

DESPERATE EFFORT OF MCGORMICK TO CARRY HOME TOWN

Beautiful Day Brings Out "Stay-at-Home" Voters in Large Numbers

HEAVY VOTE FOR KUNKEL

Many Cast Their Ballots Before 8 O'clock in Some Precincts

Vance C. McCormick, candidate for governor on the mule ticket, was making the effort of his life in Harrisburg to-day to hold his home town and a multitude of watchers, a well-lubricated machine, and captains of politics conversant with every Democratic scheme and reinforced by Bill Flinn methods, were aiding him. The great McCormick machine, built up by personal effort, money and abuse, is working at its best to-day, not only in Dauphin, but in Cumberland and Perry counties and probably in every other county where the Little Boss has followers. However, the supreme effort is being made here at home because if a candidate is defeated in the State and beaten at home, sorry indeed is his plight. This is one campaign in this section that is being conducted by the McCormick machine, known throughout the whole State as an upright judge, endorsed by men without regard to party, is being supported by admirers, neighbors and friends without raising a hand. The people of Dauphin, Cumberland and Perry counties are lined up back of Kunkel and voting for him as a duty they owe to their state. That is another campaign in this section.

Voting Very Heavy

Brilliant sun came over the eastern hills this morning and ushered in an autumn day that is as unusual as the campaign which is being ended. The weather was all that could be desired and the most chronic stay-at-home voter could not find in him the usual reasons for staying at home. The duties of the men who have to go around and pull doorbells out by the roots and worry telephone operators into getting voters at home are light. The voters came out. They are interested and the weather is fine. All throughout the city the voting was heavy and early. By 8 o'clock there were high polls and men were predicting record breaking totals. In some city districts the workers found that they had little to do except think of what they will do incidentally. The thoughts of some McCormick men were not pleasant. In Steelton the industrial depression is keen and Democratic votes were slim. Fride in a Democratic candidate although he lives in the county does not go far against an empty dinner pail. The county reported lively voting, especially in the upper end. Cumberland's string of boroughs

Telegraph's Election Returns

Owing to the conditions in Federal Square due to the remodeling of the Federal building, it will be impossible for the Telegraph to make its usual display of election returns this evening from the Telegraph building. Arrangements have been made, however, with the Silberman Syndicate to give the display on the old Opera House site at Third and Walnut streets. Here will be thrown upon a large screen complete returns as rapidly as received and the crowd will be entertained with a great moving picture show between the bulletin flashes.

Sowing the Ploughed Field

It is an easy job to sow the ploughed field and wait for the harvest. When the National Manufacturer advertises his product in this newspaper he is ploughing the field for every retailer in this city who carries his goods. He is creating tangible customers. It is up to the retailer to sow and reap by backing up the advertiser's goods. Sow the Goods. Get ready to cash in on the manufacturer in newspaper advertising. Do it now.

STOUGH SPRAWLS ON PLATFORM PREACHING ON SENSATIONALISM

At That, He Declares He's "Not in It" Compared With Prophets of Old

SNAPS FINGER AT Highbrows

Asserts That Bible Is Most Sensational Book Ever Written and Then Gives Examples

As a justification of his sensational style of preaching, Dr. Stough last night declared that the Bible, from the first chapter to the last, is the most sensational book ever written; then he recalled examples of the ultra-sensational methods used by the prophets and great teachers as recorded in the Old and New Testaments, drawing the conclusion that he is "not in it," when compared with them. Dr. Stough illustrated his eccentric ways during his discourse by slang expressions, funny remarks that drew applause and roars of laughter, and by physical "stunts" such as lying at full length on the floor, jumping off the rear side of the platform, and accidentally stumbling over the small stand that supports his Bible, after which he said he hoped his audience was not too much shocked because he will have some more shocking things to say and perform at the service to-night. He took as his text the twenty-seventh verse of the first chapter of First Corinthians, "God hath chosen the foolish things of the world to confound the wise." He pointed out the poverty of the present age in the line of great learning, said that none of the philosophers of modern times have equaled

