic stronghold of Reading and spoke at night in Reading and then hurried to Lebanon. Theodore Roosevelt went from Uniontown to Johnstown and Altoona and since McCormick and Congressman Penrose went through the hard coal regions.

Dr. Brumbaugh gave a heart to heart talk to the workmen in Reading. He said that Pennsylvania, because of its vast industries, was pre-eminently the State of protection. It was built on the policy of the Republican party in national legislation, he said, and could only continue to grow under the protection offered its workers under that party's rule. "I saw in Germany, France, Belgium and England a year ago," he said, "that men were working and living under conditions which the commonest laborer would consider intolerable here. Do you want to reduce the people to a condition of peasantry or do you wish them to live in good homes with good schools to which they can send their children to learn to become useful citizens. If you want the workman to earn good wages and to live in good homes, stand by the candidates on the Republican ticket who are pleading with you here to-night."

The main part of Dr. Brumbaugh's address was given over to his splendid program for educational reform. Dr. Brumbaugh believes that the schools should teach the pupils how to work with their hands as well as with their brains. It is more important, he said, that a girl should know how to sew on a button and cook a meal than parse the most difficult sentence in the English language; that a boy should know how to raise hogs or chickens or do some other useful work rather than to be able to spell some of the catch words of the language. After the Reading meeting Dr. Brumbaugh and Secretary Houck went to Lebanon, the home of the latter, for a meeting there. This was a testimonial given to the cause of Brumbaugh having almost as many friends there as the general Secretary of Internal Affairs.

Lebanon Greet Dr. Brumbaugh at Late Hour

Over 2,000 people, many of them women, filled Fisher Academy of Music in Lebanon and waited two and one-quarter hours in order to greet and hear Dr. Brumbaugh in his candidacy for Governor of Pennsylvania. Dr. Brumbaugh's trip to Lebanon was a flying one in the true sense of the word, for on missing his train at Reading, where he had spoken earlier in the evening, he with Henry Houck, were recapitulated, he told his audience from Reading to Lebanon, the trip being made by automobile.

The twenty-eight miles of road were covered in exactly 55 minutes. Dr. Brumbaugh did not get to Lebanon until 10:15 o'clock and spoke for but fifteen minutes. Although the audience had waited long and patiently for the arrival of Dr. Brumbaugh, his speech was the most interesting given a candidate in Lebanon. The audience rose as he entered the hall and joined in the singing of "America." Cheers and handclapping continued for two minutes and then there was another demonstration when he closed his all too brief address, which was listened to with closest attention. An oration was also given by Henry Houck, who spoke in support of the meeting was presided over by ex-assemblyman William Coleman Freeman, of Cornwall, and among the speakers were Congressman A. S. Kreider, of Allentown; William Swoope, of Clearfield, and Emerson Collins, of Williamsport.

Roosevelt Not Doing Very Much Damage Now

Attacks of Colonel Roosevelt on candidates of the Republican party in Pennsylvania are not doing very much damage now, according to Senator Boies Penrose told more than 2,000 voters who packed the Lyric theater in Allentown last night. In an address of an enthusiasm of the meeting show that Colonel Roosevelt, who spoke at Allentown Monday made no impression on Senator Penrose's following in Lehigh county. Republican leaders of the county predicted that the solid Republican vote would be cast for the senator with the addition of support from hundreds of Democrats, who, openly, Payne law. He also discussed the effect of the agricultural schedule of the Underwood law upon the farmers of Pennsylvania.

Sideshow Plays in the Anthracite Region

Big crowds at Shamokin heard Van Hook, former Lehigh county candidate for the governorship, of Mitchell Palmer and Arthur Clark for congressmen-at-large, also spoke, with W. B. Wilson, national secretary of labor, McCormick was first on the list of speakers owing to having to go to Mt. Carmel to address a meeting later in the evening. Mr. McCormick again questioned the sincerity of his Republican opponent, Dr. Brumbaugh, on the local option issue which everyone but McCormick understands.

Mr. Palmer continued his attacks upon Senator Penrose and in an effort to bolster up his candidacy quoted from J. Benjamin Dimmick's public utterances in criticism of the Penrose leadership made in the primary election contest in which Senator Penrose received an overwhelming majority of the Republican votes cast. Mr. Palmer predicted that Senator Penrose will go down to certain and ignominious defeat.

"POWER" SALESMAN'S DEFENSE UNDER WAY

Harrison Seiferd, Alleged Clairvoyant, Presents Own Side of Will Case

Harrison Seiferd, alleged clairvoyant, to-day began the refutation of the charges of the heirs of Mrs. Martha Adams that he had unduly influenced her to draw a will in his favor at the continuance of the contested will case before Register of Wills Danner.

More than a score of witnesses will be examined before Seiferd himself takes the stand, according to John Fox Weiss, the defendant's counsel. Seiferd's purpose is to show conclusively that the sale of "force," or "power," bags did not unduly influence Mrs. Adams and that therefore the register should admit the will to probate. Among the witnesses examined this morning were Attorney John C. Nisley, Mrs. Adams' counsel, who drew her will, and Edwin Atkinson, a city doctor, who had frequently done business with Mrs. Adams. Both testified as to her apparent ability to make her own will without being unduly influenced.

To Register Until Noon.—Official announcement was made to-day by the County Commissioners that they will sit specially until noon Saturday to register all late comers who had not had a chance to appear before the registration boards. Saturday and Monday election supplies will be sent out, so the books must be closed by 12 o'clock Saturday.

The Nerves and Their Needs

We do not give much thought to our nervous system when it is working all right but when it goes wrong nature has a way of calling it forcibly to our attention by something that we cannot overlook—pain.

Try to reach a painful nerve with medicine of any sort and you are confronted with a fact that every doctor knows, that the only way to reach the nerves is through the blood. You see now why Dr. Williams' Pink Pills, the great tonic for the blood, are also a great nerve builder. When a nerve becomes inflamed and painful it is—unless caused by an accident—because the blood was not giving it the elements of nourishment it needed. Dr. Williams' Pink Pills build up the blood, the nerves are strengthened, the inflammation subsides and the pain vanishes. By keeping the blood rich and red by the use of Dr. Williams' Pink Pills the danger of nervous breakdown, insomnia, nervous indigestion and other disorders caused by ill-nourished nerves is greatly lessened. In children the use of Dr. Williams' Pink Pills banishes the fear of St. Vitus' dance.

The Dr. Williams' Medicine Co., Schenectady, N. Y., will send free on request a good little book on Nervous Disorders. Write for it to-day. The name of Dr. Williams' Pink Pills—Advertisement.
