GERMANS SHOW SKILL

Petrograd Correspondent Tells of Masterly Retreat in Poland

London, Dec. 1, 3:17 A. M.—The Petrograd correspondent of the Daily Mail in a dispatch to his paper testifies to the extreme skill and courage with which the Germans are conducting their retreat. He says: "Refusing to consider surrender as a possibility and closing their eyes to inevitable enormous losses, the German officers ordered their forces to break their way out."

"The Russians were not in sufficient strength to close up immediately after the breach in the surrounding forces and at the point where the Germans concentrated their attacks in order to join up with their forces in the neighborhood of Strzeczow the Russians were unable to pile up sufficient troops to hurl back the desperate onset which the Germans made with the equally desperate knowledge that their food and ammunition could not last long."

GERMANS CUT IN THREE

Paris, Dec. 1, 5:25 A. M.—The present situation in Poland, according to Ludovic Naudeau, the special representative of the Journal in Paris, is as follows: "The Russian army in the field is as follows: "General Mackenzin's eighth German army is separated into three groups. The first, between Gombin to the north and Brzeziny to the south, is being attacked on three sides. There are reports of fighting in the western part toward Kutno, which, however, will be threatened by Russians advancing from Lodz. Part of this first group at Glogowo and Strykow is almost completely surrounded. "The second group, to the south, at Rzesow and Tuszyn, is trying to force its way through to the north, but is opposed by the Russian army. The third group, and the westernmost, is closed to it by the same Russian army which recently beat two German corps at Wluchin.

"The third group, to the west, is in a critical but not desperate position, for, by a right flank at Zdunska Wola, on the Warta, it still holds the road to Kalisz, which would serve either for retreat or for reinforcements if General von Hindenburg thinks it still possible to try to save his eighth army."

How to Shed a Rough, Chapped or Blothy Skin

This is what you should do to shed a bad complexion: Spread evenly over the face, covering every inch of skin, a thin layer of ordinary vasoline wax. Let this stay on over night, washing it off next morning. Repeat daily until your complexion is entirely clear and beautiful as a young girl's. This result is inevitable, no matter how soiled or withered the complexion. The wax literally absorbs the flimsy surface skin, exposing the lovely young skin beneath. The process is entirely painless and leaves a veritable wonder-worker for rough, chapped, reddened, blotchy, pimply, freckled or sallow skin.

Pure powdered saxolite is excellent for a wrinkled skin. An ounce of it dissolved in a half-pint of water makes a refreshing wash-lotion. This renders the skin quite firm and smooth; it also gently exfoliates, erases the finer lines; the deeper ones soon follow.—Advertisement.

OLD ENGLISH RECIPE FOR CATARRH OF THE HEAD AND NOSES

If you know someone who is troubled with catarrh of the head or nose, cut out this formula and hand it to them and you will have been the means of saving some poor sufferer perhaps from total deafness. Experience has shown that this formula has ago seem to prove conclusively that catarrh of the head and nose, etc., were directly caused by constipation. It was further brought out that salves, sprays, inhalers, etc., merely temporarily relieve the complaint, and seldom, if ever, effect a permanent cure. This being so, much time and money were spent in perfecting a pure, gentle, yet effective tonic that would quickly dispel all traces of the catarrh from the system. The prescription which was eventually formulated and which has aroused the belief that catarrh of the head and nose will soon be extinct is given below in understandable form so that anyone can treat themselves in their own little expense.

Secure from your druggist 1 oz. of Parmit (Double Strength) about 7c worth. Take this home and add to it a pint of hot water and 4 oz. of granulated sugar, stir until dissolved. Take one tablespoonful four times a day.

Parmit is used in this way not only to reduce by tonic action the inflammation and swelling in the Eustachian Tube, and thus to equalize the air pressure on the drum, but to correct any excess of secretions in the middle ear.

Every person who has catarrh in any form should give this recipe a trial and free themselves from this destructive disease.

Important.—In ordering Parmit always specify that you want Double Strength. Your druggist has it, or he can easily get it for you. If not, write to the International Laboratories, Birmingham, N. Y., to make a specialty of it.—Advertisement.

Prevent Diphtheria.

A sore throat is a good breeding place for Diphtheria germs. Protect your children by never neglecting a Sore Throat. You can easily depend upon TONSILINE. Give Tonsiline upon the first appearance of Sore Throat—don't give Diphtheria a chance in that throat in its weakened condition. When TONSILINE is swallowed it comes directly in contact with the diseased surface and induces a healthy condition of the membranes—then the system can better defend the throat if attacked by Diphtheria germs. Keep TONSILINE in the house where you can get it quick when needed. 25c., 50c. and $1.00.

German Serving in British Red Cross Caught

By Associated Press
London, Dec. 1, 2:25 P. M.—Siegfried Schneider, a German, startled the officials and spectators at the Bow Street Police Court today by admitting that he had served for some time in the British army in France and that every body in the Red Cross corps to which he was attached was aware of his nationality.

The prisoner was dressed in the regulation khaki uniform. The charge against him is that he failed to register as an alien and traveled more than five miles without a permit. He was arrested at the general military hospital at Boulogne, where he was serving as a member of the staff, under the name of Frederick Taylor. The Court remanded the prisoner without bail.

TAFT'S VIEWS CRITICISED

If Canada May Be Invaded, Monroe Doctrine is Thing of Past

By Associated Press
Melbourne, Australia, Dec. 1, via London, 1:30 P. M.—The Melbourne Age, referring to the views of ex-President Taft concerning the Monroe Doctrine expressed recently at Montclair, N. J., and particularly his statement that the United States would not be compelled by the terms of the doctrine to intervene if Canada should be attacked by Germany, has this to say: "If this interpretation represents the views of the government of the United States, an event of first rate importance to the entire civilized world has taken place. If the Wilson government shares Mr. Taft's opinion, it is very clear that Monroeism is a thing of the past and that the United States has abdicated the position she has been jealously guarding for a period extending upward of eighty years."