CITY GETS 300,000 RED CROSS STAMPS FOR DISTRIBUTION

Preliminary Plans For Christmas Campaign Will Be Outlined This Evening

Coinciding with the closing to-night of one great State-wide campaign another crusade, national instead of State-wide, will be opened when preliminary steps for launching the 1914 Christmas seal sale are discussed at a stage of about 1.5 feet at the residence of the chairman, John Fox Weiss. Mr. Weiss, who headed the campaign last year which placed Harrisburg among the record-breakers of cities of the country for number of stamps sold, has called the committee to meet at 7:45 o'clock. Because of the fact that it is election night, however, the session will be very brief. Harrisburg has already received its first consignment of the Christmas seals—300,000—the largest number ever handled in the initial consignment. Mr. Weiss says he is confident that all the seals will be disposed of by Christmas. The general campaign plan will be outlined at this evening's meeting. A score of different ideas were followed out successfully. The public schools, the secret societies, the Boy Scouts organizations, the churches and the merchants of the city and the suburban towns will be among the avenues in which Harrisburg's general committee will dispose of its stamps. Chief among this year's campaign features will be the series of "Merchants' Days." This plan was adopted last year, but because of the brief time the results were not so large as might have been possible in a greater time allowance, and for very brief, the idea will be worked out much earlier. In brief the scheme is to set apart one day during the crusade as a certain "merchants' day," such as a "grocers' day," a "bakers' day," etc., when these merchants will be given stamps to dispose of. The Boy Scouts will be enlisted especially in this work in helping to distribute the seals.

BISHOP SMITH BURIED

Pittsburgh, Pa., Nov. 3.—The funeral of Bishop Charles W. Smith, of the Methodist Episcopal Church, who died suddenly in Washington last week, was held from Christ Methodist Episcopal Church here to-day. Distinguished clergymen and a large concourse of friends attended the services.

NO AMERICANS CAN EMBARK

London, Nov. 3, 10:05 A. M.—The home office announced that no Americans or friendly aliens will be allowed to embark on the outgoing steamer calling at Queenstown Thursday for America. They must proceed to Liverpool to join the steamer.

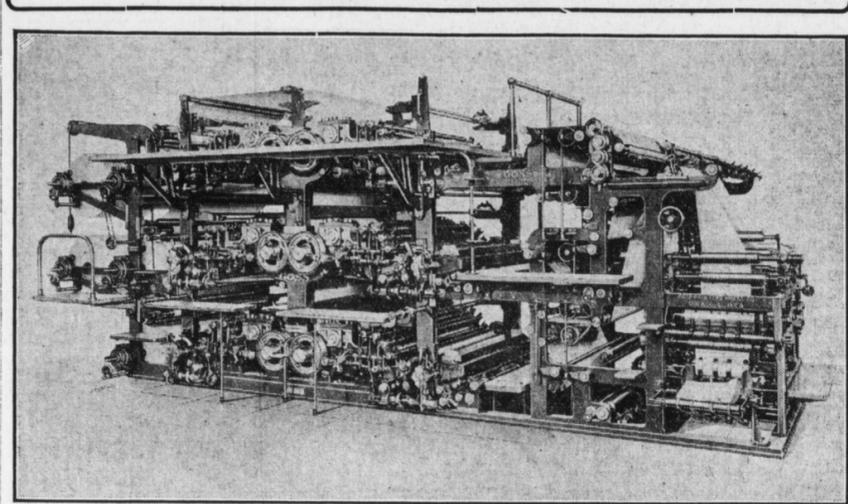

PROHIBIT RICE EXPORTATION

London, Nov. 3, 10:18 A. M.—A Rome dispatch to the Star states that a royal decree published there prohibits the exportation of rice, rye and potatoes to Germany and Austria.

AUSTRIANS CAPTURE 2,700

London, Nov. 3, 10:15 A. M.—The correspondent of Reuter's Telegram Company at Amsterdam sends the following: "A telegram from Budapest states that in the engagement fought near Turka, Galicia, the Austrians took 2,700 prisoners, among whom were numerous tartars and Mongols."

