RAILROAD NEWS

"SCHEDULE TIME" COMPULSORY RULE

Good Records Made on Pennsylvania Lines During the Month of October

"Schedules are prepared by the Pennsylvania Railroad to accommodate the largest number of people, and every endeavor, in keeping with safety, is made to maintain the schedules as announced to the public."

The above is the heading to a bulletin posted yesterday at all freight and passenger terminals of the Pennsylvania Railroad. Reference is made in the bulletin to the fine schedule record for October.

Employees are being taught the difference between "schedule time" and "on time." A train may make the run over a division on the time allowed and not be on schedule time, starting late, and arriving late.

During October 61,424 trains made schedule time. This showed an average of 90.2 per cent. Trains late and "on time" numbered 6,946. The average for October, 1913, was 82.6 per cent.

On the Pennsylvania Railroad system seventeen out of twenty-six had a record of 90 per cent, or better. For trains making "schedule time" 100 per cent is credited; but a train "on time" gets a zero.

FOOD LAWS BEING SHARPLY ENFORCED

State Agents Have Been Active in Rounding Up the Adulterators of Drinks, Too

BIG HEARINGS ARE RESUMED

Public Service Again Takes Up the Philadelphia Electric Case; News of the Hill

One hundred and six prosecutions for violations of the State's pure food and drink laws, or sixty-five more than during October, were ordered by Dairy and Food Commissioner James Foust during the month just closed.

Fifty-one of the arrests were for sale of milk and cream not up to state standards, of which thirty-two alone were skimmed too much. These arrests were in Allegheny, Beaver, Delaware, Lawrence, Luzerne, Philadelphia and Westmoreland.

Eighteen violations of the egg law occurred, most of them stale eggs sold as fresh in Philadelphia. One instance of violation of the vinegar law in Chester, four for violation of cold storage acts in Philadelphia, ten for sale of "watered" sausage and sausage unfit to eat in Berks, Crawford, Erie and Philadelphia, three for violations of the "oleo" act, twelve for sale of fruits doctored with chemicals, and one to eat. An interesting fact is that there were seven arrests for sale of nonalcoholic drinks which were artificially flavored. They were chiefly in anthracite counties.

Selling the Paper.—The contracts just let by A. Nevin Pomeroy, State Superintendent of Printing and Binding, for the sale of waste paper are the first for a legislative session. They will cover six months and will relieve the State of the accumulation of tons of paper that occur at every session. Later on contracts for the sale of the waste paper for a year will be let and there will be a clearing out of the storerooms and official bins in the Capitol that will be worth while noting. The State used to lose the value of its waste paper to a great degree, but now it is getting something for every pound.

Eagles Protected.—The eagle is a bird protected at all seasons of the year and persons killing them are liable to arrest. This is the ruling made by the State Game Commission on eagles, on the question of which there has been much discussion lately. The crow is not protected.

Hearing Goes On.—The Public Service Commission to-day resumed the hearing of the complaints against rates of the Philadelphia Electric Company, the greater part of the day being devoted to hearing experts and explanation of schedules of rates in which it was charged that there was discrimination. The classification was attacked.

Execution Fixed.—Governor Tener to-day fixed January 7 as the date for the execution of Isiah Crosson, Fayette county.

Representative Named.—Representative John F. Ely, Jeanette, was to-day appointed a member of the State Commission to establish the village for feeble-minded.

More Conscience Money.—One hundred dollars in cash was to-day received at the State Treasury from Pittsburgh, no name being attached, and the only explanation being that it was income tax which should have been paid. It was sent to the conscience fund and the first of its kind for the fiscal year.

Will Not Interfere.—Governor Tener has refused to interfere with the execution of John Chmielewski, Lackawanna, who has twice been refused commutation and who is to be hanged.

More Protests.—George M. Henry, representative of the Civic Association, filed protest to-day against the proposed increase of passenger rates, and protests were also filed by citizens of Lawndale, Cheltenham, Ryers, Bustleton, Rockledge and the Fox Chase Improvement Association.

City Gets Permit.—The State Water Supply Commission last night granted the application of this city for permission to build a bridge over Spring creek, about a half mile above the mouth in the parkway, 700 feet northeast of Cameron street. Shippensburg was given permission to build a bridge over Mean's run at West Burd street and anchor at West Orange street. The merger of the Florin Water Company, Market Jay Township and the East Donegal Township Water Companies into the Florin Water Company was approved.

HEARD ON THE HILL —The commission of Ex-Senator George M. Stutz, of Johnstown, as controller of Cambria county, was sued to-day. He succeeds the late C. G. Campbell.

Secretary of the Commonwealth Robert McAfee is seriously ill at Pittsburgh. He took cold several days ago.

