MEN WHO ARE HELPING TO MAKE STOUGH CAMPAIGN A BIG SUCCESS IN THIS CITY

ROBERT A. ENDERS, Chairman of Local Entertainment Committee.

THE REV. F. T. CARTWRIGHT, Associate of Dr. Stough, the Evangelist.

TABERNACLE WILL NOT HOLD CROWDS

STOUGH ON THE HOME "A child should be a child of prayer, not of accident." "Sunday papers are devils' bibles in the home." "Prayer and hickory is the greatest recipe in the world in bringing up kids." "The hardest hour is when a boy discovers that his father is not as good as he thought he was." "Don't ever marry a man to reform him." "Don't marry a man who is not a Christian."

There are parents in this audience tonight who, if they ever get to heaven, will meet the accusing fingers of babies that will point to them and say, "They murdered me." The murderer in a dark alley is a gentleman compared with such a man or woman.

Dr. Stough proceeded to show the importance of a good parental example. "Your boy will do as you say only up to a certain age; after that he will do as you do. The rule of nature for boys is to follow their fathers, and girls their mothers. The reason that so many boys are on the road to hell is that their fathers are on the same road. The saddest hour in a boy's life is when he discovers his father is not so good as he thought."

Prayer and Hickory "Children should be raised on prayer and the hickory stick, a proper combination of both—some parents run too much to prayer and others too much to the hickory stick," declared the evangelist. "Parental authority has gone out of fashion, but should be revived."

He deprecated the present-day system of raising children on the "painless" method. "There is too much explaining to children nowadays instead of telling them directly what to do and making them do it," he said. "Is your home a miniature heaven? Do you ask blessing at the table? Do you have family worship and Bible reading? Do you make the home the sweetest place on earth for the children? These were some of the questions hurled at the vast throng."

Urges Prayer in Home He concluded the lecture by pleading for more prayer by parents and the making of better homes in the city. After the lecture Professor Spooner, musical director, sang "God Give Us Homes."

Dr. Stough preached on the "Christian Life."

Judge Neil to Talk on Mothers' Pension Bill

JUDGE HENRY NEIL

Judge Henry Neil of Oak Park, Illinois, who is interested in the increase in appropriation for mothers' pension, while in this city spoke of the plans he had made and that $25,000 was paid this year in mothers' pensions in nineteen States. This, he said, will reduce the expense of institutions for the children and help the mothers to build up homes.

Judge Neil's plan is to give the money to the mother and not to the institutions. Mr. Neil will not speak in Harrisburg until the session of the Legislature next January. At that time an application will be made to the Legislature for appropriation of $1,000,000 for mothers' pensions in this State. He said that if this is done and given it will save the taxpayers several millions of dollars which are used to maintain institutions in which children are placed. Several weeks ago he spoke to the Pension Society at Philadelphia.