THE TELEGRAPH'S NEW GOSS PRESS PRINTS 72,000 AN HOUR

BIG NEW PRESS THAT WILL DELIVER EARLIER, BETTER PAPER TO TELEGRAPH READERS

FOR several weeks expert mechanics and press erectors from the big plant of the Goss Printing Press Company at Chicago have been busy in the press room of the Telegraph putting into place the more than 9,000 pieces of the big newspaper press upon which the Telegraph will hereafter be printed. This great machine, which weighs about 65 tons, is capable of producing 72,000 complete newspapers, folded and ready for delivery, per hour. It was especially constructed for the Telegraph and is the latest type of the Goss sextuple press. This new machine embraces all of the remarkable devices for speed and efficiency which have been invented during the last few years. Special attention has been given to those details which provide convenience in operation and the elimination of the small losses of time which in the aggregate often amount to a considerable item. The new machine has a double folder with two half-page deliveries. The guaranteed running speed of this big press is 72,000 four, six, eight, ten or twelve-page papers; 36,000 fourteen, sixteen, eighteen, twenty, twenty-two or twenty-four-page papers, and 18,000 twenty-eight, thirty-two, thirty-six, forty, forty-four or forty-eight-page papers, and a great variety of other products by cross-association. The Goss company, speaking of the type of press installed by the Telegraph in their latest booklet, say: "If it were not hazardous to make such a prediction in view of the fact that we have already accomplished what seemed impossible we might say that there does not seem to be any prospect of further improvement in these presses." With this new and most complete machine the Telegraph will be equipped to present to its increasing army of readers a still better paper and such features as will appeal to the big Telegraph family.

FAVORABLE WEATHER CONDITIONS BRING OUT BIG STATE VOTE

Thousands of Voters Go to Polls Early to Cast Their Ballots

Philadelphia, Nov. 3.—The three-cornered fight for the United States senatorship between A. Mitchell Palmer, Democrat, of Ford Pinchot, Washington, and Boies Penrose, Republican, and the struggle between Vance C. McCormick, Democrat-Washington, and Martin G. Brumbaugh, Republican, for Governor, served to bring out a heavy vote in the early hours of the election to-day throughout Pennsylvania. The weather was fine. The fact that many voters took a long time to mark their ballots gave rise to reports that much cutting was being done, but the slowness of the voters may be due in a measure to the large number of candidates to be voted for. Penrose Not Being Cut: Voting continued heavy during the day in Philadelphia, especially in districts where there were close senatorial and legislative fights. The Fifth Congressional district in this city where Congressman Donohoe, Democrat, and Washington party candidate, is opposed by Peter E. Costello, the Republican leader in that part of the city, a large vote was being polled. There was also great interest shown in the Sixth district, which includes West Philadelphia and Germantown where J. Washington Loque, candidate for re-election on the Democratic and Keystone ticket, is opposed by Fred S. Drake, Washington, and George P. Darrow, Republican. Senator Penrose voted about 12:29 p. m. and Martin G. Brumbaugh cast his ballot early in the day. Reports that Senator Penrose was being cut in South Philadelphia were denied by the Vares, who are the leaders in that part of the city. Reports from the State indicate a heavy vote. Gifford Pinchot voted early at Millford, Pike county, and left for Philadelphia to receive returns to-night. A. Mitchell Palmer also voted early in Stroudsburg and left for Harrisburg where he and Vance C. McCormick will receive returns.

RUSH MADE FOR POLLS

Milwaukee, Wis., Nov. 3.—There was a rush for the polls when the booths opened in Milwaukee. Interest here was keen on account of the Social Democratic vote, that party having made a strong campaign in the interest of two congressional nominees and a county ticket. The weather was clear.

WEATHER UNSETTLED

St. Paul, Minn., Nov. 3.—Despite unsettled weather early indications favored a heavy vote in Minnesota, where chief interest in to-day's election centered in the gubernatorial contest, with both W. S. Hammond, Democrat, and W. F. Lee, Republican, confident of victory.

VOTERS AT POLLS EARLY

Grand Rapids, Mich., Nov. 3.—The contest for United States senator between the incumbent, Asa J. Gronna, Republican, and W. E. Purcell, Democrat, attracted a large number of early voters to the polls in North Dakota to-day and with a continuation of fair weather a record vote was expected. Keen interest also attended the gubernatorial race and the vote on the woman suffrage amendment.