Isador Sobel, former postmaster of Erie, was appointed a notary public to-day on recommendation of Senator Clark.

Senator C. A. Snyder, of Pottsville, appeared before the Public Service Commission to-day.

A. Hart Chandler, of Charleroi, was a Capitol visitor.

The State has smallpox under its eye at Tioga, Johnstown and Kane.

We'll Show You More and Better OVERCOATS

A wider variety of overcoat styles and more overcoat comfort, service and satisfaction per dollar of price than you can find in any other clothing establishment in Central Pennsylvania.

That's a strong statement, but there are strong facts to back it up, and the man who buys any kind of an overcoat elsewhere without first learning what we have to offer does himself an injustice.

The "KLAIVICLE" (that exclusive Kuppenheimer creation which has taken the whole country by storm) plays the leading part in this all-star cast, and is ably supported by Dress Coats, Great Coats, Raglans, Chesterfields, etc., in countless fabrics, colors and style variations—every garment a noteworthy example of good tailoring and of greater value-giving.

MANY PRIZES FOR PARADING NUMMERS

Details of New Year's Day Event Will Be Worked Out at Meeting Tonight

Important details of the New Year's parade will be reported by several committees at the meeting of the Harrisburg Nummers' Association at the Mayor's office to-night. A list of prizes will be submitted for approval and the route of the New Year's Day parade will be discussed.

At a meeting of the parade committee last night it was announced that several out-of-town organizations were anxious to participate, but would have to leave Harrisburg early in the afternoon. In order to accommodate these clubs it was decided to start the parade at 1.15 in the afternoon.

Chief Marshal C. O. Backenstoss, following a meeting with his chief of staff, F. H. Hoy, Jr., last night, announced that a battalion of Boy Scouts will precede the parade and clear the streets. The Boy Scouts will have the assistance of a relay of patrolmen. The following organizations sent in their entry cards yesterday:

- Princes of Bagdad, No. 77; Pokoson Tribe of Red Men; Keystone Motorcycle Club; Friendship Fire Company; Carlo Alberta Society; Steelton; St. Michael's Society; Steelton; Wallace Club; Octorara Tribe of Red Men; Capital City Lodge, Knights of Pythias; Hassett Boys' Club; Technical High School; Orpheum Club; Black and White Club, and the Good Will Fire Company. Other entries will be reported to-night.

At the request of Henderson Gilbert, president of the Harrisburg Chamber of Commerce, a complete statement of the nummers' plans was sent to that body to-day. The Motor Club of Harrisburg and the Rotary Club will be asked to contribute. This afternoon the members of the finance committee started a canvass of the city to raise $1,000 for prizes.

FORMER PASTOR HERE

Devotional exercises at the Harrisburg Academy this morning were led by the Rev. Leroy F. Baker, former pastor of the St. Paul's Episcopal Church. Bishop James H. Darlington also spoke to the boys for a few minutes.

1914 Poultry Show Is Now Assured Success

Entries for the annual poultry show to be held next week are beginning to come in with a rapidity that assures the success of the 1914 event. Thus far poultrymen from nine states of the Union have entered exhibits, including New York, Massachusetts, Delaware, Maryland, Virginia, Ohio, Indiana and Pennsylvania. The exhibit of White Wyandottes will, of course, be the big feature of the show as the National White Wyandotte Club will hold its show in conjunction with the local association. A. J. Sell, one of the best known fanciers in the country, has entered thirty-four Wyandottes.

TO DECIDE HEALTH BUDGET —The amount of appropriations needed for the City Health Bureau during 1915 will be determined at the meeting of the City Health Board this evening.

Downes Opposes Plan to Uniform Teachers

Harrisburg school teachers will never be uniformed if Professor F. E. Downes, city superintendent of public schools, has anything to do with the question. In various cities of the United States the question of uniforming teachers has been agitated and it set many of the local school ma'ams to wondering whether someday soon they would have to don a certain sort of shirt-waist, skirt and collar and do their hair just so as a board of directors might direct. But Dr. Downes declared this morning that he is opposed to the idea. "It is ridiculous to suppose teachers can do better work garbed thus and so," declared the city school superintendent.

OIL STOVE FIRE

Fire in a third floor room at 107 Washington street, occupied by Mrs. Charles Swartz, kept the Washington Chemical company, busy for a half hour this morning. An oil stove standing on a box caught fire and carpet, bedding and a chair were set ablaze. The loss was trifling.

HEPTASOPHS AT FAIRVIEW

Several hundred men representing nine conclaves of the Improved Order of Heptasophs, of Harrisburg, were the guests of the West Fairview conclave last night. Edward E. Ewing had charge of the body of men which left the city at 7.45 o'clock. Luncheon was served after speeches by the members and officers. Steelton and Marysville conclaves were represented also.
