News Items of Interest in Central Pennsylvania
Special to The Telegraph
Marietta.—Thieves forced an entrance Wednesday night into the Reinhold station, along the Columbia and Reading railroad, and carried off a box which contained a little money for Bell telephone service. At the home of H. Joseph Keith, a short distance away, they stole canned fruit, vegetables and three jugs of wine.

Marietta.—In the will of the late Priscilla Stoner, admitted to probate, there is a bequest of $100 to the Menonite Church at Landis Valley and $50 to the Lutheran Church at Neffsville.
Hazleton.—Believing that if immediate steps are not taken to protect pheasants, the species will be extinct in less than half a decade, Hazleton and Freeland sportsmen have started a movement to extend through the State a demand that the Legislature enact a bill closing the season for these birds for at least two years.

Hazleton.—Miners at Upper Lehigh threaten to tie up the operations of M. S. Kemmerer & Co. if two discharged steam shovelmen are not reinstated.
Mahanoy City.—A mule falling on him, Thomas Killian, aged 19 years, was perhaps fatally crushed in the St. Nicholas mine yesterday.
Philadelphia and Reading Railway fireman, was seriously scalded when a steam pipe burst in the cab of the locomotive at Gordon.
Pottsville.—Patrick Rigney was killed on the new Philadelphia bridge of the Eastern Pennsylvania Railway by a trolley car. Spectators yelled to the endangered man, but he did not hear them.

Wilkes-Barre.—Safes were blown open in six places here Wednesday night.
Bloomsburg.—Early yesterday morning the lives of Jasper Poust, an Orange township farmer, of the necessity of going to market with twenty-six ducks he had already crated. They drove up to the barn in a wagon and took crate and all.
Reading.—Fire destroyed the large barn on the farm of William Hallman, at Barto, Berks county, yesterday. The loss is about $3,500.

Selinsgrove.—Citizens of Middleburg, Snyder county, have subscribed $400 for public playgrounds.
MRS. EDMUND S. SMITH
Mrs. Edmund S. Smith, aged 56 years, died Wednesday afternoon, at 4 o'clock, at her home, 187 North Fifteenth street, after a two-month illness. Funeral services will be held to-morrow morning, at 9 o'clock. The body will be taken to Shippensburg for burial. The Rev. C. A. Smaucker will officiate.

"WHEN ROME RULED" — VICTORIA TOMORROW
"When Rome Ruled" is a five-reel drama of early Roman days at the inception of the Christian faith. Nydia, a girl who has embraced the Christian faith, is desired by the High Priest of Jupiter as one of the Vestal Virgins. He is prevented from seizing her by the appearance of Caius, son of the Roman Governor. The Priest has no intention of allowing her to escape and has her tracked to her home. She escapes and lives in the desert, but is later captured through the influence of the girl who is to marry Caius. She is thrown to the lions, but is rescued by Caius, who adopts her and who later embraces the Christian faith, and then marries Nydia.—Advertisement.