NO ALLIANCE EXISTS

Petrograd, Nov. 3.—The Persian legation here declares that no alliance exists between Turkey and Persia. All rumors of such an alliance in the Russian and foreign press, it is stated, are without foundation.

GANG SHOTS MAN AND LEAVES VICTIM IN WOODS TO DIE

Near Death When Found He Gives Names of Assaulters; They Are Now in Jail

Huntingdon, Pa., Nov. 3.—One of the most dastardly murders in the history of the county came to light yesterday when Thomas Lanoble, 27, was found dying in the woods near Robertsdale. He had been shot by five assailants Sunday night and left in the woods, for dead. However, he regained consciousness, implicated his murderers, and then died in Blair Memorial hospital here late last night. The five men accused of committing the deed were all arrested, and are now in jail here. Coroner F. L. Schum will hold an inquest to-morrow.

West End Club to Eat Roast Pig While They Hear Election Returns

Members of the West End Republican Club will start their winter series of entertainments to-night with a pig-roast. The big celebration will take place at the clubhouse, 1410 North Third street. In addition to the feast election returns will be announced.

Wife Seeker Tastes 29 Cooking Samples

Pittsburgh, Nov. 3.—Walter Demar, the young wife-hunting architect, who asked a paper to find him a wife a few weeks ago, saying that he was possessed of a good digestion, had an experience last night that has somewhat discouraged his matrimonial inclinations. Demar received a letter from a girl asking him to call. When he arrived at the house he was surrounded by twenty-nine girls, all of them residents of the big boarding house, and every one had a sample of her cookery, which Demar was obliged to taste.

La Follette Forced to Abandon His Tour

Milwaukee, Wis., Nov. 3.—United States Senator Robert M. La Follette, who suffered a mental breakdown in Philadelphia when making a political speech two years ago, has been forced to abandon his campaign in support of J. J. Blaine, the Independent Progressive candidate for Governor, on account of another breakdown.

Horses May Be Sent to European Countries

Pittsburgh, Nov. 3.—It was stated here to-day that the livestock quarantine against the foot and mouth disease does not apply to horses, and that shipment of horses for European countries was being continued. The horses are "dipped," that is they are walked through a liquid calculated to protect them from the disease. Twenty-eight car loads of horses were forwarded to seaboard points during the night.

TURKEY WAS DECOYED

Delhi, India, Nov. 3, via London, 11:23 A. M.—A number of influential Mohammedans have held a meeting at Quetta at which there was adopted a resolution setting forth that Turkey had been decoyed by Germany into a breach of neutrality, and that the British government could rely upon the fidelity of the Beluehistan Mohammedans.

ENTIRE LOWER END IS WITHOUT WATER WHEN MAIN BURSTS

Manufacturing Held Up and Car Service to Steelton Had to Be Switched

One of Harrisburg's largest water mains, the 20-inch line extending throughout the length of the city on Cameron street, burst shortly after daylight this morning at the Paxton street intersection and for a couple of hours the whole end of town south of Kittaning street, including the Hill and the portion supplied by the Cameron street pipe, was without water. That's why, Mr. Citzler, there was such a noticeable lack of pressure at your bathroom faucets this morning. Some of the city's larger manufacturing plants in the affected zone

Safety Head Confers With Secretary of Commerce Chamber

Frederick H. Elliott, general secretary of the Safety First Association, New York city, was here yesterday in conference with E. L. McCole, secretary of the Harrisburg Chamber of Commerce, General Secretary Elliott was here to arrange for a meeting with Colonel Joseph B. Hutchison, Fire Chief John C. Kintler and Superintendent William E. McCole, of the Philadelphia Division of the Pennsylvania Railroad, with a view to stimulating interest in the safety first movement.

New Polyclinic Now Has Twenty Patients

The new Polyclinic Hospital at Front and Harris streets, which has been open for several weeks, now has about twenty patients in the wards. When the remodeling of the hospital has not been finished yet, but at present forty patients can be taken care of. When the rooms are completed there will be five wards and about eight private rooms, besides the operating room, dispensary, office, kitchen and other rooms.

