HOLIDAY PLEASURES ARE NOW BEGINNING

Debutante Parties, Dances, Luncheons and Dinners With a Wedding or Two

Continuing the social season so brilliantly begun, the holidays are bringing many entertainments for the pleasure of both young and old. Dancing seems to be the favorite pastime, although there are luncheons, dinners and theater parties galore, with a wedding or two "just for luck."

The Academy dance, Friday evening, and that given Saturday night by the Misses Wilhelm at their suburban home, Paxtang, included the younger set, many of whom were home from college for the Christmas recess.

This week's pleasures will begin with a Christmas dance Wednesday evening given by Mrs. George Preston Mains, of New York City, at the home of her brother, Theodore G. Calder, 319 North Front street, in honor of Miss Louise Carney, a debutante.

The annual university ball held by the Harrisburg College of Pennsylvania State College, Monday evening, December 23, in Winterdale, will attract a large party of collegians and alumni of many schools and colleges.

The annual university ball held by the Harrisburg College of Pennsylvania State College, Monday evening, December 23, in Winterdale, will attract a large party of collegians and alumni of many schools and colleges. Among the patronesses are Mrs. Tener, Mrs. John Price Jackson and others.

The Misses Stamm, of Thirteenth and Reese streets, who will have a household of holiday guests, are entertaining at a dance at the Country Club of Harrisburg, Monday evening, too.

Mrs. William Henderson and Mrs. Sanford DeWitt Coe will introduce Miss Dora Wickersham Coe to society at a tea, Tuesday afternoon, December 29, at Mrs. Henderson's residence, 25 North Front street. A dinner dance will follow.

Miss Grace Ensminger, of Second and Chestnut streets, sent out invitations to-day for a large card party on the evening of Monday, December 29, to meet Mrs. Thomas Allen Bayard, of Canada, and Miss Maude Smith, of New York City.

Miss Anna Bacon will also be a hostess of that same evening, entertaining at a dance at Hanshaw's Hall in compliment to house guests.

The Governor's Reception. Mrs. Meade Detweiler's luncheon to Miss Mary Elizabeth Meyers, one of the season's debutantes, will be a charming event of Tuesday, December 30, and that evening Mr. and Mrs. Sanford DeWitt Coe are giving a dance at the Country Club of Harrisburg for their daughter, Miss Dora Wickersham Coe, her cousin, Miss Leavitt Wickersham, of Lancaster, and their house guests.

The first assembly of the season's series will be held at Masonic temple, New Year's eve. The Ohio Shalom Sisterhood gives its annual holiday hop in Chestnut Street Hall that evening.

Relief for the Belgians is already a much-heard cry and it is somewhat of a relief to us to learn that an opportunity is given at the Studebaker Grocery Store, State and Second streets, not to give food products to the Belgians, but to buy some rarely fine hothouse grapes and "French" endive imported from Belgium even in these disturbing times, and offered at Studebaker's in all their well-known excellence. It is just such specialties as these that make this store so satisfactory a place for the particular hostess to obtain the delicious and unusual delicacies that give originality to the menu. The choicest Southern vegetables, and new potatoes are also offered to help supply one's Christmas table, as well as any other dinner that one wishes to be a particular success.

The Autographic Kodak. A gift that will appeal with more than usual force to intelligent men and women is the splendid autographic Kodak, included by the Grogas Drug Store, 16 North Third street, in their comprehensive line of photographic goods. These Kodaks, fully equipped with special Eastman features, which make the clearest photographic work possible, have also the autographic attachment which provides for writing on each film the name or date of the subject taken, which is developed right with the negative. A Kodak of this sort is considerable more than a plaything, and it makes a splendid gift for collegemen, businessmen, travelers and, indeed, anyone capable of taking an intelligent interest in so delightful a field of study and pleasure as photography. The price of these autographic Kodaks is $9.00 and up.

Books of Humor and Pathos. Have you ever laughed at Samantha Allen's conversations? If not a treat is in store for you, and these books are offered at the Central Book Store, 329 Market street, as well as a new book, from her hitherto silent husband, called "Josiah Allen on the Woman Question." Books filled with the mingled pathos and humor of real life, cleverly and entertainingly written are shown in special holiday assortment. Negro life, characters from "way down East," quaint, old-fashioned people, Irish humor and very human tales of typical American life are included and one may find an entertaining book of just the right sort to please any particular friend at any price one wishes to pay.

Neckwear for Men. Gifts for men to wear are most satisfactorily purchased at a representative man's store, where stocks are kept up to the standard of the best-dressed men's requirements. The Hub, 320 Market street, is such a "man's" store, yet women who wish to select gifts for men will find in this store a cordial welcome, and the courteous attention of clerks trained to know just what will appeal to a well-dressed man's taste. Neckwear, so deservedly popular for Christmas giving, is shown in enormous assortment, including a beautiful and comprehensive line of stylish neckwear at 50c and the latest designs in perfectly made and finished neckwear of the best materials obtainable at prices from 50c to $2.50.