Jack Dunn May Succeed Connie Mack

Special to The Telegraph Philadelphia, Nov. 3.—A report was circulated here yesterday that Connie Mack is planning to sell his stock in the Athletics to Jack Dunn, of Baltimore, that Dunn will become manager of the Athletics and that Mack will purchase some of the stock in the New York Americans and become manager of that team, taking along with him some of his Athletic players. Mack and other officials of the Athletics could not be located to confirm or deny the story.

No officials of the New York Americans were to be found last night, but another major league man of prominence when told of the Connie Mack-Jack Dunn story said: "I wouldn't be surprised if something like that should be done, though I know nothing about it as yet. There is plenty in the wind just now."

TROOPS READY FOR STRIKE ZONE

Washington, Nov. 3.—Federal troops at Fort Logan are being held ready to be ordered to the Hartford Valley, Ark., strike zone. Secretary Garrison said to-day he would formally announce the War Department's intentions before night.

Turkey's Apology to Russia Has Failed to Accomplish Its Purpose

Great Britain and Russ Government Have Undertaken Active Military Measures Against Country; Germans Are Seeking New Route in Effort to Reach Channel Ports; Flanders Still Shows Continuance of Hard Fighting

The apology of the Turk for the assaults of his fleet on Russian ports on the Black Sea has not accomplished its purpose. Both Russia and Great Britain have undertaken active military measures against him and hostilities have begun on the Red Sea. In France the troops of Emperor William, frustrated in their persistent endeavors to advance along the coast, are now seeking a route more to the south and the fighting in Flanders is going on with determination on the part of the allies and heavy onslaughts from the enemy. A group of incidents shows that Turkey's effort to hold aloof from the general warfare came too late. Fighting is reported between Russian and Turkish troops near Trebison, a British cruiser has shelled and occupied the Turkish fortified town of Akabah, on the Red Sea, in Arabia; it is announced in a news dispatch that Emperor Nicholas has ordered his Caucasian army to cross the frontier and attack the Turks; the Turkish ambassador has left the Porte that negotiations are now impossible and an imperial manifesto issued in Petrograd says Russian confidence is firm that intervention of Turkey will only hasten the fatal issue to that empire and that Russia will not find a way to settle the Black Sea problems handed down to her by previous rulers.

Flanders still shows a continuance of hard fighting, always attended with heavy losses on both sides, as the allies maintain their apparently successful resistance to the German efforts to advance toward French ports on the English channel. The French official announcement given out in Paris this afternoon said that the Germans evidently had abandoned the left bank of the Yser below Dixmude and that the allies had taken possession of points on the river where crossings could be made. The French report bears out news dispatches that the Germans are seeking a route through the allies' lines further to the south than any they have attempted in the past two weeks.

Lord Kitchener, the British secretary for war, was in Dunkirk Sunday night doubtless for the purpose of supervising the operations of the allied forces. He crossed from England and was in conference with President Poincare of France and M. De Brocqueville, the prime minister of Belgium.

SUPREME EFFORT TO CAPTURE YPRES

The Germans last Saturday, according to news dispatches, made a supreme effort to capture Ypres. Lives without number were sacrificed in an endeavor which apparently resulted in failure for to-day they are said to be concentrating their effort at a point well to the south of this battle-scarred locality. Emperor William himself was present, according to news dispatches, the latest attempt to capture this important position. German forces have left Bruges for Courterai, twenty-five miles to the south and eighteen miles east of Ypres, where the British hold the line. This is taken to indicate the selection of a another way to reach Calais. Basing its hope that the allies will be able to continue to hold back the German advance in the north, no matter how determined and furious it becomes Paris is still optimistic as the outcome in Flanders.

A wounded man was brought recently to the imperial palace at Strassburg, and medical experts from Berlin were summoned to attend him. The rumor soon got abroad that the patient was Frederick William; Crown Prince of Germany. These reports have not been verified, but travelers reaching Geneva from Strassburg declare them to be true. The patient in the Strassburg palace is said to be seriously, although not mortally hurt. The German Crown Prince has not been heard of directly and authoritatively for some weeks. He met his wife at Luxembourg, October 10, and twenty days later he was reported as having been wounded before Verdun.

President Poincare, of France, and King Albert, of Belgium, have reviewed French and Belgian troops at Furnes, close to the line of battle in Flanders, to an accompaniment of exploding shrapnel from the artillery of the enemy. Later President Poincare and his
